BOLSHEVIKI PLACE PEACE CONDITIONS BEFORE DELEGATES

Made Known at Secret Session of Chief Commission at Riga Conference—Waive Their Objection to Secret Negotiations on Plea of "Old Fashions."

LITHUANIANS STRIVE FURTHER TO PREVENT POLISH ADVANCES

RIGA, Sept. 28.—Consideration of the details of a preliminary treaty of peace between Soviet Russia and Poland was begun here today by four commissions named to look after different phases of the problems of the Peace Conference.

The Soviet representatives demand that the conference consider the granting of amnesty to residents of both countries who are charged with anti-government activities and questions regarding consular and transit rights.

Adolph Joffe, head of the Soviet peace delegation, in conference here with the Poles today placed the complete preliminary peace terms of the Bolsheviki before a secret session of the chief commission of the conference. The terms fixed the armistice boundaries definitely well east of the Curzon line, as the Soviet Government repeatedly had promised to do. The boundary seemingly confirms the Soviet Government's statement that the boundaries would not be a stumbling block to peace.

According to an agreement today the conference hereafter is to be shrouded with secrecy.

The work is to be carried out by commissions rather than at full sessions.

The Bolsheviki say they dislike the secret sessions, but in dealing with old-fashioned diplomats they must conform to old-fashioned methods.

The Poles probably will require thirty-six hours to answer the Bolsheviki proposals of today.

The Lithuanians have arranged for another conference at Suwalki tomorrow, when they hope to adjust conditions and halt the Polish advance to the East, which is threatening to disrupt the Riga conference.

Lieut. Robert Kelly, attached to the American commission at Riga, and a British officer, left today to attend the conference.

M. Tchitcherin, the Soviet Foreign Minister, has sent a message pledging that the Bolsheviki will not invade Lithuanian territory if Poland does not.

The Lithuanians deny stoutly Polish charges that they are co-operating with the Bolsheviki. They allege that they have found French officers directing Polish observers.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Moscow wireless dispatch regarding the activities of the Russian Soviet forces on the Polish front received tonight says:

"Near the village of Obukhovo, sixteen versts east of Grodno, we destroyed an enemy regiment, capturing two guns and six machine guns. One hundred and fifty men of the regiment were made prisoners. After a fierce engagement the enemy captured the Sarny station (about 60 miles north of Rovno).

"In the Rovno region we have reached the line of villages, ten versts south and 18 versts east of Proskurov. The enemy continues his offensive in the region of Volkovakha.

"Twenty miles west of Slonim local fighting continues. Twenty miles northeast of Kovno we have occupied several villages.

"In the region fo Staro Konstantinoff fighting is proceeding with the enemy's cavalry."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Maxim Litvinoff, formerly Soviet Ambassador to Great Britain, and more recently Bolsheviki representative in Denmark and Norway, has received intimation that his presence in Scandniavia is no longer desirable, according to advices received today in official circles.

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN BERGDOLL CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Mrs. C. Bergdoll and four co-defendants were found guilty of conspiracy to aid two of her sons, Grover and Erwin, to evade the draft.

The verdict was returned before Judge Dickinson in the United States district court.

Mrs. Bergdoll, her son, Charles A. Braun, and former magistrate James E. Romig, were found guilty on every count in their indictments. Albert S. Mitchell and Henry Schub were acquitted on the indictments in which they alone were defendants, but found guilty with a recommendation for mercy on the joint bills.

On application of their counsel the defendants were released on $10,000 bail each pending a motion for a new trial.

TAKES GLOOMY VIEW OF INDIA'S STATE

CALGARY, Sept. 28.—"In ten years' time India will be no place for Europeans. The natives have the whip hand, in so far as the law is concerned, and Anglo-Indians are firmly convinced that the British Government is trying to sell the empire. Already many Anglo-Indians are seeking opportunities to send their wives to England, for sedition is widespread, and it is impossible to tell what the near future may bring forth. It is commonly reported in England that the army services are about to be called up for service in India."

This startling diagnosis of the political condition of Britain's great Asiatic dependency was made here this evening by R. E. P. Chatterbuck, of Calcutta, a planter of the Assam tea company, the largest tea planting company in India.

MEANS DANGER FOR CALIFORNIA

Effect of Japanese Land Possession as Seen by President Barrows of State University—"Smoke Screen"

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 28.—Possession of land in California by Japanese means the doom of the United States, President D. P. Barrows, of the University of California, said in a statement today setting forth his stand on the Japanese question.

Japan is raising a "smoke screen" in California, President Barrows said, to distract attention from what he termed prospective aggression in Asia. His statement follows in part:

"California," he said, "is intensely interested in keeping American citizens on the land. No nation can hold together unless it controls the soil, therefore we cannot allow our agricultural lands to pass into the hands of aliens.

"We are trying to hold a large frontier in California, much larger than people in other sections of the country realize, unless they have visited the Pacific Coast. The doom of the United States is the possession of this region by Orientals, and we, as educators, realize that it must stop now.

"Under the 'smoke screen' which she is raising in pretence of domestic agitation in California she is undoubtedly planing a bold move in either Siberia, Manchuria or Mongolia. She is trespassing upon the sacred rights of China, to all of which we are indifferent.

"We Californians are accused in the East of being sensationalists. California sees the menace, and is united to oppose it.

"This is not due to our own personal prejudices for California labor, but it embraces every class in the state, and we are banded together in a determined league to force the exclusion of the yellow man from our boundaries."

MANITOBA'S CROPS BRING GOOD RETURN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Manitoba's total crop area for 1920 slightly exceeds 6,000,000 acres, but falls short of last year's figures by 300,000 acres, according to official estimates given out today by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Despite the decrease, however, the crop is expected to yield a record financial return to farmers. The total estimated wheat acreage is 2,705,622 acres, as against 2,880,301 acres in 1919. Oats acreage increased 26,687, with a total acreage of 1,872,954. Barley and rye show a decrease, while flax shows a notable increase, there being 89,000 acres more sown this year than last.

Will Join Tariff Commission

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Colonization and Immigration, who returned on Sunday from Great Britain, will leave on Thursday evening for the West to join the Tariff Commission of the cabinet, of which he is a member.

Japanese Vessels for the U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Cargo steamers aggregating 274,000 tons have been completed by Japanese shipbuilders for the Shipping Board in exchange for 250,950 tons of steel, said a report today from Tokio to the Department of Commerce.

WOMAN IN ALBERTA SENTENCED TO DEATH

EDMONTON, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Sarah Jackson, tried for the murder of her husband, Hugh Jackson, at Swan River, last Christmas, was found guilty by a jury here today and sentenced to be hanged on December 21 next. The jury, after twenty minutes' deliberation, returned with the verdict and made a strong plea for mercy.

Mrs. Jackson is the first woman in the Province of Alberta to have been found guilty of murder and to be sentenced to be hanged.

HON. EDWARD BROWN ELECTED IN THE PAS

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 28.—Hon. Edward Brown at the final count of all the polls that will be in tonight, had a total of 406 votes in the Provincial election today, while the Labor candidate, Allen Norgrove, had 109.

The remaining polls are expected to add to the majority for the Norris Government candidate, and it is conceded that the Labor candidate will lose his deposit.

ANSWERS QUERIES ABOUT IRELAND

President Wilson Issues Document Explaining Status of Question Under Provisions of League Covenant

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. — The first public document in the present Presidential campaign to be issued at the White House was made public today. It dealt with the League of Nations and was in the form of a letter to E. M. Swartz, of Los Angeles, written by Secretary Tumulty, at President Wilson's direction.

The White House letter was in reply to one to the President in which Mr. Swartz declared the forces supporting the Republican ticket were contending that if Article 10 of the League Covenant was ratified, the United States "would be bound to support England in holding Ireland under subjection."

The letter to Mr. Swartz follows:

"In reply to your letter of the 20th September, I beg to say that the identical questions contained in your letter with reference to Article 10, and the idea of self-determination found in the covenant of the League of Nations, were placed before the President while he was on his Western trip last year and fully answered by him. The President directs me to call your attention to the following questions and answers given by him to the press at that time, which I think satisfactorily answer your inquiry. The questions and answers are as follows:

"Q. Under the Covenant does the nation obligate itself to assist any member of the League in putting down a rebellion of its subjects or conquered peoples?

"A. It does not.

"Q. Under the Covenant can this nation independently recognize a government whose people seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the League?

"A. The independent action of the Government of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the Covenant of the League of Nations.

"Q. Under the Covenant are those subject nations or peoples only that are mentioned in the peace treaty entitled to the right of self-determination, or does the League possess the right to accord a similar privilege to other subject nations or peoples?

"A. It was not possible for the peace conference to act with regard to the self-determination of any territories except those which had belonged to the defeated empires, but the Covenant of League of Nations has set for the first time, in Article 11, a forum to which all claims of self-determination which are likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good understanding between nations upon which the peace of the world depends, can be brought.

"Q. Why was the case of Ireland not heard at the peace conference and what is your opinion on the subject of self-determination for Ireland?

"A. The case of Ireland was not heard at the peace conference because the peace conference had no jurisdiction over any question of that sort, which did not affect territories which belonged to the defeated empires. My position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland is expressed in Article 11 of the Covenant, in which, I may say, I was particularly interested, because it seemed to me necessary for the peace and freedom of the world that a forum should be created to which all peoples could bring any matter which was likely to affect the peace and freedom of the world."

SHORTAGE OF CARS MAY HURT FARMERS

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Car shortage on Manitoba C.N.R. lines threatens disaster to farmers, according to J. L. Brown, president of the United Farmers of Manitoba, addressing the Railway Commission today. Mr. Brown suggested pooling of cars as an immediate remedy for the car shortage on the Government lines.

"Farmers are unable to ship their grain, and with the wet weather, the difficulty has been greatly increased, owing to the necessity of shipping the dampened grain to be dried," according to Mr. Brown.

OFFERS REPLY TO HON. MR. KING

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne Declares Liberal Leader's Statement on Merchant Marine Building Wholly False

ASSERTION MADE IN VICTORIA SPEECH

Minister Says No Contract Was Signed or Money Spent Without First Obtaining Parliament's Authority

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—"I am sorry to interfere with Mr. King's romancing," said Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, today, when shown Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's reference in his speech at Victoria, B.C., to the Canadian Government merchant marine.

"No person of sense would credit such a statement as that," Mr. Ballantyne added.

"It is wholly false—not a contract was signed, not a dollar spent, until the authority of Parliament was first obtained."

Mr. King's reference to the merchant marine, to which Mr. Ballantyne takes exception, was reported as follows:

"Scarcely less autocratic has been the Government procedure in the expenditure of seventy millions of the people's money in the creation of a merchant marine. No other ministry would have ventured to award contracts of one-tenth or one hundredth of this sum without in the first instance, coming to Parliament for authority to do so."

FRANCE SECURES BENNETT TROPHY

Lecointe's Success Gives His Country Permanent Possession—Victor Surpasses All Previous Records for Race

ETAMPES, France, Sept. 28.—Lecointe, by winning today's race, gives France possession of the James Gordon Bennett Cup, as this was the third consecutive victory by France. The result brought keen disappointment to the Americans in Paris. The Dayton-Wright monoplane and the Verville-Packard machines failed to complete the first lap of the course. Schroeder's machine gave the impression that it was capable of great speed as it circled above the field preparatory to starting. No official time was taken, however, as Schroeder failed to circle the pylon at Gidy. He turned within two miles of it. The Englishman, Rayham, gave up the race after one lap.

Lecointe left all the James Gordon Bennett cup records far behind. He also lowered the world's record for the distance flown, averaging over 169 miles per hour. The aviator drove his machine with the utmost precision, and took his turns so sharply that he thrilled the few thousands of spectators. He was carried from the field on the shoulders of French admirers. Both Schroeder and Rinehart congratulated Lecointe. "The best man won," said Rinehart, "but you can't convince me that the fastest machine did it."

The Nieuport plane, in which Lecointe won the race, was first designed for war work, and was ready three weeks after the armistice was signed.

Captain D. Romanet, the only competitor who did not make a perfect landing, was almost blinded by escaping oil, which struck him full in the face. Later he said: "Never was I so close to my death. I thought I was a goner."

UNITED STATES PURSE CLOSED TO EUROPE

BRUSSELS, Sept. 28.—Roland W. Boyden, unofficial representative of the United States in the international financial conference, took the floor of the conference today at the request of several delegates, and explained why Europe could not, under present conditions, be considered by the United States as a good business risk.

Mr. Boyden referred the delegates to a letter from former Secretary of the Treasury Glass to Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in which Mr. Glass declared, in effect, that the United States could not undertake to finance further requirements of Europe. The letter, Mr. Boyden said, represented the attitude of President Wilson.

New Grain Reaches Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—The first of the 1920 grain crop of Canada has just reached Montreal harbor. It was learned at the headquarters of the Canada Steamship Lines that the Midland King, with over 200,000 bushels of 1920 wheat, had already unloaded its cargo at Port Colborne, whence it is being transferred to Montreal.

Expects Coal Price Reduction

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—Bituminous coal will shortly go down here by $1 to $1.50 a ton, according to the manager of the Lee Company.

MILITARY STATION AT MALLOW RAIDED AND SOLDIER SHOT

Town Is Set on Fire in Several Places, Apparently by Way of Reprisal, and Many Buildings Burned—Fire Brigade Unable to Work Because of Curfew Orders.

CIVILIANS KILLED IN BELFAST FIGHT

Sir Hamar Greenwood in Published Statement Declares That Government Neither Supports Nor Connives at Reprisals—Worse Savagery Is Shown in Murders of Policemen.

MALLOW, County Cork, Ireland, Sept. 28.—The military barracks here was raided this morning, the raiders escaping with arms. One soldier was shot dead.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Dublin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph says the town of Mallow, County Cork, is on fire in several places and that the fire brigade is unable to turn out on account of the curfew orders.

Many houses and plants have been burned. The damage amounts to several thousand pounds.

BELFAST, Sept. 28.—Two civilians were shot dead and a number of persons were wounded during a clash between soldiers and a crowd on the Falls Road late today.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Reprisals in Ireland are neither connived at nor supported by the Government, it was declared today by Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Chief Secretary for Ireland. Sir Hamar made this statement in reply to the storm of criticism which has been raised in the British press over the recent declaration of General Sir Nevil Macready, commander of the military forces in Ireland, made in an interview in which he was quoted as saying that the reprisals were not actuated by any set policy of the Government, but that the situation might become such, if the guerilla warfare of the Irish republican army continued, that reprisals would be necessary.

"There is no truth in the allegation that the Government connived at or supported reprisals," declared Sir Hamar in his statement made public in a special communication to The Pall Mall Gazette.

"The Government condemns reprisals, has issued orders condemning them, and has taken steps to prevent them.

"Nearly 100 policemen have been brutally murdered, five recently in Clare in one day by expanding bullets, resulting in horrible mutilation. In spite of the internal provocation, the police forces maintain their discipline, are increasing in number and efficiency, and command the support of every law-abiding citizen. The number of alleged reprisals is few and the damage done exaggerated."

LABOR DISCUSSION BY AMERICAN LEGION

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28. — The second annual convention of the American Legion underwent a nine-hour barrage of resolutions and committee reports.

The stand of the Legion regarding organized labor was that mentioned in the resolutions committee report. However, a minority report was submitted, which recommended that the American Legion reiterate its position, that it has no participation in controversies between capital and labor. "The American Legion is not opposed to organized labor, when it conducts itself, as we believe it normally does, in conformity with law and order."

Heated discussion followed, and the minority report was amended to eliminate the last sentence. Still the debate continued, some members taking the position that the American Legion need not make any statement on the subject. Others contended that the people censured the Legion because they did not know the exact stand taken on this matter.

PREMIER HUGHES TO LEAVE OFFICE

Probability Is Spoken Of by Sydney Correspondent — Government Has Narrow Majority in Popular House

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Sydney, N.S.W., correspondent of The Morning Post, in a cable dispatch published today, hints at the retirement from political life of the Prime Minister of the Australian Federal Government, Right Hon. William M. Hughes. The correspondent says that testimonials in recognition of Premier Hughes' service to the Commonwealth are being raised in view of the possibility of his retirement. The correspondent adds that Premier Hughes will leave public life a poor man.

Right Hon. Wm. H. Hughes was born in Wales in 1864, and emigrated in 1884 to Australia. He began political life as an ardent labor leader. Mr. Hughes during the war, took a strong Imperialistic stand. He represented Australia at the Peace Conference. Mr. Hughes became Prime Minister of Australia in 1915, and now heads a Coalition Ministry. His Government at present has a majority of only two in the Australian House of Representatives. Mr. Hughes visited Canada in 1898.

Promoters Indicted

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—An indictment charging illegal use of the mails to defraud was returned by the Federal Grand Jury against the Standard Oil Co., K. M. Stanton Co., Inc., brokers, and three alleged promoters, Katharine M. Stanton, Frank A. Dwyer and Alfred J. Froelich. The company, capitalized at $3,000,000 in shares of $1 par value, had not been in busines two weeks when a dividend of 36 per cent was declared, according to Federal Attorney Simmons.

Jamaica Ginger as Beverage

SEATTLE, Sept. 28.—A letter from Donald H. Macdonald, Federal prohibition officer of this state, to Chief of Police W. H. Searing, in which alleged illegal sales of Jamaica ginger in Seattle are characterized as "almost a scandal," today resulted in a communication addressed by Chief Searing to the council asking for the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of the ginger here, it was announced today.

DISCOVERY REVEALS FATE OF PROSPECTOR

NELSON, B.C., Sept. 28.—The body of F. B. Green, the aged Nelson prospector, who left the city on September 3, for his claim on Evening Mountain, expecting to return in two days, was found today at the bottom of a rockslide, 500 feet from his cabin, on his claim, the Royal Standard, four miles from the city.

Provincial Constable H. W. King and Alex. Long, a prospector, who have searched for the missing man intermittently for the last fortnight, made the discovery.

The old man apparently followed the sound of a waterfall in searching for water and slipped down the sliding rock, the day he went up to the claim.

Vancouver Boy's Death

CALGARY, Sept. 28.—Colin Harris, seven-year-old son of Frederick James Harris, of 1150 Haro Street, Vancouver, was buried here today. The little fellow was crushed to death in an elevator here. The father came here for the funeral.

Lord Mayor's Case Is More Mysterious

Speculation Is Keen as to What Keeps Prisoner Alive—Theories Concerning Surreptitious Administration of Food Are Controverted In Various Quarters.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—In rebutting the arguments of Lord Mayor Macswiney's friends that the extreme care given him and the precautions taken against blood poisoning make the duration of his fast less remarkable, it is suggested by some of the newspapers that this explanation would not be difficult to accept in his case, but seems to be illogical when it is considered that there are eleven hunger strikers in Cork who have been abstaining from food for two days longer than Macswiney.

The Yorkshire Post says:

"It is not only asserted that Mayor Macswiney is being fed, and this by direct orders of dignitaries of his church, but even the name of the sustaining tabloid from which, it is alleged, he draws sufficient nourishment to remain alive, is given."

"What is keeping Lord Mayor Macswiney alive?" continues to be one of the most absorbing topics for discussion by the public and the newspapers. This was the forty-seventh day of the prisoner's fast.

"It can be nothing but spiritual aid that is keeping him alive—it must be in answer to prayers of the thousands who consider him a martyr to the cause of Irish freedom," said the Lord Mayor's sister, Annie.

Art O'Brien, London secretary of the Irish Self-Determination League, today said he attributed the surprising endurance of the faster to "the man's strength of will, and the conviction that he is in the right."

Official spokesmen in the Irish Nationalist and Government quarters stoutly maintain that they know nothing of any surreptitious feeding of Macswiney. They agree that if in some manner food is being administered it is of an insufficient quantity to sustain the prisoner's life indefinitely.

It was admitted in both these quarters that Macswiney is slowly dying.

In his report to the Home Office, the physician at Brixton prison said: "He is slightly thinner, but otherwise there is no marked change from yesterday." The prisoner is unquestionably growing weaker daily."

RAILWAY BOARD SANCTIONS BRIDGE

City Engineer Preston Wires Mayor That Officials Have Approved Details — Marine Dept. Reported Agreeable

The Board of Railway Commissioners has approved of the plans of the Johnson Street bridge, according to a wire received yesterday by Mayor Porter from City Engineer F. M. Preston, who spent yesterday in consultation with engineers associated with the board at Ottawa.

Mr. Preston states in his telegram that everything in connection with the plans proved to be acceptable to the Railway Board officials, so that there is no possibility now of running against any obstacles from that quarter in the bridge negotiations.

The Marine Department is the only remaining authority to pass upon the plans, and Mayor Porter has been advised that opposition is not likely. Before passing upon the plans for the bridge, however, it is understood that the Marine Department wants an assurance from the Department of Public Works that the channel under the bridge will be dredged to the required depth.

Sanction to carry out this work is regarded as a formality more than anything else, but in order to expedite action the Mayor will ask Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, to take up the matter with the Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Preston planned to be in Chicago today, and while in that city he will consult with officials of the Strauss Bridge Company, which is designing the plans for the steel span. Mr. Preston's stay in Chicago is not expected to be of more than two days' duration, and he will be back in Victoria early next week.

LEGISLATURE MAY HAVE ANOTHER LADY MEMBER

Miss Katherine Ryan, of Stewart, Well Known in Yukon, Candidate for Provincial Parliament

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 28.—According to news arriving from the North, there is a possibility that Mrs. Ralph Smith, M.L.A., may in the near future be joined on the floor of the Legislative Chamber by another woman, for Miss Katherine Ryan, of Stewart, B.C., is likely to be a candidate for the seat left vacant by the death of the late Frank Mobley, the member for Atlin. More than the usual interest centrers in this announcement, for Miss Ryan is unique among women, in that she may lay claim to the title of "sourdough" and the story of her adventures might well be culled from the ballads of Robert Service or the novels of Rex Beach. In addition, she has the unique distinction of having held office for the past sixteen years as gold inspector in the Yukon, and as far as is known, is the only woman in the world to hold such an office.

Miss Ryan has been in the Yukon territory for the past twenty-four years and is well-known in every corner of that vast hinterland. The vicissitudes of fortune found her stranded in British Columbia early in 1898. The stories of the Eldorados in the Yukon kindled her imagination and roused her fighting spirit and she determined to try her luck in the goldfields. She was the first woman to join the famous rush of '98 alone, and the fact that she succeeded in reaching her goal is eloquent tribute to her Spartan courage, grit and determination.

NEW CANDIDATE IN YALE RIDING

Colonel Edgett, of Vernon, Is Nominated Jointly by Great War Veterans and United Farmers

PENTICTON, B.C., Sept. 28.—Col. C. E. Edgett, D.S.O., Vernon, will oppose J. A. McKelvie as Farmer-Veteran candidate in the by-election for replacing Hon. Martin Burrell, resigned Dominion representative of Yale riding. He was proposed by the G. W. V. A. convention, accepted by the United Farmers of British Columbia convention and will run under the colors of both Farmers and Veterans.

Eleven planks will be contained in Col. Edgett's platform. They touch upon questions affecting veterans, farmers, workingmen and the citizens at large. Three of the principal planks deal with Oriental and other immigration questions and the tariff.

The institution of a strict medical and educational test for immigrants at the point of embarkation and the exclusion of Orientals from holding or leasing land in the Dominion is advocated.

Col. Edgett's supporters believe that as a preventive of foreign fruits being dumped on Canadian markets at less than the cost of production the retention of sufficient duty on fruit is essential, and they also recommend a tariff board similar to the railway board, with farmers' representatives on it.

With a view to meeting any possible reduction in revenue which may arise from the revision of the tariff, states an addenda, "we recommend that the tariff commission consider the possibility of raising revenue from the protected manufacturing industries by imposing upon such industries a pro rata tax on the net profits equal to the amount of protection afforded."

CRUSH AT FUNERAL OF OLIVE THOMAS

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Funeral services for Olive Thomas, motion picture star, who died in Paris September 10, drew such a crowd today that mounted police had to open a path for the cortege. Thousands of theatrical folk and movie devotees tried to crowd into St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, while many others blocked Fifth Avenue outside.

Screen stars serving as pallbearers, who followed a squad of police from church to hearse, around which the crowd was thickest, were shoved aside when hundreds sought a glimpse of their movie favorite. Many women fainted in the crush.

More than a dozen automobiles were required to convey floral offerings from the church. The body was taken to Woodlawn Cemetery.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD FOR STEEL INDUSTRY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—The project for the establishment of an iron and steel industry by English capital on this coast is going steadily ahead, it was stated today.

James Findlay, ex-mayor, has received news that Walter D. Rock, who has the project in hand, sailed for this country on September 22 aboard the Empress of France. He is due in Vancouver between October 10 and 15.

"Mr. Rock has been working continuously on this matter, and it now looks favorable," said Mr. Findlay today.

SIXTH BOSTON BANK CEASES TO OPERATE

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen today took over the affairs of the Fidelity Trust Company. His action marked the closing of the sixth banking institution in this city within two months. The others were the Hanover Trust Company, of which Charles Ponzi, the "financial wizard," was a director and largest individual depositor; the Prudential and Cosmopolitan Trust Companies, and two small private banks.

The capital of the Fidelity is $3,000,000, and, according to the latest available statement from the company, had a surplus of $700,000. Its deposits totalled about $18,000,000. The reasons for the closing of the bank, Commissioner Allen said, were "the steady withdrawals of deposits and slow and doubtful loans."

Klaw and Erlanger Separating

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Dissolution of the partnership of Abraham L. Erlanger an Marc Klaw, theatrical promoters, is sough by Mr. Erlanger in an action filed here today. The complaint asks the court to appoint a receiver, if necessary, and to award Mr. Erlanger the sum of $373,199, with interest amounting to $18,659, which it alleges represents the value of capital in the theatrical business of the partnership which Mr. Erlanger had allowed to accumulate.

COAL EXPORT ORDER AMENDED BY BOARD

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—On the recommendation by the Board of Railway Commissioners, an order-in-council has been passed amending the order adopted some weeks ago forbidding the export of coal from Atlantic ports excepting to the United States and Newfoundland. The amending order-in-council provides that in the case of each shipment by water to the United States, an export permit must first be secured from the Railway Board.

It is explained that the purpose of the Railway Board in providing for the issuance of permits to exporters is not to restrict exports across the border, but to make consignees satisfy the board the coal is for United States consumption. The issuance of permits will also make it easier to keep track of export movements of coal.

In regard to Newfoundland, an arrangement also has been made which prevents Canadian coal sent to Newfoundland being again shipped out of that colony.

ALIEN ENEMIES GET PROPERTY

Arrangements Carried Out at Ottawa for Return of Possessions to Interned Men Who Were Not Deported

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Active measures are now being taken in the return to alien enemies, interned during the war but not deported, the property, securities and money taken from them and still held.

During the war a large number of alien enemies were interned at various camps throughout Canada, such as Fort William, Kapuskasing, Amherst, N.S., and Vernon, B.C. Shortly after the armistice these camps were discontinued and the prisoners were either released or returned to their native country. While the war was in progress the internment operations were carried on under the administration of the Department of Justice. In many cases prisoners were employed at various kinds of manual labor and earned substantial sums. For the purpose of completing the work of this branch it has been attached to the Department of the Secretary of State, and it is announced that active measures are now being taken to return to the prisoners who have been released, but not deported, any sums or property to which they are entitled, or who have earned money which may have been taken from them.

The work is being carried on along with that of the clearing office, the property of deported alien prisoners being dealt with under the provisions of the treaty through the clearing office.

Applications are to be addressed to the Department of the Secretary of State (internment) Ottawa.

MEAT PACKERS' PLAN MEETS OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Objections to the entire plan suggested by the "Big Five" Chicago meat packers for disposition of their stockyard interests were filed by the Department of Justice today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

To sanction the proposal of the packers to dispose of their stockyards interests to a holding company to be formed by F. H. Prince & Company, of Boston, would mean sanctioning of a violation of the Sherman and other anti-trust laws, Attorney-General Palmer declared in a formal statement.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING EXTENSIVE IN EAST

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—An increased force of prohibition agents was dispatched to the New York-Canadian boundary yesterday as the result of the publication in a local newspaper that at least 100 cases a day of bonded Canadian whisky and gin were being smuggled into New York State by way of Plattsburg.

Upon his return from a tour of inspection through Northern New York yesterday, Frank L. Boyd, supervising prohibition enforcement agent for New York District, said he had no doubt as to the accuracy of the report, but he explained that he was operating with a small force and that there were twenty-eight highways crossing the border. To adequately police these roads was a work of great difficulty.

NEW YORK MEASURES RELIEVE TENANTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Governor Smith yesterday signed the new rent laws, passed at an extraordinary session of the State Legislature for the relief of tenants. The new laws, it is claimed, nullified 100,000 eviction proceedings, abolished moving day until November, 1922, and put city marshals out of business. The latter had been reaping a harvest from eviction cases.

The housing bills approved by the Governor included measures which permit localities to exempt newly-constructed dwellings from local tax and list State land bank bonds as legal securities for State and municipal sinking funds.

The other measures are intended mainly to adjust the landlord and tenant situation in New York City. They aim to suspend the operation of summary proceedings, to afford tenants protection against eviction.

One bill aims to prevent landlords from curtailing heat and hot water and other service to get rid of tenants.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—J. A. Greenberg, owner of several apartment buildings, today announced a 10 per cent reduction effective October 1, and stated that a similar reduction would take place next May. "We are following in the footsteps of the manufacturers, who have inaugurated a decline in prices," said Mr. Greenberg.

REPRISALS GIVE SERIOUS ANXIETY

"Black and Tan" Raids in Response to Sinn Fein Attacks Are Sharply Condemned in England

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers, which sharply call for the Government to halt what is described by The London don Times as "semi-official lynch law." Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here, but recent raids, especially those in Balbriggan and Trim, and the lukewarm criticism of the "Black and Tan" police forces by General Sir Cecil Nevil Macready, military commander in Ireland, are causing considerable disquietude.

Condemnation of recent disorders is not confined to newspapers which are avowedly sympathizers with the Irish Nationalist movement, the conservative Graphic, which is an unsparing critic of the Sinn Fein, declaring:

"This is not calm and orderly justice and punishment according to British ideas. It must be stopped."

Charges that the Government is following the methods of its opponents are made by The Times, which continues: "Presumably there is a hope that the Government should be warned of the harvest it may reap. Ireland will be ground between the upper and nether millstones."

The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued an appeal to all Christians to make national troubles the subject of prayers.

"Endeavors on either side in Ireland," he says, "have been defeated by prejudice, inflamed by passion, flouted or made powerless, and liberty travestied, while capable men are striving eagerly but vainly to find a reasonable pathway through the darkening turmoil."

The standing committee of the Irish Peace Conference has passed a resolution recording its conviction that the reprisals "constitute an almost insuperable barrier to the success of the committee's efforts in the cause of peace."

In the meantime, reports from Ireland tell of numerous threats of further reprisals, circulated verbally or by posters. Warnings are alleged to have been given several towns in West Clare that they would be burned unless Captain Lendrums, resident magistrate of Kilrush, who has been missing since Wednesday, and who is believed to have been kidnapped, is not returned within forty-eight hours. The town of St. Neyr suffered from a raid at an early hour on Monday. Shots were fired into houses, some of the inhabitants being roughly handled, but none were seriously hurt.

There is reason to believe that Dublin Castle is now seriously investigating the reprisals. Special officers have been sent to Trim and have reported on occurrences there. The Chief Secretary for Ireland is now conferring on the whole subject with the military and civil authorities in Dublin and elsewhere with the view to stopping the raids, and the Cabinet in London is also taking the matter in hand.

It is explained there are two forces called "Black and Tan." One is composed of English recruits and the other largely consists of demobilized army officers who were engaged to arrange for the defence of threatened barracks in disturbed districts of Ireland. Both were in mixed uniforms of khaki and black, owing to a shortage of complete uniforms.

Dispatches do not disclose which element has been responsible for the raids.

BELFAST, Sept. 28.—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. One outbreak occurred in the old Lodge Road district, where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men. Seven persons were wounded by the revolver firing. The military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges.

There were seventeen arrests for violation of the curfew law.

NEW LIFE COMPANY WILL BE PROMOTED

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Announcement is made from Toronto that a new life insurance company will be promoted in the Dominion this Fall, with a capitalization of $1,000,000.

The new corporation, which will be known as the Ontario Equitable Life and Accident Company, takes its name from the Equitable Life, one of the largest insurance companies in the world, which is withdrawing from Canada. A number of Eastern representatives of the Equitable of New York will be associated in the new enterprise.

S. C. Tweed, of Waterloo, and a former Manitoba resident, will be the general manager and will visit the West shortly to interest Western people in the enterprise.

Moorish Rebels Subdued

MADRID, Sept. 28.—Reports from Spanish Morocco say that the rebels are evacuating their positions in many places and are being subdued without difficulty. Several rebel chiefs have surrendered.

FRENCH AIRMAN CAPTURES TROPHY

Wins in International Race for James Gordon Bennett Cup—Other Competitors Meet With Slight Mishaps

ETAMPES, Sept. 28.—Sadi Lecointe, the famous French aviator, today won the international airplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy. He covered the course of 300 kilometres, or 186.3 miles, in one hour, six minutes, 17 1-5 seconds.

F. P. Raynham, the sole British representative, withdrew after covering the first lap.

After the race had been in progress less than an hour today the contest had narrowed down to a possible three competitors, one of them, Major P. W. Schroeder, an American.

Major Schroeder shortly afterward also was eliminated, withdrawing after flying 100 kilometres, because of ignition trouble. Howard Rinehart, the other American, withdrew soon after starting, because of difficulty with the steering mechanism. The Americans thus were out of the race.

De Romanet, one of the French competitors, withdrew after the second lap.

Kirsch, a second Frenchman, withdrew after making 200 kilometres in 48 minutes, 52 seconds.

The only competitor remaining in flight at this time was the third French entrant, Sadi Lecointe, who had made 200 kilometres in 43 minutes, 42 2-5 seconds, a new world's record.

Lecointe finished in one hour, six minutes, 17 1-5 seconds.

De Romanet after spending twenty minutes in adjustments to his machine, re-entered the race and finished in one hour, 39 minutes, 53 2-5 seconds.

POLES ADVANCE BEYOND GRODNO

Cavalry Pursuing Retreating Russians Reach Point Near Lida — Lithuanians Make New Appeal to League

WARSAW, Sept. 28.—Polish cavalry operating in the rear of retreating Bolsheviki forces in the region of Grodno have reached a point north of Lida, says an official statement issued here early today. During yesterday's fighting the Poles captured 1,300 prisoners, including a Bolsheviki commissary, and also took eight cannon.

Lithuanian artillery has shelled Polish positions in the Suwalki sector, the statement declares. North of the Pripet the battle is continuing in favor of he Poles. The Russians are retreating along the entire front, but are offering stubborn resistance as they fall back. The Poles, in their advance, are approaching the Shchara River. Further to the north the Poles have crossed the Nieman.

South of the Pripet the situation is unchanged.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The London Times says it is informed that the Lithuanian Government has made a fresh appeal to the League of Nations under paragraphs 11 and 17 of the covenant asking an immediate meeting of the council in order to consider the situation created by the Polish invasion of Lithuania.

BERNE, Sept. 27.—The Swiss Majority Socialist party has decided not to become a member of the Third Internationale at Moscow under the conditions laid down by the Soviets, it was announced today, following Sunday's announcement that the Swiss Government would not open political or commercial relations with Soviet Russia. The Government's action was taken after the Swiss Union of Commerce and Industry had been consulted.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—Forty-five thousand rifles and eight million cartridges which were captured by the Germans from the Russians during the world war are being shipped to General Baron Wrangel, head of the anti-Bolsheviki Government in South Russia.

INCREASE REPORTED IN NOTICE DEPOSITS

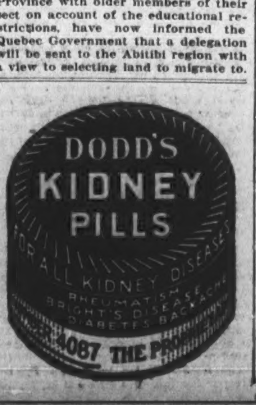
OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—An increase of approximately $8,000,000 in notice deposits is an outstanding feature of the August bank statement issued today by the Department of Finance.

A decrease of about $10,000,000 in call loans outside Canada as compared with July is also noticeable. Call loans in Canada have also decreased considerably.

In other particulars the August statement does not very much differ from that of the previous month.

Mennonites Go to Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 28.—The younger Mennonites of Manitoba who were at first unwilling to decide to leave that Province with older members of their sect on account of the educational restrictions, have now informed the Quebec Government that a delegation will be sent to the Abitibi region with a view to selecting land to migrate to.



FOUR MEN KILLED IN C. N. R. COLLISION

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Four men were killed and two injured at 4:30 a.m. today in a rear-end smash when a freight train on the Canadian National Railway ran into a stock train running ahead, five miles east of Canora, Sask.

The dead are: M. Steinberg, Canora, Sask.; D. Vinetsky, Canora, Sask.; Paul House, Oelwein, Iowa; Harold Quinn, Wadena, Sask.

The men killed and injured were stockmen in charge of animals on the train which was ahead.

Four cars were derailed and damaged by the impact when the locomotive of the rear train hit the end car of the train ahead.

None of the members of the train crews were hurt.

The injured: S. Mighton, Wadena, injuries in head and side, and N. B. Harris, Wadena, injuries to face.

MEANS VICTORY FOR SYNDICALISTS

View Taken by U.S. Commercial Attache of Italian Industrial Agreement—Workmen Share in Management

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. — The agreement reached between organized labor and the operators in the Italian metal industry "is a victory for the syndicalists," said a message to the Department of Commerce today from Alfred P. Dennis, American commercial attache at Rome.

"There is corresponding discouragement on the part of the stockholders and high salaried leaders of industry," said Mr. Dennis' cablegram.

"It is generally apprehended by capitalists that the principles of this agreement will be extended so as to apply to textiles and other industries.

"There is no warrant for the conclusion that the country has accepted a soviet control of industry and that confiscation is implied. Participation of labor in the control of industry as now conceded amounts to givng workmen a voice in flanancial and technical administration, with facilities for ascertaining what profits are made and how these profits are applied. Competent observers regard the settlement as the only means of increasing production and checking an epidemic of strikes."

"POP" WALTERS DIES

Thirty-Years' Member of Mounted Police Passes Away at Old Folks' Home in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Staff-Sergt. Paul Walters, better known as "Pop" Walters, for 30 years a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police as well as Indian fighter in the United States, is dead. He died at the Old Folks' Home here, aged 74 years.

"'Pop' Walters had a checkered career," said Col. Knight, speaking of it at the Mounted Police headquarters here. "He served in the 7th U. S. Cavalry at the time of the Custer massacre in '79. He happened to be in a reserve squadron of the regiment that was wiped out by the Sioux. After leaving the U.S. service he joined the Mounties in April, 1890, at Regina. In 1900 he served with the 1st Canadian Mounted Rifles in South Africa, where he received the South African medal and four clasps."

ITALIAN WORKMEN GIVE UP FACTORIES

MILAN, Sept. 28.—The delivery of all works and factories to the employers is proceeding almost without incident. Red flags have disappeared and the red guard has disbanded.

The clerks of the technical staff of the Pirellis Rubber Works have gone on strike as a protest against the return to work of those men who attacked and insulted them. The strikers declare they will not return to work until the offenders are punished.

Reports from Genoa and Turin and the greater part of the Province state that the delivery of the works to the owners is taking place peacefully.

GREAT FUR SEASON

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 28.—Fur in the north country will be more plentiful this coming season that for some years, according to reports received here. Positive signs show, it is claimed, that a large catch is assured.

There was a large increase in the number of wild rabbits and mice this year. Coupled with the game increase, it was irrefutable evidence that the country was on the eve of a great fur trapping season. It has always been the case that when rabbits and mice, which with game birds, constitute the main food of foxes, coyotes, lynx and similar animals, a big fur catch results.

Italian Royal Estates Seized

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Estates owned by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, at Santa Maria di Capua Vetre, near Naples, have been seized by members of local agricultural societies, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome. No opposition was offered to the persons seizing the property, it is said.

Has No Jurisdiction

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Because the Board of Railway Commissioners has, as yet, no jurisdiction over the Intercolonial Railway, it has found it necessary to dismiss the application of the Boards of Trade of Sydney and North Sydney, N.S., for the institution of special rates on import freight coming into and leaving those ports. The application of the two boards was heard by the Railway Commission yesterday.

Injured in Railway Collision

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 28.—Twenty-five persons were injured, several of them seriously, when two Missouri Pacific passenger trains collided head-on, near Malvern, Ark., last night.

TO REDUCE THE COST OF DOMESTIC HEATING

Winnipeg Engineer Claims to Have Invention Which Will Revolutionize Heating Problems

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 28. — James Taylor, an engineer of this city, claims to be the inventor of a heating device that will heat a house for six cents per day per room or $18 per month for a ten-roomed house.

At a recent demonstration of his device sevral prominent citizens attended and expressed the opinion that the invention would revolutionize the heating problem of the city.

Two devices were shown at the demonstration. One consisted of a generator, or tank containing five tubes enclosing the special element which is the feature of the system. Water circulates around these, producing steam, which enters a boiler and is distributed through radiators.

"At the present rate, this would be more expensive than coal," Mr. Taylor pointed out. "Before it could be used the power rate would have to come down. Prof. J. W. Dorsey, of the Manitoba University, has examined my system, and is very much in favor of it. If the city would take this device for cheap transmission of power, we could reduce the cost of electricity, and enable citizens of Winnipeg to heat their homes by turning a switch, at less than the price of coal. This system means substituting electricity for coal to heat the boiler."

GOVERNMENT STREET REPAIRS.

The proposal that the much needed repairs to Government Street should be carried on through funds derived from general revenue, and not under the Local Improvement plan, deserves the close and sympathetic consideration of the City Council. On more than one occasion we have advocated that the Local Improvement plan of public works should be abolished altogether, and that, since the streets are public highways, and therefore for the use of the people as a whole, they should be kept up out of general revenue, and not by taxing any particular section of the community which happens to own properties on the roadways concerned. In the case of Government Street, which is one of the principal arteries of traffic, the argument against the Local Improvement plan is all the more pronounced. There is a continuous cry for cooperative and community effort by public spirited citizens, and this ideal should be made to apply to the inauguration of road improvements as they are needed. We are aware it will take a considerable campaign of education to persuade any City Council that the Local Improvement law has proved a failure, although it has been almost altogether responsible for the great total of tax arrears which have placed the municipality at such a financial disadvantage.

It would be well if it were possible to ascertain public sentiment on the desirability, or otherwise, of maintaining the operation of the Local Improvement law as soon as all obligations under that measure have been liquidated. It has been the experience of municipal government here that the people only avail themselves of this law during real estate booms, and that when there is little or no demand for property there is no desire for pavements, sidewalks and boulevards under the Local Improvement plan. It seems, therefore, that this law is either an encouragement to, or an outcome of, speculating in real estate. There is nothing which indicates it is in the best interests of the community which is now suffering from the outcome of a too perfervid optimism in putting local improvements into practice. The saner way would be for the City Engineer to decide when improvements are required, and, since they are for the benefit of all the payment for them should come out of general revenue. This subject is worth considering, and in the meantime, where a traffic highway like Government Street is concerned, necessary repairs should be effected without inflicting any undue hardship on any particular section of the community.

THE NEW CRIMINAL CLASS

Most of the arguments advanced to prove the efficacy of the operation of the Prohibition Act in British Columbia are based on altogether inadequate premises. For instance, much is being made of the fact that there are fewer cases of drunkenness in the police courts of the Province today than in pre-Prohibition years. This is undoubtedly true, but in the comparison made no account whatever is taken of the other violations of the Prohibition Act, while it is never even hinted that less than ten per cent of actual violations ever come into the police courts simply because the machinery does not exist to operate the law. The one unanswerable arraignment of the Act is that one of its principal effects has been to multiply the number of criminals in the Province. It is on this ground that reform is needed, especially since the authorities have admitted that the Act cannot be enforced, and because it is self apparent to anyone with a knowledge of what is happening that violations are growing in number monthly, and, in proportion as they do so, more of those who are evading the law escape any punishment.

If this is regarded as a desirable condition of affairs the people will vote for the continuance of the existing law, and, in doing so, we may assume they will approve of additional taxation so that efforts may be made towards more rigid enforcement. Prohibitionists who regard a principle of morality as at issue are undoubtedly genuine in their belief in the cause they advocate and their support is given to the existing Act with the best motives. The real crux of the situation is not the opinion of this or that medical authority, or the publication of police court figures where a law is openly and flagrantly violated daily without punishment, but it is the moral effect its operation has on the people of the Province as a whole. We have said, and the statement cannot be challenged for it is known intimately by the authorities, that an entirely new class of criminals has been created in British Columbia. It is a large class and it has gained considerable accessions of strength during comparatively recent months. The question to be determined is if such a widespread evasion of an act does not bring government into contempt and thus weaken the respect of a people for law and order. There are thousands in British Columbia who cheerfully, and almost enthusiastically, violate the provisions of the Prohibition law and do not consider and will not be persuaded that they are guilty of any wrong doing. There is no campaign of education being carried on to show them the error of their ways, according to the provisions of the Act, and it is exceedingly doubtful if anything but a rigid, dominating and all-powerful enforcement of the law which exists, with the consequent expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars would keep such wrong doers in check, and, even then, while fear might lessen evasions inclination would constantly be opposing such enforcement.

It is because of this aspect of Prohibition, among others which we could enumerate, that we consider the time is ripe for a change whereby the Government can taken into its own hands the operation of the liquor traffic in the Province instead of leaving it in the care of anyone who risks evading the law knowing that in nine cases out of ten there will be no punishment. Under the circumstances that exist it is apparent that British Columbia has not gained morally through the operation of the Prohibition law. On the contrary, because of the new criminal class in our midst, and because of its large and increasing numbers, there is a menace to the entire community in the decline in the respect evinced towards constituted authority. This is due to the imposition of a law which is regarded by a large section of the community as an infringement on personal liberty. It is a difficult, if not an impossible task, to eradicate from some minds their conception of what constitutes personal rights and privileges, and where such ideas are entertained a law which makes criminal today what was legitimate yesterday is not regarded as binding. These are the plain facts of the situation which cannot be burked. They should be closely examined by the electorate with a view of arriving at a via media which will be the road to harmony and a way out of the present discordant jangling of opinion and conviction which has divided the Province into two camps on a subject where individual habits and inclinations are concerned.

TAXING PROTECTION.

Indications at present are that the by-election contest in the Yale-Cariboo riding, where there is a vacancy on account of Mr. Martin Burrell's resignation from Parliament, will be fought out between three candidates, namely, a Government supporter, a representative of the Farmer-Veteran interests, and a Laborite. The policies of the former and latter are a matter of record, but there is something new in proposals advanced as the platform of Colonel C. E. Edgett, who has been nominated as the Farmer-Veteran candidate. The novelty is so far as the tariff is concerned. The platform believes in the retention of sufficient duty on fruit, but at the same time it is recommended that the Tariff Commission should consider the possibility of raising revenue from the protected manufacturing industries by a pro rata tax on the net profits equal to the amount of protection afforded. With equal force it might logically be recommended that a similar pro rata tax might be imposed on the fruit industry, were it not, of course, that many of the constituents in Yale-Cariboo are fruit growers.

At present the policy adopted by the Farmer-Veteran party in this regard would, if put in force, defeat its own ends, for there would be no use according protection with one hand and taking it away with the other. Manufacturers require protection just as much as the fruit growing industry, and it is not clear why one should be favored and the other, after being favored, then discriminated against. Whatever tax may be instituted on net profits on any capital investment, if it is to be a just tax, should be applied all round, and that is why the income tax is perhaps the fairest of all governmental impositions. The new party in the Yale-Cariboo riding wants a special tax imposed on the net profits of the manufacturing industry and wants that tax to equal the amount of protection afforded. Commenting on this it is pertinent to ask why one class of industry should be penalized and another escape? Perhaps there is more in the new policy than is apparent in the summary of Colonel Edgett's platform, and if there is, doubtless he will explain it as the by-election campaign proceeds. On the face of it, what is proposed savors of class legislation, and that is a policy we hope the Farmer-Veteran Party of British-Columbia, if such an organization is to come into existence provincially, will not adopt.

Returned Soldier Kills Himself

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—The body of William Brown, a returned soldier, whose relatives live in Ontario, and who disappeared from the Nimpkish Logging Company's camp up the coast last Tuesday, has been found in the fish hatchery of the B.C. Packers' plant. He had shot himself through the head with a double-barreled gun. Constable Matthews, of Alert Bay, was notified; Coroner Halliday held an inquest and found the man had committed suicide while insane, and the constable buried the body near where it was found.

Liberal Policy on Re-establishment

Sir:—The above heading might, I think, very aptly convey the state of mind of the very large percentage of veterans who attended the meeting held in the Arena last night for the purpose of hearing the views of the Liberal leader, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, M.P., in the opening speech of his political campaign in the Western Provinces of the Dominion of Canada. Speaking frankly, from my own personal viewpoint, and, I feel equally confident in saying, from the viewpoint of other veterans present, the result was very disappointing, in spite of the fluency of speech and well chosen periods that were laid before the audience, the fare was not what one could really describe as really satisfying to, at any rate, this hungry portion of the audience. In its morning editorial The Daily Colonist rightly sums up the situation by stating, "These are days of hard, matter of fact viewpoints on political matters, a time when the public do not relish high sounding phrases and gathering generalities, and when they ask for specific intentions and the definitions of methods to be pursued in bringing about desired results."

That, in effect, is our viewpoint, and were I in the mood to quote Scripture, as our esteemed Premier did on several occasions in his address at this meeting, I would say, "If thy son ask bread, shall he give him a stone?" Emergency rations were often the lot of Canada's soldiers overseas, with no fine words or phrases, and it certainly seems hardly fair that political emergency rations be served up on for return to civilian life of the veterans, even if handed out with honeyed words and fine speeches.

Before the meeting started the following questions were handed to Mr. Ivel, the chairman, and by him passed on to Mr. King and the other gentlemen to his right (the writer and his comrades being close enough to identify our communication): To ask the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King (1) If he would convey to the audience the conclusions arrived at by a committee of the Opposition formed to consider evidence submitted to Parliament in connection with Bill No. 10, in relation to the Soldier Civil Re-establishment Amendment Act; (2) If he would state the attitude of the Opposition with reference to the Government's policy towards re-establishing the returned soldier. I do not vouch for the exact wording here recorded, but the purport was clear and distinct.

These questions arose from the following letter received by myself from Ottawa, dated April 26th, 1920:

"Dear Sir:

"I have the honor, by direction of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of 12th inst., following that of January 27th, re Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Amendment Act. The matter is at present under consideration by a special committee of the House, and also by a committee of the members of the Opposition.

"Yours respectfully,
"(Signed) LUCIEN GIGUERE, Private Secretary."

(The Parliamentary Committee's report made no recommendation on gratuity, and these suggestions were not embodied in the report issued.)

The letter had reference to a Bond Bonus Re-establishment scheme submitted to Government and other party leaders and forwarded after endorsation by the Comrades of the Great War to every member of the Dominion House of Commons. I submit, sir, that I had every right to the courtesy of a reply to these questions, not from the viewpoint of my own scheme alone, which has much in common with the Australian scheme in that it avoids any large drains on the country in the way of further taxation, but in the interests of veterans as a whole, who naturally looked for some statement from the responsible leader of the Opposition regarding the party's attitude towards cash gratuities, pensions and other vital re-establishment problems of today.

It would appear that Mr. King passed by a valuable opportunity at the outset of the campaign to make clear to the veterans the party's attitude towards what is the all important question of the day—re-establishment of the returned man—an attitude that must be made as clear as his definition of Liberalism, so ably and so uncompromisingly given last night. The failure of politicians to grasp the attitude of veterans as a body towards, not only their own problems, but also all great national questions, in the light of war experiences, is one of the paradoxes of the times. With his criticism of the present Government, in the main we most certainly do agree, and whilst reserving any ideas held regarding caucus in Government policies at Ottawa in their entirety as being the prerogative of one party only, would advise the abolition of caucus, patronage and other evils in our public life, whether in British Columbia or elsewhere in the Dominion.

Unemployment of returned soldiers as a problem "butters no parsnips" here or elsewhere in relation to the high cost of living if there is no work and consequently no bread to eat, and I, for one, would welcome some definite constructive criticism by the Liberal Opposition of the present Government, which would formulate their policy of providing work not only for the thousand unemployed in this city, but the many thousands scattered throughout Canada, and which is steadily growing more acute as the months pass to the approaching Winter.

If one could assure Mr. King of anything, it is that veterans will not remain satisfied with vague generalities, and assuredly these questions will have to be answered on the public platform during this tour of these Western Provinces, and he will be compelled to state his considered opinion if any hope of the veterans' support is to be consummated at the next general election.

It certainly points to the fact that a Centre Party must eventuate from the present unsatisfactory state of affairs to hold the balance of power, thereby assuring to the public at large that the abstract ideals of parties, whether Liberal or Conservative, be given effect to, affording freedom and justice to the common people.

Personally I entertain little doubt that veterans in the coming election will exact from candidates the rigid fulfillment of pledges given in the flush of the first two years of voluntary patriotism of the "splendid men" who saved Canada, not for the vested interests alone but for the common people, making possible a country fit for "heroes to live in," and safeguarded for ever for a real, growing and lasting democracy.

Theoretical Prohibitions

Sir,—The advocates of Probitition are, in most cases, wonderful theorists, but consistently ignore the most important thing in connection with their aims, that is, the factor of human nature. The Prohibitionist is the last person to know the real state of things with regard to the consumption of liquor, yet he is generally the first to theorize upon the subject. Your fertile correspondent, Dr. E. Hall, from the theoretical point of view, recently appealed to the wives and mothers of this Province to vote for Prohibition as a safeguard to the young. This from the theoretical point of view takes it for granted that Prohibition is a safeguard to the young. Let us, on the other hand, take the opinion of one who has had the matter to deal with from a practical point of view, who has had the circumstances arising through Prohibition under his immediate observation in every Province of Canada, and who has had a unique opportunity of judging its results. I allude to an article by Lieut.-Col. R. Ross Napier, late Chief Assistant Provost Marshal, in The Toronto Saturday Night (an article which I would strongly recommend for the perusal of Dr. E. Hall and his fellow Prohibitionists), from which I take the following extracts:

"Every surgeon and nearly every layman knows that to permit a septic wound to heal on the surface is simply to force the poison through the whole system, and, to my mind and from my observation, the prohibitory laws merely represent the scab on a horrible festering sore in the body politic of Canada, and, in all directions, through this covering up process, a poison is being disseminated through our national system."

In another place, after describing conditions in Canada "from Sydney, Cape Breton, to Sidney, Vancouver Island," he states:

". . . and those who honestly are in favor of temperance legislation would do well not to be lulled into the belief that, because they may not see so much drunkenness on our streets, the evil has in any way diminished—and I might very safely say that in many respects it has been horribly increased—and, I would ask, has the percentage of more serious crimes ever been higher on the American continent than it is today?"

With regard to the percentage of serious crimes which the writer mentions, it might be worth while to note that the crime of murder in New York, according to statistics recently published, had passed all previous records. This notwithstanding Prohibition.

But in view of Dr. Hall's appeal to the wives and mothers, let me conclude with one more extract:

"It has been said that the vote of the women has a great deal to do with the backing which Prohibition has in the country, and I have not the slightest doubt that the women of Canada will vote for whatever they believe to be best for their men, but I would warn the mothers of Canada that no more horrible menace exists for their growing sons than the state of matters existing in Canada at the present time under our present absolutely unpractical legislation, and, if the issue be properly placed before them, I have not the slightest doubt that they will be the greatest possible factor in wiping out the present horrible state of matters."

So here we have the practical man, with unique opportunity for accurate observation, warning the women of Canada, in the words I have quoted, against the very thing which Dr. Hall, the theorist, advocates as a panacea for all evils. Practical experience says that so-called Prohibition means "No control" of the consumption of liquor, so it should be the duty of every man and woman who is in favor of a clean, temperate Province to vote for practical legislation in the form of "Government control."

View on Prohibition

Sir,—Re various letters on Prohibition, for and against, some are professionally disagreeable subjects by a medical man that certainly have no point, let us hope, as far as your readers are concerned. I am sure the public are disgusted with a topic that is not common in ordinary conversation, which has nothing to do with Prohibition. Some ministers of the Gospel are taking a hand in trying to influence voters to produce a law and its penalties. How different from the Master's teaching is their conduct. He was charged by the priests with being a winebibber and a pestilent fellow, and would be condemned by the Church today as then.

The poet Clark, author of "Leona" and "The Living Christ," two of the most beautiful productions in our language, says:

"Again the robber is released,
The saint to crucifixion doomed;
Again the Caesar and the priest
Conspire to keep the Lord entombed.
Again the surplice hangs revealed
Behind the warrior's cassocked head.

I see Thee smitten by Thy foes
In courts of law and noisy marts,
While virtue from Thy presence flows
In healing streams to wounded hearts.
I see a drowsy priesthood—met
In solemn form to watch and pray—
Who slumber while in bloody sweat
Their Master waits the dawn of day."

Christ was crucified by Roman power backed up by the Church of that day; and in what church would the Carpenter of Nazareth be welcome now? And the same spirit prevails. I remember when Henry Ward Beecher said preaching Hell was played out in New York, and it is no longer a trump card here to scare with. Facts are the Master died by the law, and even Pilate found Him faultless, but to please the priesthood put Him to death. The Master wept at the sorrows of the world and told Peter to put away the sword of force, and nowhere do we find Him conferring with Pilate as His church is now doing, but we do find Him sympathizing with the poor, visiting and healing the sick, and acting the Christian, and at the wedding feast, rather than mar the festivities, produced the best wine for the guests.

And what harm is there in the use of any of God's gifts, rightly used? And why should they be not so used? God did not remove the Tree of Knowledge from our first parents, but left them to reason it out whether they should eat of it. It is only by the exercise of mind that reasoning powers are strengthened. The serf of Russia was not allowed to think, with what result? When the Romish empire fell, only the patrician class were supposed to think, as the common people were dead in mind through a multiplicity of laws, and this applies now, as one extreme follows another, and when the Church mixes in and becomes powerful in law-making, it is a sign liberty is on the wane and nearing an extreme.

Lord Byron says: "There is ice at both poles. All extremes are the same. Misery belongs to highest and lowest, only to the emperor and beggar when unsixpenced and unthroned."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The British Colonist of September 29, 1870.)

Prussian War Methods Fifty Years Ago—Paris, Sept. 9: War at no time is a kid glove affair, but every day seems to confirm the prospect of the present degenerating into one of mutual savagery. The French soldiers have never had the reputation of being cruel, and at heart are chivalrous. They keep their blows for the professional opponents. Nevertheless the indignation is at fever height throughout France at the enemy's doings—who seems like Attila, that where his horse leaves a track the grass ceases to grow. As to the exactions made in the annexed provinces of Lorraine and Alsace, they are terribly severe; but it must be remembered, that while two blacks do not make a white, they were the tactics pursued by the first Napoleon to make invasion self supporting. But if the charges preferred by the French Foreign Minister, and communicated to the European governments be true, Prussia is overstepping the limits of severity. She is accused of firing on the ambulances or needlessly shooting down the peasantry, and violating the code of war. And the siege of Strasbourg seems to be as devastating as it is merciless.

CAN LOOK FOR NO HELP FROM ESQUIMALT

City Can Carry Burden of Church Taxation Fight Alone, Think Esquimalt Councillors

As far as Esquimalt is concerned, the City Council of Victoria can expect little help in the presentation of the church taxes suit over St. Andrew's Cathedral before the Privy Council. The proposal was brought up at the last meeting of the Esquimalt Council, proving the basis of warm discussion.

The consensus of opinion appeared to be that the city might well conduct the fight alone, and in any case action should be deferred until the return of the Reeve from the convention of B.C. Municipalities at Nelson on October 6, where the question of taxation of churches will doubtless be discussed thoroughly.

It is the intention of Reeve Lockley to suggest at the convention the advisability of asking the Legislature to amend the law and make such taxation legal in future.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—"I shall not take any steps to prevent the Dominion convention of the Self-Determination for Ireland League, which will be held here on October 16 and 17," Mayor Fisher last night stated. "So long as the convention discusses constitutional methods and does not advocate rebellion, I think it should be permitted to be held anywhere."

PREMIER OLIVER MAKES TRIP TO INTERIOR

Left Last Night on Speaking Tour to Various Points—To Inspect Progress on Government Settlement Tract

Premier Oliver left last night on a week's tour to the Mainland, during the course of which he will address a number of public gatherings at various points. Tomorrow morning he will devote to P. G. E. affairs at Vancouver and in the afternoon he will visit the New Westminster Fair. On Thursday he will go to Kamloops where, on Friday evening, he will address a meeting. On Saturday he will visit Summerland, and from there he will make a motor trip to the South Okanagan settlement tract, where the Government is carrying out extensive irrigation and settlement work preparatory to opening up the section for returned soldier settlers.

A meeting will be held at Summerland, and the Premier will investigate the progress being made by the C. P. R. on the construction of the spur line of railway from Penticton to Dog Lake, a spur authorized at the last session of the Legislature, and one designed to afford railway facilities to the South Okanagan settlement area. Monday will be spent at Kelowna, where a meeting will be held, and the Premier will speak on Tuesday night at Revelstoke. A meeting will be held at Nakusp on Wednesday and at New Denver on Thursday. Kaslo will be visited on Friday, and after a meeting there the Premier will return to Victoria.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, will accompany the Premier as far as Kamloops, where he and the Premier will meet the Board of Trade and discuss irrigation problems.

GLIMPSES OF NORTH SHOWN TO KIWANIANS

Mr. C. H. French, of Hudson's Bay Company, Gives Illustrated Talk on Country Adjacent to Arctic Circle

Seven days west and through the Unimak Pass; past the Aleutians and up to Nome beach, and over the rolling tundra, with its Eskimos and its reindeer, Mr. C. H. French, in charge of the Hudson's Bay Company's fur department in the West, led the Kiwanians yesterday in a mental journey, the stereopticon lending its aid to make the trip to the great Northland both vivid and impressive.

The illustrated lecture on the life and possibilities of the country which lies adjacent to the Arctic Circle was given before the club at its weekly luncheon. Lantern slides told more than words could of the nature of this part of the world. Mr. A. H. Maynard operated the lantern.

The first pictures shown depicted something of the early life of the continent, showing the transportation by canoe, the Indians, and a woodsman making bread. The leasing of Alaska to the Hudson's Bay Company by the Russians and the sale of that part of the American continent to the United States before the lease had expired, with the result that the company was told to get out, was related by Mr. French. He then took his audience to the Bering Sea, past the Akutan whaling station and other points of call to Nome, which was shown on the screen—a town built on a beach. To show the wealth of that same beach, the speaker told a story of a man who decided to dig a cellar for his house at Nome. He did so, and piled the earth near the water. Another man saw the pile, washed it, and made $50 a day from the gold he obtained.

The ship in which Mr. French recently made the trip to Nome, lay off that port for five days, unable to land her passengers owing to the bad weather. Every night she would go out to sea and return the following morning. There is no harbor there, everything being lightered ashore. "The whole country is practically a glacier covered with rotted vegetation, or tundras, as it is called," Mr. French told his hearers.

A Reindeer Industry

He dealt at some length with the possibilities of the reindeer industry, and pointed out that the native with a small herd was independent for life. The reindeer increase very fast, between 30 and 50 per cent each year. Various scenes of Eskimo life were thrown on the screen. "Queen Mary," the richest Eskimo woman, owning a fortune in reindeer, caused considerable interest. There are now about 200,000 reindeer in the North, stated the speaker. The meat sells for 24 cents a pound in Nome and 40 to 60 cents in other parts of the world.

The rolling desolation of the country of the Far North was clearly shown on the screen. There are no trees.

A picture of a sunrise, taken at 2 o'clock in the morning, gave some idea of the unusual conditions prevailing in the Arctic regions. Coal sells for $60 a ton in Nome, and in some places it costs the Hudson's Bay Company as high as $160. Dog teams were shown to the Kiwanians, who listened with interest to Mr. French's explanation of how the Eskimo drives his dogs by kindness and not force. When a dog is not doing its best the driver will take the animal in his arms and talk to it and so influence it that an improvement is noticeable when it is once more on the move.

"The Yukon has just as good resources as British Columbia," concluded Mr. French, "and it will only be a matter of time before grain and other products known to this Province will be grown in the Far North."

Kiwanian Lewis secured the attendance prize at yesterday's luncheon.

Kiwanian Ferguson was named as a second delegate to attend the Kiwanis district convention.

The district president and secretary will speak at next week's meeting, which will be held at the Dominion Hotel at 6:30 on Tuesday evening, instead of at 12:15 in the afternoon.

MR. BOWSER TO MAINLAND

Conservative Leader Will Attend Organization Meetings at Vancouver and South Vancouver

Mr. W. J. Bowser, K.C., Conservative leader, leaves today for Vancouver, where tomorrow evening he will attend a meeting of the Provincial Conservative executive, at which steps for perfecting the organization of the party throughout the Province will be taken, especially in view of the likelihood of an early general election in December.

On Friday evening Mr. Bowser will speak to the Conservatives of South Vancouver, and arrangements for a series of meetings to be held in that riding will be made. On Saturday he will attend the New Westminster Fair and witness the last of the series of lacrosse matches for the Minto Cup.

Mr. Bowser will return to the city on Sunday.

BOYS' NAVAL BRIGADE MAKING GOOD HEADWAY

Measures Being Taken Which Should Place Organization Among Best in the Dominion, Says Secretary Rayner

"We hope to have the finest Boys' Naval Brigade in the whole Dominion within a few weeks' time," declared Mr. P. A. Rayner, secretary of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada, yesterday.

Mr. Rayner bases his anticipations on the activities which are now under way in connection with the brigade: The ship's office, 1014 A Broad Street, is being renovated and made into a proper school of instruction where the eighty boys who compose the brigade may take their class-work in comfort.

The lads, it should be mentioned, are being divided into subdivisions of different strength, and almost at once will commence to take up their class-work for the Winter. Through the courtesy of Captain Holmes, Superintendent of the Navy Yard, a navigating platform with steering wheel, compass, etc., has been presented to the ship's office, and will prove a very important acquisition to the "school." Furthermore, the former brigade instructor, Chief Petty Officer Gurzon, who has been at sea on the Lilloet for some time, has now returned, and is taking over the clases.

Another important item in the smartening up of the brigade is shortly to be found when the new brass band is organized. With Mr. Albert Rumsby as bandmaster it is hoped in the course of the next two or three months to have the musicians on the streets playing popular marches for the brigade to parade to. Instruments are being supplied by the parents of the boys. The bugle band still continues to "carry on," so the brigade will shortly be well equipped with musicians.

Local Subdivisions

Another step which should serve to strengthen the local organization is being planned by the Victoria Navy League. This is the organization in Saanich, Gordon Head, Sidney, etc., of local subdivisions of the Boys' Naval Brigade. In three weeks' time Chief Petty Officer Owens will be sent to Sooke to enrol members for the Brigade, about fifteen lads in that district having expressed a wish to join.

"We hope during the Winter months, by occasional demonstrations, to show to the public something of what is being done by the boys in the training which we are giving them," said Secretary Rayner. Little concerts will be given in connection with the demonstrations, and as much interest as possible aroused in connection with the work. That the public is ready to listen and eager to see has been shown, local officers believe, by the amount of interest shown in the Navy League display at the Fall Fair at the Willows last week.

PERCENTAGES GAINED A CREDIT TO LADS

Vernon Boys' Naval Brigade Made Same Marks as Vancouver and Victoria Boys at Camp

The percentages gained by the various brigades and the individual boys in connection with the first annual provincial camp of the Boys' Naval Brigade are shown in the following statement:

By the various brigades:

Vernon, 186½ per cent; Vancouver, 186½ per cent; Victoria, 186½ per cent; Trail, 160 per cent; Nanaimo, 131½ per cent; New Westminster, 68 per cent.

The individual percentages were:

P. O. Francis, Victoria, 100; P. O. De Carlo, Vancouver, 100; P. O. Ball, Vernon, 95½; L. S. Cooper, Vernon, 91; L. S. Dawson, Trail, 86½; P. O. Kelso, Vancouver, 86½; L. S. Ford, Victoria, 86½; L. S. Bonner, Vancouver, 86; A. B. Garner, Vancouver, 8; C. P. O. Owens, Victoria, 77½; A. B. D. McDonald, Vancouver, 77; A. B. H. McDonald, Vancouver, 77; A. B. Johnson, Victoria, 73¼; L. S. Halliwell, Trail, 72½; A. B. Reed, Vancouver, 72; A. B. Josephs, Victoria, 68½; L. S. MacKenzie, Nanaimo, 67½; L. S. Hawthornthwaite, Nanaimo, 64; A. B. Maurice, Victoria, 58½; A. B. Gibson, Victoria, 54½; A. B. Rumming, Nanaimo, 50½; A. B. S. Paul, New Westminster, 50; A. B. Marchant, Victoria, 32; A. B. Anderson, Victoria, 22½; A. B. G. Davy, New Westminster, 18; A. B. H. Davy, New Westminster, 13½; C. P. D. W. Williams (present 10 days only), Nanaimo, 100; A. Davis (Steward, first class), Victoria, 100; Bugler Adams (bugler's duties), Victoria, 100; H. Canavan (writer's duties), Victoria, 75.

The Vernon Brigade, represented by P. O. Ball and L. S. Cooper, won the Rylands Cup for the most efficient brigade in camp, for although Vancouver and Victoria and Vernon had the same marks the prize was awarded to the last mentioned brigade because that brigade had no paid instructor. With one hundred per cent each, P. O. Francis, Victoria, and L. S. De Carlo, Vancouver, tied for first place.

IN THE COURTS

Supreme Court

In the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Justice Gregory granted a decree absolute to the petitioner, the husband, in the undefended divorce suit of Sturgeon vs. Sturgeon and Heard. Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the petitioner.

Supreme Court Chambers

Mr. Cleve White, of Messrs. White and Martin, counsel for Mr. Justice Martin, of the Court of Appeal and the Admiralty Court, came before Mr. Justice Gregory in Chambers yesterday with an application for a stay of action in the pending suit of Finlayson vs. Martin. The application arose out of the fact that there is also pending a counter action by the learned judge against Miss Finlayson. Mr. White's contention was that the action in which his client is the plaintiff is the prior issue, and that the other should not go on until the first is decided.

Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., who is appearing for Miss Finlayson in both suits, took the position that the two actions, which are both concerned with certain mortgages on the city property of Mr. Justice Martin, should be consolidated. Mr. Justice Gregory adjourned consideration of the application until Mr. White had cross-examined Mr. Jackson on certain affidavits connected with the suits.

County Court

In the County Court yesterday Arthur P. Parkin came up before His Honor Judge Lampman on three separate charges of obtaining money by false pretences from the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The first charge was that of so obtaining $150, on September 14 last; the second that of obtaining the same amount on September 16, and the third of attempting to obtain the same amount on September 17. The accused, being put upon his election, chose to have a jury trial on each of the three counts. Mr. R. C. Lowe is appearing on behalf of the accused. Unless the accused elects for a speedy trial in the meanwhile, the case will come on at the assizes next week.

County Court

In the County Court yesterday the suit of Hawkins & Hayward vs. Picca came on for hearing before His Honor Judge Lampman. The action was brought to recover the sum of $28.45, being the balance alleged to be due for work done and material supplied some years ago to the defendant. The learned judge gave judgment for the plaintiff with costs. Mr. T. M. Miller appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. C. H. O'Halloran for the defendant.

WAS FIRST WHITE MAN BORN ON THIS ISLAND

Word Received Here of Death in England of Mr. George Richard Langford, Oldtimer of Colwood

Information has been received from Lieutenant-Colonel Josling, Sussex, announcing the death, on September 11, of his uncle, Mr. Geo. Richard Langford.

Mr. Langford was the only son of Edward Edwards Langford, of Colwood, Esquimalt, and was the first white man born on the Island, this event taking place in 1851 at Governor Blanshard's house in Victoria. He left Vancouver Island with his father and the other members of the family in 1861. Since then he paid one visit to British Columbia, about eight or nine years ago.

He always took a warm interest in any subject connected with the country of his birth and the home of his early years, and was indefatigable in helping Captain John T. Walbran in obtaining information for his book on "British Columbia Coast Names."

KILTIES ANXIOUS TO COME BACK

Many of Original Sixteenth Want to Wear Khaki Again

Recovering from the natural reaction resultant from years spent in khaki, many of the "Originals" of that famous battalion, the Sixteenth, Canadian Scottish, are answering their former colonel's call. Within twenty-four hours of the appearance of the announcement that Col. Peck, V.C., was to reorganize the Sixteenth or rather, organize the Sixteenth Battalion of Active Militia of Canada, many of the boys were seeking information as to when, where and how they could see about "taking on."

While everything is "in the air" at present, an announcement is expected upon the return of Col. Peck to this city. At present he is away on a business trip.

The Thrifty French

All the land in France that can be advantageously cultivated is being worked to the utmost while that which has been so badly shatterd is being left for a more opportune time. The goods that are being manufactured are the expensive ones, or those fitting into the requirements of the visitors, the French people themselves being satisfied with the very inexpensive articles which take the least effort to manufacture. In many cases fine old avenues of shade trees are being cut down for the sake of the lumber and replaced with new saplings, exhibiting the thrift for which France has always been famous. In the devastated sections at eight o'clock at night one still sees old men and women and young boys and girls working in the fields, continuing to do their utmost until the darkness prevents further effort.—New York Times.

City and District in Brief

Vote of Condolence — The City Council, Friday afternoon, passed a resolution of sympathy to the relatives of the late Hon. Robert Beaven.

Concert at St. Luke's—A concert will be held this evening at St. Luke's Parish Hall, at 8 o'clock. A splendid programme has been arranged, and those who attend are guaranteed a pleasant and entertaining evening.

Rotary Luncheon—Rotarian A. M. Anderson will give a talk before the Rotary Club luncheon tomorrow at the Empress Hotell grill room on "Through Life's Windows." It will be illustrated by motion pictures.

Civil Service Examinations — The Rev. Dr. Campbell is this week conducting civil service examinations in the Postoffice building. The examinations are in hydraulic engineering, senior clerkship and senior draftsmen.

King's Daughters Meet—The King's Daughters' committee met yesterday for the first time since the holidays and discussed the work for the coming Winter. One or two needy cases are receiving immediate help and the usual business was attended to.

Board of Trade Council—The council of the Board of Trade will meet Friday morning to discuss the protest of Vancouver Island lumbermen against the increase in the differential freight rates and to lay plans for the quarterly meeting to be held October 8.

Bridge Tea—The Lady Douglas Chapter is holding a Bridge Tea on Monday, October 4, at Mrs. Forbes-Proctor's, Quamichan and Foul Bay Road. Tables are also being arranged for 500, and the proceeds will be used for the War Memorial Fund.

Dominion Over Disease—Dr. T. W. Butler will speak at The New Thought Temple, 935 Pandora Ave., this evening, at 8 o'clock, on "Man's Dominion Over Disease," and give treatment to any one present or absent who may request the same. The public are invited.

Honor Pioneer Workers—A silver tea is being held at the home of Mrs. William Grant, Point Ellice, on Thursday afternoon from three to five, in honor of the pioneer members of the W.C.T.U. and other temperance workers. The programme will be furnished by some of these early workers.

War Memorial Fund—Tickets for the dance to be given on October 6, at the Alexandra Ballroom, in aid of the War Memorial fund of the Daughters of Empire, under the auspices of the Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E., may be obtained at Messrs T. N. Hibben & Co., Government Street, and Terry's Drug store.

The Solitary Offender—Yesterday in the City Police Court was unusual by reason of the fact that there was only one offence against the Prohibition Act on the court docket. The charge was drunkenness. The offender, a Hindu, pleaded guilty, and justice was satisfied with the infliction of the usual fine of $5.

Technical Fine for Technical Offence—J. E. Andrews was fined $1 in the City Police Court yesterday for not having a rear light on his motor car. The defendant admitted the technical offence, but said he had duly lit the rear lamp on his car and it had gone out in his absence. Magistrate Jay expressed his sense of the justice of defendant's position by imposing the nominal fine stated.

Girls' Corner Club—Mr. F. A. MacNalty, of Calgary, will give a short address following the usual weekly tea at the Girls' Corner Club, on Thursday. Friends from Oaklands Gospel Hall have the arrangements for the supper in hand and a large attendance of members and their friends is expected. Any girls who are strangers in the city are especially invited. The Corner Club meets every Thursday at I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street.

The Chicken Dinner Inn Again—Roy H. Carroll was charged in the Saanich Police Court yesterday with unlawfully permitting drunkenness in the Chicken Dinner Inn, on the Gorge Road. Magistrate Jay dismissed the charge, on the grounds that the evidence was insufficient to justify a conviction; but he warned the defendant that the inn had acquired an unsavory reputation. Mr. W. C. Moresby appeared for the defence.

Anglican Church W.A. — The Dominion Board of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church will hold their annual meeting on October 14 to 22, in conjunction with the Centennary celebration of the Church of England in Rupert's Land. Four hundred delegates are expected in Winnipeg for the celebrations, and there will also be a missionary loan exhibition and a pageant of church history to be arranged by the Women's Auxiliary.

Cathedral Harvest Festival—At 8 o'clock tonight, the first choral service in connection with the annual Harvest Thanksgiving Festival will be held in Christ Church Cathedral. Special music to be rendered by the choir includes the first part of a Cantata, entitled "The Two Harvests," by Dr. Tozer, and the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis by Marks. The sermon at this evening's service will be preached by the Rev. J. E. Ward, B.A., of Vancouver.

Mrs. Pankhurst to Speak—Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst's many admirers will be delighted to know that they will have the opportunity of hearing an address from her on "Citizenship" at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, next Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club. Mrs. Pankhurst is generously giving her services to the Women's Canadian Club, and the proceeds will be used to increase the Club's funds for the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Member for Patriotic Fund—The meeting of the Patriotic Society committee was held yesterday, the usual reports on different cases which have received assistance were read, and the members were glad to hear that the French widow who has been receiving no pension in the past two years has now been taken on the list of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, and a pension for her has been provided. The subject of secondary education occupied the major part of the meeting, and was very thoroughly discussed.

No Evidence of Theft—The charge against J. Armstrong, a Sidney junk collector, of having in his possession two sheaves of oats, knowing the same to have been stolen, was dismissed by Magistrate Jay in the Saanich Police Court yesterday. The magistrate held that the prosecution had failed to show that the sheaves in question had been stolen, and dismissed the case without calling upon the evidence of the defence. Mr. W. E. Monteith prosecuted for the municipality, and Mr. W. A. Brethour appeared for the defendant.

A. Y. P. Social—The Anglican Young People's Association of Christ Church Cathedral held a most enjoyable social in the schoolroom last evening, there were seventy-five members present, and the time was spent in games and dancing. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. The affair was in charge of Miss Cockett and the social committee, consisting of Miss Cook, Miss Stanworth, Mr. Jack (Tiny) Marshall, Mr. Frank Gregory and Mr. Westby. The Association has drawn up a programme, which includes Literary, Social and Devotional evenings.

Assault Case Again Remanded—The adjourned case of Arthur Strom, charged with aggravated assault upon Theodore Rosland, came up in the City Police Court yesterday, and was again remanded for further evidence. Magistrate Jay remarked that the defendant's plea, while it was nominally that of guilty, was really that of self-defence, and under those circumstances more evidence was desirable. He would remand the defendant on bail in the sum of $00, pending the appearance in court of a woman witness for whom a summons had been issued.

Entertaining at Craigdarroch—Patients at Craigdarroch Hospital are to be entertained tomorrow night by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, who have quite an elaborate programme in hand. Assisting them will be members of the Knights of the Thistle, who have been invited to take a part in making the occasion a memorable one for the patients. Members of both organizations are asked to meet at 7:45 o'clock at the corner of Craigdarroch and Fort Streets, the ladies supplied with refreshments, the gentlemen of the party with "smokes." In addition to Mrs. Ridgard's orchestra, which is to supply an important part of the programme, there will be numbers by the following artists: Mrs. MacNeil, Mrs. Durham, and Messrs. Dobbie, Torrence, and Tom Obee. These names are sufficient guarantee of the quality of the concert, which is to be followed by dancing, and a very good time is assured.

IDENTIFICATION OF MUSHROOMS

Only One of Many Kinds of Edible Fungi Commonly Known to Most People—Few Poisonous Varieties

Over the hills and on the face of the meadows, for those who know where to look, is scattered the Autumn offering of mushrooms, writes Edith Seth-Smith, Port Hope, Ont., in The Canadian Horticulturist. It seems a pity that to most people this word signifies only one of the many kinds of edible fungi that are scattered thick around this Province.

So often people say, "What rule have you for distinguishing mushrooms from toadstools?" or "Toadstools won't peel?" they suggest; or "Toadstools turn a silver spoon black, don't they?"

I confess that there is no general rule or unfailing test; you simply must know the specimen you eat, know it so completely, so thoroughly that you cannot be deceived by any of its harmful relatives. You must know the cap, the gills underneath, their color and shape, the stem and the shape of the unopened mushroom as it pushes its way through the ground.

Common Species

From my window I can see a tennis court covered on its outskirts with one very common and delicate species. This is the lawn mushroom, or, to be very correct, the uncertain hypholoma, uncertain as to its place in the family tree, not as to its effects on the consumer. It has a thin, whitish cap from one to three inches in width, and it usually presents a rather split and ragged edge. Underneath, the gills, the little thin plates, are at first white, then turn to a purplish brown as the fungus matures. These are the earliest mushrooms, and seem to be scattered broadcast by every Spring or Summer thunderstorm.

Next come what my nervous friends call "real mushrooms," that is, meadow mushrooms, the sort that are seen in the shops in the Fall, or those that can be grown in the cellar in the Winter. You all know this kind—buttons when young, flat or slightly convex when mature. The cap is white or streaked with a dingy brown on top and baby pink underneath at first, turning brown later. We know them and love them; even their big name, Agaricus Compestrist, cannot frighten us. But they are so hard to find.

Both these kinds of mushrooms have one drawback. As their size increases they become a prey to the blow-fly.

Two Other Varieties

In contrast to this variety comes the genus Caprinus, the ink caps. They do not fall victims to the little white worms—they simply dissolve when they grow old into a mass of inky tears. Little, edible and rather uninteresting ink caps can be found all Summer long along the edge of the street, but it takes the frosts of October to bring out the really heroic type, Coprinus Atramentarius. So big, so heavy, so densely packed and so generally prolific that the hand that carries them grows weary—these are mushrooms indeed. These do not frequent the meadows; they prefer the slightly cleared woods, especially the region around the stumps, especially if there is a stream near by. Here they will form in solid masses of greyish brown rounded cones. If you find them in good time, you will be delighted with the silver grey of the gills, and the top will be light brown, slightly mottled with brown of a darker shade. The stem is snowy white, and will pull out readily, and you can then break the cap and skin it like a very fine banana, beginning with the little hollow where the stem has been. If you are late in finding them, they will be, as I say, only a mass of inky black tears; but do not repine—instead, come back to the same spot a week or so later, and a fresh crop will probably be there. However, all rules fail for the location of these patches. One of the best I know is in the front garden of a house in Rosedale, Toronto. As a matter of fact, the owners of the house were quite unaware of the angel that they were entertaining unawares, and considered it merely a funny bunch of toadstools, until we explained matters.

The most aristocratic member of the Coprinus family is the shaggymane, the Coprinus Comatus. You may find a single individual standing alone by the roadside, a little, erect, rounded cone, or in the back of some garden or in a distant field you may suddenly see an enormous patch. They stand there like little furled umbrellas, waiting for the sun to unfold them gradually and show their pale pink lining that so quickly turns brown and dark. If captured in extreme youth before the unfurling process has begun, they are of all mushrooms the most delectable.

Poisonous Varieties

I hate to mention the name of this bad member of the mushroom family, for it is not worthy to be called even the seat of the friendly toad. The death angel, the death cup, the destroying angel are some of its everyday names, while its proper or improper name is Amanita Phalloides. The mushroom is quite common, and the poison that it carries is the same variety as that found in the fangs of a rattlesnake. There is no known antidote for it, though the prompt use of a stomach pump and castor oil may get rid of the undigested portions and so save the sufferer.

The cap of this fungus is greenish white or touched with brown. Underneath, the gills are white, and between them and the stem there is a little space. This stem is the most characteristic part. It is white if the cap is white, or if the cap is streaked with light brown it is of the same shade. Just below the cap on the stem is the annulus or ring, the remains of the veil that joined the cap to the stem before it opened. The base of the stem—this is an almost unfailing test—is much swollen.

The only other common poisonous variety—and in this short article I am describing only the very commonest of the thousands of fungus species—is almost the handsomest of the entire family. It is a close relative of the wicked death-cap, though its poison is far less powerful. It is called the Fly Amanita, or Amanita Muscaria. Its cap is deep yellow or orange, covered with silvery white patches, and the cone is so rounded that it looks almost spherical. Underneath, the stem and gills are yellowish, and on the stem is the annulus.

There are really very few poisonous kinds among mushrooms, but those that have decided to carry death with them are so relentless that there is one and only one course to pursue. Eat no mushroom that you do not know. When in doubt, leave it.

The Risk That Labor Runs

No one would lose more than Labor if it should succeed in slaying democracy. Rest assured, it would not be the new despot. It is only in ignorant, easily misled Russia, with its fatal lack of an intelligent and powerful middle class, that the proletarian comes on top. If Democracy were wrecked in the West, brains and wealth would form the new oligarchy. Democracy is labor's sole safeguard. Labor benefits more by majority rule than any other section of the community; and if it should destroy "collective bargaining," it would be the chief sufferer. Sagacious labor leaders, having some acquaintance with history, will see that the road these traders in footpad ethics are treading does not lead to the hellish "heaven" of the Third Internationale, but back to the very real workman's "hell" of the Britain before the Reform Bill, of the France of the Bourbons or Napoleon, of the America that has never yet been born.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Stable Foundation

After all, France and Great Britain maintained an alliance through all the vicissitudes and disappointments of a terrible war. Are they now to part? The idea is unthinkable. The Franco-British Entente is the one stable foundation in world politics.—London Morning Post.

WOMAN'S BEST LAXATIVE

Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills.

Little wonder woman suffers so much from constipation. She always hesitates, continually puts off taking medicine.

Of course a woman's system is delicate, is easily injured by drastic purgatives. Bitter experience with harsh medicines makes her cautious, and to her great injury, chronic sluggishness of her system is permitted.

Few pills are suited to the actual needs of women—they are too strong.

But there is a good woman's laxative, and it combines mildness with thoroughness of activity—it is known to the people of many nations as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which never gripe, never cause nausea and are safe to use no matter what the conditions of strength or circumstances of health may be. A naturalness and regularity of the system, so important to every woman, is quickly acquired by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. As a health-bringer, as a tonic laxative, as an all-round ladies' medicine, there is positively nothing so efficacious as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; 25c per box, at all dealers.

Breach of Faith

The principle of good faith, of contract, is as essential to a proletarian system of society as any other, for it underlies all systems. The Bolshevik, by justifying the breach of faith, destroys the base upon which the very system he seeks to establish must rest. He dooms his own child to death. He asks civilized man to go back to the jungle and the cave.—The Chicago Tribune.

DIRECTOR ORDNANCE AT KHARTOUM HERE

Lieut.-Col. Spinks Pays Flying Visit to Relatives in Victoria—Returns to Egypt Again Tomorrow

Although startling changes have occurred since his departure from Egypt two months ago, Lieut.-Col. C. W. Spinks, Director of Ordinance and Commandant of Artillery at Khartoum, who is visiting his parents, at 1936 Quamichan Avenue, Oak Bay, declined to impart any information thereon, other than that the new state of affairs had been expected for some time. He said that when he left affairs were at a standstill in Egypt.

Lieut.-Col. Spinks is paying a flying visit here, with the twofold object of visiting his relations and of disposing of some of his realty holdings in this city. He expects to leave here tomorrow for Egypt.

When interviewed last night by a representative of The Colonist, Lieut.-Col. Spinks smilingly parried all the questions relating to the political aspect of affairs in Egypt, saying, "I am afraid that I shall have to refer you to the pages of the paper you represent, or to those of The London Times, as all the knowledge of affairs today in Egypt that I possess I have gathered from press reports. I have been away from my command for two months. I shall leave Victoria to return to Egypt tomorrow, stopping in Eastern Canada. I do not know what troops will be withdrawn from Egypt."

TYRANNY OF LOVE

By Mrs. Belloc-Lowndes in The London Daily Mail

A great many good and earnest people are concerning themselves very closely with what they quaintly call the relationship of the sexes. Not only those people, but also all those who are eagerly asked to give a considered opinion—from bishops to ballet dancers—seem to me to avoid almost instinctively the real crux of the question—the awful tyranny of love.

By love I do not mean either lust or Platonic friendship, but that strange, Protean passion which, to my thinking, was never so wonderfully or truly described as by the poet who called it "creature of poignant thirst and exquisite hunger. . . ."

Only a fanatical crank can afford to ignore the master passion of all humanity. We hear of what is described as a "feminist" apartment house, consisting of flats in which no wife is permitted to live with her husband and no husband with his wife! A couple, it seems, may have two flats side by side, but their happiness is to be safeguarded by fireproof walls and Yale locks.

Those who designed that strange apartment house forgot the eternal truth, expressed by one of the great lovers of the old world. It was for his love that he wrote the immortal words:

"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage."

And yet, in a sense, every lover is imprisoned in and by his love. While he (or she) is a thrall to this passion nothing else matters. To him and to her the whole world—and especially the world of busy, happy, interfering cranks—is entirely out of focus; indeed, for all practical purposes, is not there. But this abnormal condition may last for weeks, months, years, even for a long lifetime. Not the wisest can tell. Love comes unseen; we only see it go.

The old relationship of the sexes—if by that is meant marriage—is what may be called a superhuman, gallant attempt to deal with the consequences which are the inevitable outcome of "that supreme disintegrant, the Tyranny of Love." Believers in sacramental marriage have never claimed that it is a natural state, but, on the contrary, a state of grace.

Every human being, man or woman, who has lived a full life, and who has reached even early middle age, has almost inevitably taken part in that eternal war—the war of the sexes.

Among the highly civilized there are some—men more than women—who are content silently to nurse their wounds, and leave it at that. Others there are, and probably more women than men, who hopefully engage in more wars—little wars. They are equally miserable when in love or out of love.

But both these states only concern those who have time to waste on the emotions. The average man and woman face the fact that in every existence the time must come for some sort of a reconstruction. It is then that the props which surround modern marriage, and which many people regard as artificial and out of date, play not only a valuable but an absolutely necessary part in making life the reasonable and decent thing it has to be if our workaday world is to be carried on and made what it ought to be for those who are coming after us.

OBITUARY NOTICES

WEEKS. — Mrs. Constance Agnes Weeks, wife of Lieut. Arthur J. Weeks, D.C.M., of 626 Montreal Street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday, aged 32 years. The late Mrs. Weeks was a native of England and had only resided in Victoria for the past six months. She is survived by her widower and infant son here, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grandsen, one sister, Mrs. G. L. Bassett, and two brothers, Capt. C. L. Grandsen and Donald W. Grandsen, all residing in England. The funeral will take place at 2 p.m. today from the Thomson Funeral Home, Rev. W. D. Spence officiating. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ROY—The funeral of Clifford George Roy, the seven-weeks'-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Roy, of 1329 Denman Street, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pollard, of 1158 Pembroke Street, took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. The Rev. J. G. Inkster officiated, and the hymn sung was "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The service was largely attended by relatives and friends. The little casket was hidden beneath beautiful flowers. Interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

WAGLAND—The funeral of the late William Richard Wagland, whose death occurred last Saturday, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. The very impressive service conducted by the Rev. W. B. Baugh-Allen was largely attended by relatives and friends, and the numerous beautiful flowers betokened the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Representatives from Victoria Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., and Court Vancouver Lodge, Order of Foresters, of which orders deceased was a member, were present at the service. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. F. Hatherill and A. Alexander, both of whom were personal friends of the deceased; Brothers James Isbister and H. Callow, of the Order of Foresters, and Brothers McKay and W. Niblock, I.O.O.F. At the graveside the burial rites were read by N. Murray, N.G., and W. J. Gower, chaplain of the I.O.O.F.

SHRAPNEL—The funeral of the late Edward Scrope Shrapnel took place yesterday afternoon from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2:50 p.m., proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where an impressive service was conducted a few minutes later by Rev. Dean Quainton. Many friends were present, including the Campaigners' Association, which attended in a body. The casket was covered with floral tributes. Two hymns were sung, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The remains were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery. The pallbearers, all members of the British Campaigners, were Captain Lincoln Smith, George Day, J. G. Wilks, E. A. Robbins, D. J. Maclennan and R. H. Jameson.

CANAVAN—The funeral of the late Herbert W. E. Canavan will take place this morning from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 10:30 o'clock, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 49, A. F. & A. M. Service will be conducted by Rev. H. T. Archbold. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery. The remains arrived from Montana yesterday morning on the SS. Sol Duc.

WILSON—The remains of the late Robert E. Wilson, who died at Sacramento, Cal., on September 21, will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery this afternoon. Service will be conducted in the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 3 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Clay officiating.

THE LOST KEY

When all the ragged-robin ways of youth were ours to roam,
We lost the key to elfin-land among the hills of home.
We could not break the wizard-locks that gripped the gate we knew,
The delicate green and golden gate of gossamers and dew.

We hunted for the glimmering key, we thought we saw it gleam,
A green and crimson dragon-fly, by many a chuckling stream,
Till now, O far and far away to one that listens long,
The laughter of our Summer day has deepened into song;

O you may search among the firs, and I will search the fern;
And if we find our talisman, there'll be no more to learn;
For you will call aloud to me, or I will call to you;
And the elfin gate will open on our world of dawn and dew.

It's likelier to be at our feet than hiding very far,
It's brighter than a flower, I think, but darker than a star;
So down the narrow glen we'll plunge, in bracken to our knees,
And hunt for it as divers hunt for pearls in Indian seas;

Then through the may we'll rise again like swimmers through the foam,
And I will search the golden gorse, among the woods of home;
And you shall wade the crimson sea of clover through and through Until we find the key again to all the dreams we knew.

But if we cannot find it there, above the woods we'll climb;
And you may search the yellow broom, and I will search the thyme;
And we will ride the racing clouds, and whistle to the lark;
And, when the sky forgets the sun, we shall not fear the dark;

For in your steadfast eyes I'll look, and you will look in mine;
And there, together, we shall see the hidden glory shine;
Then all your soul will call to me, and mine will call to you;
And the gates of death will open on our world of dawn and dew.

—Alfred Noyes.

ARTS COLLEGE OPENS FOR FIRST TERM WORK

Principal and Trustees Present at Commencement—Night Classes at School Board Offices Commence October 4

The Victoria Arts College, conducted at the High School in affiliation with the University of British Columbia and under the principalship of Mr. Edward B. Paul, M.A., was formally opened for the Fall term yesterday morning in the presence of several members of the School Board.

During the commencement ceremony addresses were given by the trustees and Mr. Paul, each of whom predicted a successful future for the newly-established institution.

The evening classes under the direction of the Victoria Board of School Trustees commence on Monday, October 4, at the new High School, Fernwood, and continue until March 31 next.

Pupils may enroll at the School Board offices, City Hall, any day before 5 p.m. during the present week (Saturday to 1 p.m.) Also enrolment may be effected by intending pupils when the classes meet upon the evening of October 4.

These classes are especially established to enable young men and women to continue their education beyond that which they have received in the day schools, and to give them further training for the successful prosecution of their daily avocation with a view to increased efficiency.

Not less than ten pupils are required before a class may be formed, and an average attendance of at least ten must be maintained, failing which the class automatically ceases.

Night School Classes

The courses of study include: Continuation classes leading to High School entrance; advanced course in English; commercial courses, including bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, penmanship, etc.; mathematics, engineering, steam engine, electrical engineering, shipbuilding course including ship draughting, building construction and architectural drawing, art courses, domestic science course, including needlework, dressmaking, millinery, cooking, languages, science, music, pharmacy; course in matriculation subjects, gymnasium classes for women; navigation, etc.

Besides the above special courses in economics, political science, geology, etc., are being arranged. Should there be any demand (ten or more pupils) for a class in any subject not mentioned herein such a class will be formed provided that an efficient instructor can be secured.

The continuation classes are free but a nominal charge is made for each of the other courses.

Tuition in each course is given, as a rule, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p. m. two evenings per week.

To those looking for advancement in their chosen occupation as well as those endeavoring to fit themselves for the avocation of their choice, these classes should present a golden opportunity.

WHERE BANK NOTES ARE "NO GOOD"

By L. E. Neame in The London Daily Mail

The Government of South Africa and the banks and all sorts of currency experts are hard at work on a scheme for withdrawing gold coins from circulation in this country. Under it, bank notes will be inconvertible until gold is at par again. "They say" the measure will go through.

Nearly everybody's views on the subject have been obtained. A 600-page Blue-book is full of them, and the newspapers have been publishing so many letters on currency that the conscientious reader can hardly tell the difference between a shilling and half a crown.

Yet curiously enough nobody seems to have ascertained the opinions of the gentlemen upon whose attitude the smooth working of the change will largely depend.

The Kaffirs swear by the sovereign. Jim, the houseboy, who, according to housewives, eats soap and candles and matches, and his brother Whisky, who hammers a steel rod into rock undergound, and Sixpence, his first cousin, who works on a farm and eats sheep when he can catch them in a corner with nobody looking, have absolute faith in gold coins. They want nothing else.

Offer Jim three £1 bank notes when you pay him at the end of the month and he shakes his head and says, "No good." He won't have them. The sovereign he knows. These bits of paper he does not know and does not want to.

He puts his gold coins in a purse strapped under his arm or buries them under the floor of his outside room, and watches them accumulate and calculates how many cattle he can buy towards the winning of some dusky maiden at a distant kraal. With gold he can do anything. But pieces of paper—"Ikona. No good."

• • •

The Kaffir is suspicious about money. A florin is still called a "Scotsman" in some parts of the Transvaal, because many years ago, the legend runs, a Scotsman with a railway contract paid his boys in silver and gave them two-shilling pieces as half-crowns, paying them eight as £1 for a long time before the trick was discovered.

As for paper, a police court case on the Rand the other day revealed the fact that a "crook" presented a Kaffir with a piece of illuminated label from a cigar box and got him to change it as a £5 note! No wonder Jim says "No good."

So while the theoretical economists and financial experts are going gaily ahead, people are wondering how Jim, Whisky, Sixpence and Co. will take the disappearance of their beloved sovereigns.

In official circles it is stated that "educational propaganda" is to be begun in order to persuade Jim and his brothers that a bit of paper is just as good as a sovereign when the month's pay is given out.

But suppose Jim says "Ikona, no good"?

The shortage of cotton is greatest in the grades for the finest kinds of cloth.

In order to prevent real property from being sold, it will be necessary before that date to pay:

CLASS "A"

Those who are paying arrears on the ten yearly payment plan must have paid each instalment due, including that falling due on the 15th September of the present year, together with interest at 6%; and all taxes, General and Local Improvement, for the years 1918 and 1919.

CLASS "B"

Those who owe arrears of taxes, either General or Local Improvement, for the year 1916 or any previous year must pay in either of the following ways:

1. All arrears to the end of 1916 and interest at 8%.
2. Or all arrears to 31st December, 1919, in full, in which case 10% of all General Taxes will be deducted, and the interest on same will be cut in half.
3. Or ten per cent will be deducted from the General Taxes and accrued interest thereon if One-Tenth of the remainder, together with interest at six per cent from the 1st of January last is paid. Nine years will then be given to pay the balance (one-tenth each year). Interest on these payments will be charged at six per cent instead of eight per cent.

Tax Notices for 1920, showing all payments in arrears, due and accruing due have been sent out according to law.

Bring your Tax Notice to me at once and get statement of exact amount you will require to pay under your choice of the above settlement plans.

Investors and others may secure lists of properties liable to be sold at this Tax Sale at my office any time after September 17th, 1920.

IMPORTANT

Owners not liable to have their properties sold in this 1920 Tax Sale but who owe arrears for 1919 only, or any previous year or years, may settle on either of the last two plans. These are money-saving settlement plans and will avoid danger of next year's Tax Sale, but must be taken advantage of before October 5th. On October 4th these options cease.

TO THE INVESTOR

The Upset Price includes all Taxes to end of 1920.

Indefeasible title given free after one year from sale if not redeemed. If redeemed 8% interest given to purchaser on amount paid.

Chinaware in Pie

TORONTO, Sept. 28.—The appellate division of the Supreme Court of Ontario has sustained the judgment of a lower court which awarded J. H. Jonkle, of Grimsby, Ont., $300 damages against the proprietor of the Grange Cafe, Hamilton. The damages are for injuries sustained by Jonkle when he encountered a piece of chinaware in a portion of chocolate pie.

No Labor Importation

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—At a joint conference on immigration matters held at the City Hall today between the City Council and various local organizations, Major Thomas, of the Imperial Veterans' executive, read a reply from the secretary of the Railway Board, which emphatically stated there were no proposals at present under consideration by any railway company in Canada under the board's jurisdiction to import any large number of foreign laborers.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can Be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. William's Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. (Advt.)

NURSES TO BE HOSTS AT FRIDAY'S DANCE

Function to Be Held at Alexandra Ballroom Promises to Be Very Delightful Affair

A very delightful dance is promised all who patronize the affair arranged for Friday evening this week at Alexandra Club ballroom, when the Graduate Nurses' Association of Victoria will be the hostesses. For some weeks the date has been known, and it may be assumed, therefore, that the arrangements will be unusually good for music, dancing and supper. The function also has the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prior, the Hon. Dr. Maclean and Mrs. Maclean and Dr. H. E. Young and Mrs. Young, all of whom are interested in the welfare of the organization.

Heaton's orchestra will furnish the music.

The Marriage of Anne

(By May Christie)

XIX—A TRIAL RIDE

I hated Julie at that moment—though pride forced me to assume an air of calm indifference.

I wasn't going to let this woman see how she had hurt me, in regard to Fred.

Her effrontery was amazing. It struck me as almost childish.

Without a doubt she wanted me to fly into a passion, and accuse her of all sorts of underhandedness and subterfuge. There was a common, bourgeoise streak in Julia. She would dearly love a row.

Oh, well, I was going to disappoint her. I would be drawn into no dispute.

I would make no reference to Fred Delaunay, either. Julie should not have the satisfaction of discovering my emotions in the matter.

"Naughty little Anne!" Julie shook a playful, highly-manicured finger at me. "You pretended that you come up to town to meet one man and—hi presto! I find you with another. You are a flirt!"

I couldn't keep the blood from rushing to my cheeks in angry waves. This was carrying impertinence much too far. Julie herself had caused my rendezvous with Fred to be broken—Julie with her lying and deceitful tongue!

"I see, too, that you have paid a visit to my clever little modiste's," she continued, smiling a patronizing smile, her bright eyes roaming over my latest confection and chic hat. "She has made you almost pretty, Anne!"

"Almost pretty!" This was adding insult to injury, I considered.

"Fred awaits me. I must hurry." Still smiling that irritating little smile, she picked up a huge powder-puff that reposed in a white ivory box, and began dabbing it airily on her dainty nose and chin. "You have too much color in your cheeks, cherie. I should use the vanishing cream, if I were you. Men notice these things."

Men! Always men! I could have slapped the irritating Julie.

"I'm not interested in my appearance," I snapped out, quite untruthfully—and foolishly. But anything to put Julie down.

"Ah! That is madness!" was her comment, imperturbably made, "One loses lovers in that way!"

"Loses lovers." She meant Fred, of course. It was a nasty dig.

But had Fred ever been mine for the losing?

It was a heart-breaking question. And with Julie's sharp black eyes upon me, I could find no answer to it, unless one in the negative.

"I intend to stay in town for a few days," she proceeded. "The country is beautiful, but just a little 'triste' at times. I have explained to your aunt that I have some business in the city, so for a few days she excuses me."

Julie's manner and words were intended to convey the impression that her presence at our country abode was essential to the well-being of everyone, my aunt and self included!

If only it were in my power to forbid her ever entering our little paradise again!

I think she guessed my thoughts, for she gave a mocking laugh.

"Your attractive Mr. Saunders awaits you in the hall outside. I have been talking with him. He is charming. One day we motored together, he and I. Often he comes up to town, he says."

Another little wave of anger swept over me.

Not content with appropriating my lover, Fred Delaunay, Julie sought to win away from me my new-found friend, young Saunders!

I must meet her with her own weapons, then. I must learn how to be artificial and callous and calculating. I must have no heart, where either man or woman was concerned.

That was the right way to get on in life—the right way to be appreciated.

I dabbed some scented powder on my face, with a hand that shook a little.

And then I swung round, and—without a word to Julie—left the room.

At one end of the palm-court stood Neil Saunders, frowning. The frown made him look older, less boyish.

But when he caught sight of me, he smiled, and the smile lit up his sunburnt face.

"I'm buying a new car today. I was wondering—hoping—that you'd come with me and have a look at it. We might have a trial spin—"

"That would be quite amusing," I said, primly. Then:

"Julie tells me you have invited her also to go motoring with you."

My companion raised surprised brows. He looked as though he were about to contradict this statement. Then he changed his mind. He turned towards an attendant, and, slipping a coin into the man's hand, asked him to fetch a taxi.

"I'll run you over to this motor-place." He turned again to me. "Maybe you could give me an opinion on the different make of cars?"

I shook my head. I felt appallingly ignorant on this enthralling subject.

Indeed, acquaintance with Neil Saunders made me feel more ignorant than I ever had felt with Fred—or any other man.

"All the same, I'd love to come," I couldn't keep from saying. "It's a glorious day to take a 'trial spin,' or whatever it is you call it."

One hour later, Saunders and I were speeding through the country in his brand-new car, while overhead dapplings of clouds clustered against the opal sky. Great, scented heaps of hay stood piled in the country meadows. Twittering swallows darted over the ponds by the way-side, and in a little hedge a wren was singing.

"It's a glorious, delightful world," said Saunders, suddenly. He took his left hand from the wheel, and for an instant it touched my own.

I thrilled to that unexpected touch. But immediately he took his hand away, and stared straight ahead along the white ribbon of road we were traversing.

The thrill faded. The landscape, sunlit as it was, seemed dimmed a little. And the wren's singing wasn't quite so sweet.

Manufacturers and Tariff

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—Fullest investigation by the tariff commission into the conditions met by the industries of the Dominion in maintaining large staffs of workmen and in finding a market for their products is desired by the manufacturers of Canada, declared Mr. R. A. Pringle, K.C., of Ottawa, who is in the city to watch the commission proceedings in the interests of those who have invested heavily in the textile industry.

PLAN MANY MEANS OF SWELLING EXCHEQUER

Women's Auxiliary of Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital Met Yesterday to Devise Means of Helping Institution

The $35,000 debt which is hanging over the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital is nowhere more acutely realized than among the membership of the Women's Auxiliary of that institution. Yesterday they met at the Nurses' Home and planned devious ways by which they hoped to assist the hospital during the coming Winter months, and in the financing of which the general public will have ample opportunity of assisting. Among their first considerations was the annual ball, which it has been decided to resume. The date decided upon is November 26. The affair will be held at the Empress Hotel, and should prove tremendously popular with the dancing people of the city, who in pre-war days invariably looked forward to this as the big social event of the Winter season. The executive of the Women's Auxiliary is acting as a committee of the whole to organize the arrangements for this big affair, and to begin with are making an appeal to the citizens of Victoria to give wholehearted co-operation in making the ball a great success, socially, financially and every other way.

The Auxiliary next discussed plans for the annual Thanksgiving linen shower, the date of which will be Tuesday, October 12. While the usual supplies of new linen, sheets, pillowslips, towels, etc., will be gratefully received, old or worn linen will be very welcome also to add to the stores. Tea will be served for the benefit of those who bring their gifts in person, and there will be a musical programme.

Bills were passed at yesterday's meeting for 500 yards of flannelette and one "piece" of Indian head linen. The secretary was instructed to write the Arion Club thanking them for the open-air concert which they gave recently in aid of the hospital, the collection from which amounted to $104; also to the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the $87.23 which is the Auxiliary's share of the Alexandra Rose Day receipts.

The following subscriptions have been paid in since the annual meeting: Mrs. H. Lawson, Mrs. H. Ross, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Ross Sutherland, Mrs. Bradley Dyne, Mrs. Goodeve, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. B. G. Goward, Mrs. Audain, Mrs. Dr. King, Lady Barnard, Mrs. Wilhelmina MacLaren, Miss L. Smith, "No Name," Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Mrs. Roy Pendray and the late Mrs. Beale.

The president reported having purchased sheeting, gingham, thread, crash, Madras muslin, pins, cotton, etc., during the Summer holidays. The Auxiliary endorsed her action.

The treasurer reported a balance of $1,748.91.

WEDDINGS

Edgecumbe-Griffiths Williams

In Victoria, on Tuesday, 28th September, the marriage took place of Waldren Chappelle Edgecumbe, of Plymouth, England, son of the late Right Reverend Archdeacon Edgecumbe of New Jersey, U.S.A., and cousin of the late Wm. Hy. Edgecumbe, fourth Earl of Mount Edgecumbe, Lord Lieutenant and Vice-Admiral of Cornwall, to Mrs. Elizabeth Griffiths Williams, of Duncan, B.C. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Smithson, of Duncan. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Edgecumbe will reside in Duncan.

Boothe-McKenna.

The marriage of Miss Helena Teresa McKenna, second daughter of the late Dr. J. A. J. and Mrs. McKenna, of this city, to Mr. Reginald Le Roy Boothe, of Quesnel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boothe, of Penticton, took place quietly, Saturday, at Our Lady of Lourdes, "The Willows," only members of the family being present. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Vincent McKenna, M.C., her two eldest brothers not being located here, looked charming in a tailored suit of reindeer wool poplin, with extra protection wrap of musk-rat fur, and a chinchin hat of brown plush, having a bandeau of glycerine feathers enhanced by a lovely corsage bouquet of tea roses. Her sister Rose, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a tailored suit of beaver colored velours, with toque of brown plush and satin and burnt orange ospreys. Mr. J. J. Donnelly, also of Quesnel, supported the groom. Both distinguished themselves in active service in the late war, Mr. Boothe having received the M.M. with bar. It was intended not to hold any reception, but the most intimate young friends of the bride planned a surprise by assembling at the house in their absence and greeting the wedding party on its return from the church. A very pleasant time was spent, music and light refreshments being enjoyed till the departure of the happy young couple for their future home in Quesnel. Many very beautiful presents testified to their popularity.

Gidley-Hughes

On Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Manse, the Rev. J. Gibson Inkster united in marriage Mr. Stanley William Gidley, of Chemainus, B.C., and Miss Laura Ethel Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes, of Victoria. They were attended by Mr. B. C. Burlton and Miss Thelma Hughes. Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gidley left on a honeymoon trip to the Sound cities. On their return they will take up their residence at Chemainus.

Sweaters and Shawls

ONE of the most interesting announcements made by Mallek's for some time is that of the arrival today of a large consignment of the latest ideas in Sweaters and Shawls.

The Sweaters are all-wool, and show many new, smart styles, weaves and colorings, and the selection is practically endless.

The Shawls present some distinctive style features. They are smart in appearance, warm and comfortable to wear, have fringe all around, and the colorings show many distinct and pleasing variations.

Our Sweater and Shawl prices are so reasonable that they will prove to be real money-savers to you.

Come in and see them.

Other appointments were made as follows: Miss Ethel I. Johns, R.N., assistant professor of nursing; S. E. Beckett, lecturer in economics; W. H. Powell, instructor in civil engineering; F. E. Buck, assistant professor in agriculture, and H. M. King, associate professor of animal husbandry.

Honor Memory of Mr. Schiff

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—New York bowed its head today in memory of Jacob H. Schiff, financier and philanthropist, who died here last Saturday. Thousands vainly sought admission to the simple funeral services this forenoon at the Temple Emanuel, the congregation of which Mr. Schiff had been a member for half a century.

Tariff Commission in Okanagan

VERNON, Sept. 28.—As the guests of the fruit growers, members of the Canadian Tariff Commission left Vernon this morning for a fifty-mile drive along the Okanagan Lake and through the heart of the orchard district. The next session of the commission will be held in Nelson on Thursday.

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

WANT TAXES REFUNDED

Hudson's Bay Company Demands From Esquimalt Return of Taxes on Drydock Site

The refund of taxes amounting to between $1,700 and $1,800 on the drydock site at Skinner's Cove has been requested of the Esquimalt Council by the Hudson's Bay Company, owners of the property prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government on February 4, last. The area in question is about 15 acres in extent and the taxes were paid by the company on becoming due on January 1. The opinion of the legal advisers of the municipality is being sought before a final decision is made regarding the refund.

SUNDAY MUSICALE

First of Series of Musical Programmes Was Presented at Elks' Clubroom

Preparatory to the grand reception when they move into their new clubrooms, the Elks held the first of a series of Sunday musical evenings at their clubrooms, on the eighth floor of the Campbell Building, Sunday evening. The programme had been arranged by the secretary of the club, Mr. William Galt. Mr. George Watson presided as chairman.

The features of the evening were a number of solos and duets rendered by three vocalists of local renown, Mr. E. Butterworth, Mr. B. Waude and Mr. Thomas Kelway. All received a flattering reception.

Violin solos in which marked technique and expression were appreciated by those present were rendered by Mr. W. Tickle and Mr. V. Smith. Flattering encores were accorded both Mr. H. Pigot, who played his xylophone, and Mr. H. Moody, who gave solos on his cornet. Mr. F. Balagno was at his best in the solos he rendered on his violoncello.

Under the able leadership of its conductor, Mr. C. W. Spencer, the orchestra played a large part in the evening's entertainment. Selections from both popular and classical airs were received enthusiastically.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "loggy," headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet about then will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

COWICHAN RESIDENTS JOIN LIBERTY LEAGUE

Large Meeting at Cowichan Station Is Addressed by Prominent Local Men and Island Members

DUNCAN, B.C., Sept. 27.—A large and most enthusiastic audience attended the meeting called by the Cowichan branch of the Liberty League of Canada at the Cowichan Station Hall on last Saturday night. Mr. C. Wallich, the convener of the local committee of the Liberty League, took the chair, and he was supported on the platform by Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, M.L.A.; Mr. K. F. Duncan, M.L.A.; Lieut.-Col. Collard, C.B.; Mr. C. T. Cross, vice-president of the Victoria branch Liberty League; Mr. Wm. M. Dwyer, president of the Cowichan branch of the Liberty League; Mr. G. A. Cheeke, vice-president; Mr. W. May, Mr. Tooker, and Mr. C. T. Gibbons, as well as a number of ladies.

The chairman made a few brief remarks to open the meeting, and introduced Mr. Kenneth Duncan, who stated that he had not come to make a speech, but thought the time had arrived when he, in common with other men in public life, should state clearly the position which they took on this important question. Mr. Duncan stated that, while not entirely agreeing with the Liberty League on all points, he was absolutely as one with them in their main contention, that of being of favor of Government control and opposed to the present Prohibition Act.

Mr. Duncan was followed by Lieut.-Col. Collard, who made a most manly, clear and logical speech, which aroused repeated applause from the audience. Col. Collard stated that he had served his country as a soldier in all parts of the world for twenty-seven years, as an officer in the Royal Marines, that he had come to Esquimalt many years ago on one of His Majesty's ships, and through all his subsequent wanderings in the service of his country, he had one ideal in front of him, to which he had constantly looked forward, this being the day when he could retire from active service and settle down to end his days and enjoy life on Vancouver Island. This time had now arrived, but he found his liberty assailed and he was not allowed to regulate his own life in his own home, as he claimed every Briton had a right to do. Col. Collard stated that he was absolutely at one with the genuine Prohibitionist in so far that he sought to curtail the enormous evil which was wrought through the over-indulgence in, and abuse of strong drink. But he deprecated in vigorous language the efforts which were being made by the Prohibition party to curtail this evil.

Mr. G. A. Cheeke, in a brief and well reasoned speech, urged upon his audience the advisability of marking their ballot for Government control.

Mr. C. T. Cross, the next speaker, gave an account of his tour up the Island and showed the great success that attended his efforts in organizing the Liberty League throughout the Comox district, and in the course of his remarks showed up the inconsistency and hypocrisy of some of the champions of Prohibition.

Before calling on Mr. Hawthornthwaite, the chairman called on Mr. Dwyer to give a brief account of the organization of the local branch. Mr. Dwyer did so, and in vigorous words denounced the present Prohibition Act, and showed conclusively that in this locality at any rate it had signally failed in keeping the habitual drunkard sober, although it might have been considered to have been successful in having kept a number of sober law-abiding people thirsty.

The concluding speaker was Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, who in a vigorous and characteristic speech denounced the Prohibition Act and quoted statistics to show that drunkenness was not the cause of the poverty and crime usually attributed to it by the Prohibitionists, and he showed the danger into which we were drifting owing to the drug habit, and other evils which he claimed were directly attributable to the Prohibition Act.

At the conclusion of the meeting the chairman asked the audience to elect a local committee to handle the affairs of the Liberty League at Cowichan Station. The following ladies and gentlemen were then elected on the committee: Mr. H. P. Tooker, Mrs. I. Reade, Mr. H. W. May, Mr. C. T. Gibbons, Mrs. Walcot, Mrs. Mackie and Mr. E. H. Forrest. The following will act as conveners: Mr. C. Wallich for Cowichan Station; Mr. Jervis Waldy for Cowichan Bay, and Mr. W. C. Edgecombe for Genoa Bay.

The chairman urged upon his audience before leaving the hall to sign up their cards in the Liberty League, to which request he received a most gratifying response. Mr. Tooker moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers, which was seconded by Mr. C. T. Gibbons. The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem.

COWICHAN PERSONALS

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—Mrs. E. T. Creswell returned to Duncan this morning after having spent the past four years in England.

Mrs. Holt Wilson, with her daughter, Miss Amy Wilson, after spending the Summer in England, will sail for home on October 2.

Mrs. Ruscomb Poole has returned home after several months' visit in England.

Lieut.-Col. Collard, C.B., and Mrs. Collard left here on Sunday en route for England. They plan to be absent for a few months.

The old Agricultural Hall has been secured by the committee in charge of gymnasium, which is to be started here in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. work.

Registering at the Quamichan Hotel as Miss Smith and Miss Williams, of Seattle, two Indian maids, pupils of the Alberni Indian Boarding School, had their holiday jaunt rudely awakened yesterday afternoon when Mr. H. B. Currie, the principal of the school, with Mr. Thomas O'Connell, Dominion constable, arrived in Duncan and located the straying damsels. The Indian maids traveled down from Alberni by train on Saturday.

Mr. David Ford, postmaster, is back on duty again, after having been laid up for several days with rheumatism.

COWICHAN G.W.V.A.

Invitation Extended to Federal Member to Meet Ex-Service Constituents

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—at a regular meeting of the Cowichan branch of the G.W.V.A., held in their rooms last evening, with the president, Captain L. W. Huntington in the chair, it was decided that an invitation should be extended to Mr. J. C. McIntosh, Federal member for this constituency, to be present at the next regular meeting, or if this date should be inconvenient, a special meeting will be called, to discuss matters of interest to his ex-service constituents.

It was decided that $25 of their funds should be contributed towards the War Memorial Fund. In response to a request from the Salvation Army, $10 was voted as a contribution towards their funds. The Finance committee were instructed to make an investment of $500 in Victory bonds.

Reports were received from the committee in charge of the reunion which was held here on Labor Day, which showed a creditable balance of $26.10.

NANAIMO PERSONALS

NANAIMO, Sept. 27.—Mr. Wen Waugh, South Nanaimo, returned today from Vancouver.

The local Red Cross Society are holding a dance on Wednesday night in aid of the Memorial Fund.

The concert given on Sunday evening by the Silver Cornet Band was well attended and a good programme rendered. Miss Jean Patterson, who leaves next week for New York, was the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wright returned today from a visit to the Mainland.

Mrs. J. B. Younghusband left for Vancouver today to meet her daughter who is returning from the Old Country.

LADYSMITH PERSONALS

LADYSMITH, Sept. 28.—Mrs. J. G. Reid, accompanied by her two sons, left today on the noon train, en route for New Westminster, where she will visit her old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Campbell have returned to their home in Ladysmith after having spent a week's holiday in Vancouver.

The Ladysmith football team will play the Nanaimo United, in Nanaimo, on Sunday, October 3.

Mrs. Leeming and daughter left on the afternoon train yesterday for Victoria.

A daughter was born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson, of this city.

Captain Carey, of Royston, has been visiting at the home of Dr. Y. Montgomery, of this city.

Mr. D. Nicholson, of this city, returned last night from a business trip to Vancouver.

Mr. A. H. Maynard, manager of the Silver Spring Brewery, is in town on a business trip.

CHARLEY'S AUNT TRAVELS

Arrangements Completed by Victoria Players to Produce the Play at Duncan

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—Yesterday Mr. Legge Willis and Captain Turnbull, both associated with the Victoria Dramatic Society, were in Duncan and met Mr. E. W. Carr Hilton, secretary of the King's Daughters' Hospital, when arrangements were made for the bringing of "Charley's Aunt," which has had such a tremendous reception in Victoria, to Duncan on Thursday next, October 7. The Opera House has been engaged for the occasion. Seventy-five per cent of the net proceeds will go towards the Hospital and twenty-five per cent to the Dramatic Society.

Good Fishing at Cowichan

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—The fishing now in Cowichan Bay is reported exceptionally good, many fine catches having been made. The afternoon fishing appears to hold favor, and generally between twenty and thirty boats are to be seen out patrolling the waters. On Sunday young Hubert Macmillan landed a fine cohoe weighing about 19 pounds.

Motor Runs Amuck

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—Apparently desirous of sampling the apples in Mr. W. R. Robertson's orchards, the school bus on the Lakes route crashed through the fence in front of his place this morning about 7:30. The car was driven by young Purdy, of the staff of the Duncan Garage, and, as it was on its journey out to pick up the children, had no other occupant. The driver claims that for some reason the steering gear would not respond. The fore part of the car was considerably damaged. The driver was unhurt.

Bank Buys Property

LADYSMITH, Sept. 28.—The Royal Bank of Canada, through Mr. Johnston, manager of the local bank, has purchased the corner of First Avenue and Gatacre Street, and will in the near future erect a new building which will, no doubt, be a great improvement to the city.

Died at Good Old Age

LADYSMITH, Sept. 28.—The funeral of the late John Puola, who died on Saturday night, was held from the home of Mrs. B. Rozzano this morning. The deceased was a native of Italy and was 97 years old at the time of his death.

The Black Death, in the fourteenth century, killed from a third to a half of the population of England in a year.

HUNTER IS LOST IN ALBERNI WOODS

Separates From Companions Sunday, Has Not Been Heard of Since—Many Search Parties Out

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 28.—Mr. Gustafson, of this city, went on a hunting trip on Sunday morning with a party. He became separated from the rest of his companions, and since then nothing has been seen or heard of him. A score of search parties have been organized, and the woods are being searched. It is also reported that two men are lost somewhere near Cameron Lake.

PORT ALBERNI COUNCIL

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 28. — At the regular meeting of the city council it was decided to restrict the cost of the additions to the present electrical system to ten thousand dollars.

Much discussion ensued in regard to Port Alberni cows being put in the Alberni pound. It seems that the Alberni cows find good pasture out on the Port flats and when they decide to return to their home town some Port cows follow them.

The subject of church exemption from taxes was brought before the meeting but laid on the table.

PORT ALBERNI PERSONALS

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 28.—Miss B. C. Brown, of Victoria, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl, of Victoria, have been spending a short holiday in the city enjoying some fairly good fishing.

Owing to the illness of Rev. Mr. Bain, the concerts for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings under the auspices of the Presbyterian churches of Alberni and Port Alberni have been postponed.

LADYSMITH NOTES

LADYSMITH, Sept. 28.—The Ladysmith band will hold a dance in the new band hall on Friday, October 1.

A whist drive will be held on Wednesday, October 13, in the K. of P. Hall by the Ladies' Court of the Ancient Order of Forresters.

The car owned by Mr. Land, of this city, was badly damaged on Saturday night when the steering gear broke and the car left the road. None of the occupants of the car were injured.

HARVEST HOME SERVICE

Methodists of Port Alberni Hold Anniversary—Chicken Supper and Concert on Monday Night

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 28.—The Anniversary and Harvest Home service on Sunday evening at the Methodist Church was fairly well attended and the Rev. Mr. Stoodley preached a splendid timely sermon.

On Monday evening the chicken supper of the church was well attended and everyone left with a very satisfied look. The short concert after the supper proved to be a success. Those taking part in the concert were: Miss Jean London, Mr. Hildridge, Mr. Warner, Mrs. J. B. Wood and Mrs. Roy Hanna. The auctioneering of fruit, vegetables and flowers was also a great source of entertainment.

DIES AT GANGES HARBOR

Mr. James Cunningham, Respected Farmer of Saltspring, Succumbs to Apoplexy

GANGES, Sept. 28.—The death of Mr. James Cunningham from a stroke of apoplexy occured very suddenly on Monday night, 27th inst., at his home on Ganges Harbor. Mr. Cunningham was a son of the late Mr. James Cunningham, cotton broker, of Liverpool, England, and came to Saltspring from Manitoba about sixteen years ago. Since then, with the exception of a year or two spent near Adelaide, Australia, he has gone in for farming on the island. The late Mr. Cunningham leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters, all of whom are at home at Ganges.

Personal Mention

Last week, Mr. Fred. and Mr. Jack James left for New Westminster Fair, where they have a very fine seed exhibit on view. The seeds were all produced on their seed farm, Saltspring Island.

Mrs. Frank Crofton and baby, of Ganges, accompanied by Miss Eastwood, left for Victoria on Monday, where they intend spending a week.

GATHER IN INTEREST OF FORWARD MOVEMENT

Presbytery Presents Resolutions Urging Spiritual Objectives on Congregations

The Forward Movement forces met in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church last night and spent a busy evening in discussion of a number of important resolutions adopted by the Presbytery at its last meeting.

As a result of the gathering, congregations will be urged to pay especial care to the spiritual objectives of the Forward Movement, namely, the fostering of the spirit of prayer, the development of home religion, and the appeal for life service. Committees can provide themselves with literature on these topics, the Toronto offices supplying it free of charge. It was suggested that October 3 be observed as a day of prayer for the continuation of the work of the Forward Movement, October 31 as Home Religion Sunday and December 12 as Life Service Sunday.

The Finance Committee will make a thorough collection of the Forward Movement Thank Offering in October. The amount allotted to the Presbytery for the 1921 budget is $12,400. In connection with the budget the General Assembly has asked that a General Interest Committee be appointed in each congregation for the purpose of furthering its interests.

To Help Stock-Feeders

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 28.—Nearly $120,000 has been guaranteed this year under the Livestock Encouragement Act of the Province, and it is estimated that a total of $275,000 will be loaned for the year. The money is being used largely by farmers to buy milk cows.

Gross ship tonnage lost in the war was approximately 13,000,000.

Middle Age at 35 or 60?

Physician Explains Why Lack Of Iron In the Blood Saps the Strength and Vitality and Often Makes Men and Women Look and Feel Old Before Their Time.

By Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author

Signs of old age are plainly to be seen in many a man and woman who ought still to be enjoying the rugged health and activity of the early prime of life. Yet often the real cause of their decline is nothing more than lack of iron in the blood and it is surprising how quickly these conditions are frequently corrected once the right kind of iron is supplied.

I am constantly coming across cases in my practice where people not yet 40 show much of the nervousness, lack of energy and general run-down condition which might possibly be expected to come twenty years later in life while others at 60 may still be young in feeling, actually alert with steady nerves and strong bodies.

Whether we have health and long life is often a question which each one must determine for himself. Signs of old age are largely due to a deposit of waste matter in the blood vessels and cells of the body. Without plenty of strength-giving iron the blood is utterly lacking in the power to overcome this slow poisoning process and keep the body strong and healthy. To make up for this deficiency I usually prescribe organic iron like Nuxated Iron which by enriching the blood and creating thousands of new red blood cells helps renew the wasted tissues and build strength and energy to withstand the ravages of time. I know of no more simple means by which a person can find out if his blood needs iron than by making the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength, power and endurance of delicate, nervous run-down people in two weeks' time in many instances. You can procure Nuxated Iron from your druggist on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money will be refunded.

GIANTS' MANAGER HAS BEEN EXPELLED

At the Lambs Club, in West Forty-Fourth Street, New York, it was said recently that John J. McGraw, manager and part owner of the New York Giants, had been expelled and that William Boyd, the actor who had quarreled with McGraw in the clubhouse last month, had been suspended for a year.

McGraw's expulsion was announced in a notice posted on the bulletin board at the clubhouse. According to report, the club council sent out notice to both men to appear at a meeting to explain their conduct on the night when John C. Slavin was injured. McGraw did not appear. He had been suspended once previously, but Boyd's record in the club has always been clear. David Warfield, Frank Bacon, Rupert Hughes and William Collier are among the members of the council.

FOUR GAMES SET FOR SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Association Football Players Start League With Senior and Intermediate Matches—McIlmoyl Suspension Lifted

The Victoria and District Football Association held a meeting in the G.W.V.A. rooms last evening, when the following schedule of games was drawn up for Saturday next:

Senior—Metropolitans vs. Comrades, at Central Park; referee, E. R. Lock. Victoria Wests vs. G.W.V.A. at lower ground, Beacon Hill; referee, W. J. Pearson.

Intermediate—James Bays vs. Firemen, upper ground, Beacon Hill; referee, W. A. Langton. Garrison vs. Esquimalt, at Work Point; referee, F. Oliver.

President J. Adam was in the chair, and delegates were present from the Comrades, Yarrows, Metropolitans, S. O. E., G. W. V. A., Firemen and James Bays.

An important decision was made in the case of J. McIlmoyl, of the Comrades, who was suspended last year for five years. Last evening the Association lifted the suspension, which means that McIlmoyl can be registered immediately. The Association also went on record as deciding to affiliate with the British Columbia Provincial Football Association.

It was announced that two withdrawals had been made, the Army and Navy from the senior league, and the Dockyard from the intermediate. The schedule will, on this account, have to be revised for all future games.

An application was received from the Garrison Football Club for the regrading of three of their senior men who wish to play in the intermediate league. The request was granted, the men being Sgt. Wylie, Cpl. Grimes and Pte. Sharcott.

Duncan Tennis Club

DUNCAN, Sept. 28.—At a committee meeting of the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club, held yesterday afternoon, Mr. F. G. Smithson and Mr. C. C. Ward were appointed to the committee to act in place of Mr. W. Smithe, who has resigned, and Mr. E. G. Stilwell, who has left the district. It was also decided that a dance should be given on Monday evening, October 18, Thanksgiving Day, in the Agricultural Hall.

Remarkable Athlete

A remarkable athletic record was made recently in South Africa by H. O'Reilly, who is only sixteen years old, at the Grey Institute. O'Reilly won the 100 yards dash in 10 4-5 seconds, the 220 yards in 23 2-5 seconds, the hurdles in 16 2-5 seconds, and the broad jump with 20 feet 7 inches. He was second in the high jump with 5 feet 1 inch, and threw the cricket ball 122 yards 1 foot 7 inches.

Few Favorites Win In Final Day's Races

Bassano Boy Wins Long Distance Event

Fine Looking Gelding Captures Mayor Porter Handicap by Two Lengths at Willows Track—Big Surprise in Closing Event in Which Prairie Defeats the Field.

With a rank outsider, Prairie, leading from wire to wire against a classy bunch of thoroughbreds, the first seven-day horse meeting conducted here within the past seven years was brought to a close at the Willows yesterday. While only of short duration, the meeting may safely be termed the most successful in the history of the sport in Victoria. There was not one accident to mar the proceedings at any time, and as objectionable incidents were conspicuous by their absence, those in charge of the affair were complimented on the able and efficient manner in which they supervised the affair. Some of the regular followers of the thoroughbreds who tour the countries with the ponies al the year round, left the city last evening, singing the praises of Victoria. They were quite emphatic in declaring that the work of the local men who officiated in the judges' stand and elsewhere was above criticism.

Usual Surprises

The racing on the final day was quite up to the standard of the preceding cards. The usual number of surprises occurred and there proved to be sufficient close finishes to satisfy the most exacting.

The outstanding feature of the programme, the long-distance event, was taken by Bassano Boy, the aged son of Red Eagle-Fort Simpson. This fine-looking gelding made every post a winner, and when he came back to the judges' stand to be decorated with a floral wreath by Mayor Porter, he was given an enthusiastic ovation. Bassano Boy appears to run his best when competing in some classic. Yesterday he was called upon to display his ability against the classiest field of the meeting in the Mayor Porter handicap, and won handily by two lengths. Due credit must also be given to his rider, Arthur Martin, who has demonstrated in his work, both here and on the Lower Mainland this Summer, that he is easily the best post jockey in the West. Martin performed his hardest task at the post when he got the winner off in front and the thoroughbred was never headed. Incidentally he started a strong favorite. Belle of the Kitchen was a good second, with Minnie H third.

Miss Union Wins

The opening race was captured by Miss Union with ease. She tried to run into the outside fence on the first turn, but, despite the loss of at least two lengths at this point, she rapidly went to the front and won eased up. Cleo Madison, the favorite, finished third, while Mazama was second.

Another public choice was defeated in the second event when Emelda, from the Toppenish stable, came from behind to win by a head from Welga. Capilano was third. Welga went to the front at the start and set the pace until the stretch. Then Emelda came up fast and was going away from the field at the end.

Min McLeod upset the dope in the next when she came from behind and defeated the favorite, Foeman, almost on the wire. Ashton Lady was third. The latter went to the front and looked like a winner fifty yards from home, when she tired badly. Foeman then went ahead, but was nipped at the mutual board by Min McLeod.

Favorite Out of Money

The favorite, Bonnies Buck, failed to get inside the money in the fourth, Tiajan, the second choice, winning handily. Miss Sovereign was second and Chattancourt third.

Ben Royal was the public choice in the fifth, but after leading all the way he was forced to acknowledge defeat to Emelda by a head. The winner came from last place on the back stretch.

The Toppenish stable almost made it three victories on the same card in the sixth event, when Helman lost the chief honors to the favorite, Billy Nestlehouse. The former was easily the fastest of the field, but was carried the overland route by the pacemaker, Elmer K. Even at that, Helman was only beaten a nose.

The greatest surprise of the entire meeting occurred in the closing event, when Prairie defeated Volima and Don Jose for the big money, with such well-known performers as Col. Boyle, Little Jake, Ike Mills, Mineral Jim and Ispham well behind. Following is a complete summary:

First race, four and one-half furlongs—1, Miss Union; 2, Mazama; 3, Cleo Madison. Also ran: Letitia S., Mayflower. Time, 1:01 1-5. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $7; place, $3.20, $3.40.

Second race, five furlongs—1, Minstrel; 2, Welga; 3, Capilano. Also ran: Valli V., Sovereign III., Amadora Valley, Mabel R. Time, 1:01 3-5. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $13.80; place, $3.60, $2.80.

Third race, five furlongs—1, Min McLeod; 2, Foeman; 3, Ashton Lady. Also ran: York Lassie, Tommy W., Rochester, Sir Robert. Time, 1:02. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $20.40; place, $6.60, $3.20.

Fourth race, six furlongs—1, Tiajan; 2, Miss Sovereign; 3, Chattancourt. Also ran: Bonnie's Buck, Little Abe, Red Fly, Dr. C. P. Fryer. Time, 1:20. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $7.60; place, $4.50, $9.40.

Fifth race, six furlongs—1, Emelda; 2, Ben Royal; 3, No Wonder. Also ran: Last Chance, Irish Daisy, Tommy Chandler, Gretna Green. Time, 1:20 2-5. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $5.80; place, $3.20, $3.20.

Sixth race, six furlongs—1, Billy Nestlehouse; 2, Helman; 3, Elmer K. Also ran: Gerda. Time, 1:13 3-5. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $3.60; place, $2.60, $3.20.

Seventh race, one and one-sixteenth miles—1, Bassano Boy; 2, Belle of the Kitchen; 3, Minnie H. Also ran: Rochester, Dehra, Tom Goose. Time, 1:56. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $3.60; place, $3, $4.60.

Eighth race, six furlongs — 1, Prairie; 2, Volima; 3, Don Jose. Also ran: Col. Boyle, Ike Mills, Mineral Jim, Ispham, Little Jake. Time, 1:19. Two dollar mutuals paid straight $26.20; place, $8, $13.60.

All Athletes in City Will Get Together and Try to Make Amicable Arrangement Regarding Tangle

In connection with the meeting of the different sporting aggregations of the city to talk over the present difficulty in amateur circles on account of the recent action taken by the B. C. A. A. U., Mr. Percy Payne states that he has been requested to call the athletes together, but as he has not yet been able to get into touch with all the interested bodies, he has thought it best to defer the meeting until next week. It will be held at the Douglas Hotel, probably next Wednesday, but the date has not yet been definitely settled.

The B. C. A. A. U., and all the different branches of sport, are particularly requested to be represented, as it is desired to talk over matters amicably, and see if some satisfactory arrangement cannot be made.

BROOKLYN TO HAVE FIRST SERIES GAME

National Commission Reverses Previous Decision—Arrange Distribution of the Prize Money

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The National Commission today reversed its decision of yesterday and decided to open the world's series at Brooklyn, October 5, playing three games there. The change was made at the request of James Dunn, president of the Cleveland club, who asked more time to prepare the Cleveland grounds in the event his team should win the American League pennant.

The teams will travel on October 8 and open in the American League city winning the pennant, either Cleveland or Chicago, October 9, for a four-game series. Brooklyn obtains the eighth game October 14, and will also stage the ninth game, if one is necessary, as the National League yesterday won the toss for the final game. If a ninth game is played, however, it will be on October 15, instead of October 16, as the day's intermission for traveling has been eliminated.

Cleveland Men Eligible

The following Cleveland players were listed as eligible: James C. Bagby, George Burns, W. R. Clarke, Ray B. Caldwell, Stanley Coveleski, G. R. Ellison, Joseph Evans, W. L. Gardner, J. G. Graney, Charles D. Jamieson, W. R. Johnston, Harry Tunty, Walter Mails, Guy Morton, L. G. Nunamaker, Steve F. O'Neill, R. Tris. Speaker, Elmer Smith, D. Thomas, Geo. Uphle, Wm. Wambsganss and Joe Woods.

The National Commission decided that contending clubs in the world series shall appoint a committee on each club, which committee shall decide how the prize money in the world series shall be distributed among the players. After this has been agreed upon, the list must be submitted to the commission and Secretary Bruce will mail individual cheques to the players according to the list as submitted by the respective committees. These provisions wound up the preliminary plans of the big series and the commission adjourned. President Heydler, of the National League, announced that he would depart for the East tonight.

COAST LEAGUE CLUBS BUNCH NEAR THE TOP

Vernon Champions, Leading Circuit Now, Play This Week at Home—Five Teams Are in Running

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Five Pacific Coast baseball league clubs, Vernon, Los Angeles, Seattle, Salt Lake and San Francisco, are all bunched within fighting distance of the 1920 pennant, with the season but three weeks to run. Followers of the game say that never before have five clubs figured in the final coast championship dash.

Vernon, 1919 champions and present leaders of the league, this week will defend its position, on its home field, against San Francisco; Los Angeles plays Oakland here. The Seattle club, which, since the middle of the season, has advanced from last to third place, meets Portland at Seattle.

Salt Lake plays Sacramento. Although in last place the Senators are considered dangerous, as they hurt Seattle's pennant chances by winning in Sunday's double-header in the north.

CLEVELAND NOW IS SURE OF PENNANT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Cleveland virtually was assured of the American League pennant today by suspension of the Chicago players in connection with the alleged fixing of games in the world series last year. The Indians increased their lead over the White Sox to a full game today by defeating St. Louis and have one game to play with St. Louis and four with Detroit.

With most of their regulars banned, the White Sox, who rested today, will be forced to put a patched-up team in Friday for their series of three games with St. Louis. Cleveland must win one game more than its rival to retain first place.

LEVINSKY'S DEFENCE MAY UPSET DOPE

Georges Carpentier May Experience Trouble if "Battler" Can Show Old Form—Different Proposition to Beckett

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Georges Carpentier appears to think that Battling Levinsky is going to be a very easy mark for him when they meet, but it may be that there is a great surprise in store for the idol of France. Georges says that he will win with a knockout, the only kind of victory that would materially boost his stock as a contender for the heavyweight championship. There are many who think that Georges is away off in his calculations.

If Levinsky can get into anything like his old time form Carpentier's chances of scoring a knockout are far from promising. If both men shoot square and Levinsky is the Levinsky of old, Carpentier will have all he can do to win the decision. But if it is true that Levinsku is on his last legs it will be a different matter.

Report has it that Levinsky is through. The fact that he has done little fighting during the last year or so and that he quit the ring to become a promoter bears out this idea. However, Levinsky declares that all he needs is sufficient time to prepare and he will enter the ring as good as he ever was.

In that case Monsieur Carpentier had better look out for trouble. Stopping the slow footed and slow thinking Joe Beckett with a punch and landing the same wallop on Levinsky are two different propositions.

Beating up slow-moving fellows like Beckett always has been Levinsky's favorite form of exercise. No one knows better than Levinsky how easy a man like Beckett is for a fast boxer, so that Carpentier's victory over the Englishman does not impress the Battler as anything remarkable, although he does admire the effectiveness of the wallop that did the trick.

Levinsky Can't Hit

Levinsky is a boxer with only one fault—he can't hit a lick. Aside from that failing, he measures up well. He possesses more science and ring generalship than any heavyweight to come to the front since the old line of ring warriors that flourished during Horton law days passed on.

Levinsky first attracted attention about the time that the call for white hopes went out, but he himself never was regarded in the light of a white hope. He was considered altogether too small for the task of humbling the giant Johnson. Levinsky himself did not dispute that verdict very strenuously, but he amused himself by taking on the white hopes one after another and making most of them look like sorry jokes.

He outpointed Jim Coffey when the Dublin giant was looked upon as a real find. He toyed with the impetuous Jim Flynn, making the aggressive fireman look like a raw hand, although at that time Flynn was at the top of his form and a dangerous proposition. He outboxed Gunboat Smith, easily evading the Gunner's terrible right, and he handed out boxing lessons to Soldier Kearns, Tony Ross and other big fellows who had weight and wallop in their favor, but no science.

It is true that against men of his own size Levinsky has not done anything remarkable. His lack of hitting ability prevented him from winning decisively, and his speed was not such a tremendous advantage when his opponent also possessed ability in that line. But whether facing a fast little man or a slow moving giant, Levinsky always has been a marvel at getting away from punishment.

"Battler" Only Failed Once

The only time Levinsky's defence failed him was when he tackled Jack Dempsey, over in Philadelphia. The speed and fury of the Dempsey attack proved too much for the nimble-footed battler, who was beaten down by a series of terrific body blows.

That victory really is the most creditable thing in all of Dempsey's record. It is the only battle in which Jack proved conclusively that he is something more than a mere slugger. Levinsky thought that he would be able to outgeneral Dempsey, as he had done with so many hard hitters, but he failed to figure on Jack's great speed.

But although Dempsey was successful in battering Levinsky to the floor, it does not follow that Carpentier will be equally successful. Dempsey was so rugged that he could afford to ignore Levinsky's blows. He paid no attention to the battler's fast, light jabs, walking right in and letting fly regardless of what Levinsky was doing.

EIGHT BALL PLAYERS INDICTED; SUSPENDED

When True Bills Are Produced by Grand Jury, President Comiskey Orders Out Chicago Men Involved

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Seven members of the Chicago White Sox and one former player were indicted today by a Cook County Grand Jury, charged with conspiracy to commit an illegal act in connection with last year's world's series, which they have been accused of "selling" to a coterie of gamblers.

The seven players were immediately suspended by Charles A. Comiskey, president of the club, who thereby threw away all chances of winning the American League pennant this year. The Sox are only a half-game behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians today.

The "Old Roman," who has spent a lifetime building up his club, notified the accused players that if they were found guilty he would drive them out of baseball for the rest of their lives if possible.

Eddie Cicotte confessed that he engineered the deal by which the White Sox lost last year's world series, an official of the court announced this afternoon. The details of Cicotte's confession follow closely the story told in Philadelphia last night by Billy Maharg, former prize fighter, it was stated.

Cicotte told the Grand Jury, it was announced, that he received $10,000 for his part in losing the series. He never saw the man who paid the money, he said. He was told he would find the $10,000 under his pillow in the hotel room on the night before the first game in Cincinnati and when he returned to his room the money was there.

Joe Jackson received $5,000. Like Cicotte he found the money in his bed when he returned to his room on the night before the first game.

Joe Jackson Confesses

When Jackson finished his testimony before the Grand Jury he was taken into custody by a Deputy Sheriff. A court official said that Jackson testified that he received his money in a Cincinnati hotel and that Risberg and McMullin were the principal "pay-off" men. Jackson stated that he received his money from Claude Williams.

According to the court officials Jackson testified that, while each player indicated was approached individually, each knew about the other. He said that Cicotte had also testified to this effect.

OFFER YANKEE TEAM TO CHICAGO HEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A telegram offering to place the entire New York American team at the disposal of Charles A. Comiskey, who today suspended seven of his players, indicted in connection with alleged fixing of games, was sent tonight to the White Sox club owner by Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, owners of the Yankee club.

While the indictments at present contain but one count, "Conspiracy to do an illegal act," Assistant State's Attorney Hartley Replogle, in charge of the Grand Jury investigation, announced that more probably would be added after the Grand Jury session this afternoon. Just before the indictments were announced a witness was ushered out a disused rear door of the grand jury room. He was reported to be Eddie Cicotte, the White Sox star pitcher.

Cicotte, who was named in the story of the alleged gamblers' plot, told at Philadelphia last night by Billy Maharg, former prize fighter, is said to have signed an immunity waiver and then to have gone before the Grand Jury and testified. The sudden voting of the true bills followed.

Comiskey Gets Facts

Evidence on which seven White Sox players and one former member of the team were indicted was uncovered by Charles A. Comiskey, president of the club, and furnished by him to the Grand Jury, Attorney Austrian said while Jackson was testifying.

"This 'blow-off' is due to Mr. Comiskey's action," Mr. Austrian said. "As soon as he knew what the state of affairs was he ordered me to go ahead. We rushed the evidence to the Grand Jury and are now having Jackson tell what he knows of the affair. This is due to Mr. Comiskey's desire to get at the bottom of the scandal."

True Bills Against Eight

The Cook County Grand Jury this afternoon voted true bills against the following baseball players in connection with its investigation of alleged "throwing" of world's series games last year: Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, "Chick" Gandil, "Happy" Felsch, Charles Risberg, Joe Jackson, Fred McMullin, "Buck" Weaver. All are members of the Chicago Americans.

Assistant State's Attorney Replogle announced that Cicotte was taken in custody after leaving the Grand Jury room, and is now in charge of William Sullivan, a detective of the State Attorney's office. He declined to say where Cicotte would be taken. The eight players are charged with conspiracy to violate a state law.

Gandil, while still the property of the Chicago club, has not been with the team this year. It was understood he could not reach an agreement with them over salary.

Voting of the indictments was officially announced by H. H. Brigham, foreman of the Grand Jury, following a conference with Chief Justice McDonald and Alfred S. Austin, attorney for the White Sox club.

"Ban" and Heydler There

Investigation of accusations that members of the Chicago White Sox had "thrown" the 1919 world's series was resumed today by the Cook County Grand Jury with Presidents Johnson, of the American League, and Heydler, of the National League, expected to be the leading witnesses. Two other witnesses for today, according to announcement by Assistant Prosecutor Hartley Replogle, are Mrs. Henrietta D. Kelley and Dr. Raymond B. Prettyman. Several of the White Sox players roomed at Mrs. Kelley's boarding house, and she was questioned about their conversations. Dr. Prettyman, White Sox team dentist, declared he could produce evidence of an attempt to persuade Weaver to "throw" games.

Manager Hughey Jennings, of Detroit, and President August Herrmann, of the Cincinnati Reds, will appear later in the week to testify, Replogle announced, and subpoenas have been issued for many others, prominent in the sporting world.

The White Sox being idle until next Friday, it is expected that some members of the team may be called, "Kid" Gleason, manager, and Ray Schalk, star catcher, having been already summoned.

Statements published here today say that Billy Maharg, former boxer of Philadelphia, gave details by which the series was "fixed." Maharg's story said he and Billy Burns, ex-major league pitcher, were approached by Pitcher Eddie Cicotte, who offered to arrange with other White Sox players to "throw" the series for $100,000. Maharg said the White Sox players were "double-crossed" out of all but $10,000, and he and Burns also were deceived by Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, who acted as go-between with the betting ring.

President Comiskey, of the White Sox, telegraphed Maharg offering him $10,000 for substantiation of his accusations.

The Grand Jury has summoned Attell, Arnold Rothstein, New York racetrack man; Burns and others involved in Maharg's story.

JOHNNY DUNDEE WILL TRY ACTING

Johnny Dundee is going to quit the prize ring—at least temporarily—and is going to become a real, sure-enough actor.

He does not intend to uplift or elevate the stage. Nothing like that, at all. He is turning to the stage until such time as he can get a battle with Champion Benny Leonard. When he does get this battle he thinks the word "champion" will be before his name instead of Leonard's.

Dundee has signed up with Jimmy Hussey, and will take quite a part in Tattle-Tales, which Hussey is producing.

If Dundee does not like Tattle-Tales he is going to have a grand chance to show Hussey just what he does think of it.

Hussey accepts the fuller responsibility for Tattle-Tales, and has written into it a burlesque boxing bout between himself and Dundee. Of course, Dundee has agreed to pull his punches, but it is an easy matter to slip one over once in a while. This bout is said to be faster than wireless and funnier than Weber and Fields ever were in their palmiest days, but unless Dundee behaves, Hussey may rewrite that scene and eliminate Dundee.

Just now, however, it is certain that Hussey is doing more worrying than Dundee.

"CON" JONES MAKES OFFER TO SHAMROCKS

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—"Con" Jones, the well-known Pacific Coast hockey and lacrosse magnate, announced today that he has offered the Shamrock lacrosse team $5,000 and 50 per cent of any gate money taken in excess of $10,000 to play a series of three games on May 21, 24 and 28, in Vancouver, for the Minto Cup.

Mr. Jones leaves for Toronto tonight to make arrangements with a number of Ontario players on behalf of certain United States interests with whom Mr. Jones has formed an international lacrosse league.

MINTO CUP BATTLE IS FOUGHT TO DRAW

First of Three-Game Lacrosse Series Between Vancouver and New Westminster Ends 5-5—Play Again Thursday

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 28.—Vancouver and New Westminster lacrosse teams battled to a five-all tie in the first of a three-game series for the professional championship of the world at the New Westminster Fair this afternoon.

With New Westminster leading by one goal with only two minutes before full time, Paddy McDonough, of the Vancouver team, whipped in the tieing counter. Although the game could hardly be termed brilliant lacrosse there was plenty of the spectacular in spots throughout.

Total games on the three games will decide the championship. The next game will be played Thursday and the final on Saturday.

Cleveland Prepares

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Erection of temporary stands to seat 6,500 persons will start at League Park tomorrow, James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland baseball club announced tonight. "It is a gamble with me," Mr. Dunn explained, "but inasmuch as stands cannot be completed in less than seven days, I could not afford to wait until the winner of the flag is decided."

RITE OF BABYDOM

By Alfred Edge in The London Daily Mail

It was at a house-party. The youngest and prettiest girl-guest, just passed the flapper stage, came up to her hostess.

"I am going to ask you a great favor," she said earnestly. "Will you let me bathe baby tonight?" I should so love it, and I will be very careful."

Her eyes sparkled with delight when the request was granted. I asked if I might be present at the ceremony. She hesitated.

"Men don't understand these things. But if you really want to come I suppose you can."

* * * *

Why do girls and women always seize every opportunity for rubbing in our inferiority and ignorance where babies are concerned? There is a kind of good-humored scorn they put on when we talk of babies. They try to make us feel outsiders.

I think it is that women regard and desire to retain babies as their special preserve. Although they have trespassed upon what were once regarded as men's special prerogatives in almost every direction, they are very jealous of their rights as regards infants. They make absurd mysteries about them and pretend that no mere man can possibly understand.

The rite of baby-washing is essentially a feminine function. A man, even the father, is admitted to view merely on sufferance. He is not supposed to take an active part. When the word goes round, "Baby is going to have his bath," there is an awed hush and then a request from every woman to be present at the proceedings.

Old maids, elderly spinsters, are just as keen as are young and old married women, maiden aunts, girls, and grandmothers. They simply love it, and if they are allowed the inestimable privilege of bathing baby they are inordinately proud.

Some of those who have never had children of their own, and are never likely to have them, experience, one must suppose, a sort of vicarious maternity in this baby-worship. All nice women love babies, and they particularly love to see them bathed.

Certainly there is a fascination in the sight of chubby, mottled little limbs disporting in the water. The soaping, often vigorously resented, and the subsequent careful drying and powdering business are quite jolly to watch.

When so many hard things are said of the modern girl and woman, and we are told they are losing their feminine qualities, I for one do not think there is much the matter so long as they exhibit this wonderful pleasure in seeing baby have his bath.

The passenger pigeon, formerly abundant, is now very rare.

CALIFORNIA NOW IS DOG CENTRE

Sport Ranks With Horse Racing in Southern State—East Bay Kennels Best That Can Be Built

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 27.—California is rapidly gaining fame as the greyhound producing centre of the country. The "Irish ponies" have been coming in for more than their share of attention in the last few months, and especially since the erection of the new coursing park at Emeryville and the introduction of the sport at San Bruno.

More than 150 hounds of all sizes, description and pedigree are working out daily on the East Bay track, and every day brings a few new ones into the fold. The sport is probably the most thrilling of any outdoor sport, with the possible exception of horse racing, that has been staged in this state in a number of years.

Dog racing is not a new wrinkle in the California sport world. It has been here before, in the days of the old Ingleside track and afterwards run on a small scale throughout the southern part of the state, but never as a weekly attraction.

The law prohibited the use of live hares in the coursing events, so the mechanical rabbit, attached to a long arm on a motor that runs on rails outside the track, was installed. After the first few races the motor formed a bad habit of bucking and jumping the track. Repairs and alterations in the bevel of the course has eliminated any trouble from the mechanical source.

The races are held over a quarter-mile track every Sunday afternoon. Some of the best coursing hounds in the state, even in the country, are competing on the track. Best known among them is "Skookum."

"Skookum" started as a selling plater and boosted himself into a stake position before the third week of racing had started. The hound is a slender fellow with a long stride and as smart as a whip. He not only outruns everything on the field, but out-smarts them as well.

Among others who have shown their class are Steam Roller, Honor M., Birdie, Blanchie, Diablo, Kiowa, Oakland Beau and King Dick. Honor M., Steam Roller, Skookum and Birdie all rank in Class A and have run several match races.

The kennels at the track are the best that can be built, and the handlers are men with years of experience to their credit. A stand seating more than 3,000 persons overlooks the track, and from it a full view of every part of the track can be had.

WHERE ARE THE HAPPY PEOPLE?

What is it everyone is seeking? Boil it down, reduce it to its essence, and there is only one thing. Everybody is seeking happiness.

"When I grow up I shall find it," says the youth.

"When I have more money," says the poor man.

"When I have achieved success," says the ambitious.

"There is no such thing," says the pessimist. "Happiness is only a negative idea."

"Happiness will come tomorrow," says the optimist.

"Love alone can buy it," says the sentimentalist."

"It is in yourself," says the mystic.

With so many ready-made solutions, why are there not more happy people?

How many really happy people do you know? Travel by train, by omnibus; keep your eyes open in public places; watch the crowds of men, women and children as they pass.

Careworn, haggard, restless, sly, scheming, greedy, gay, reckless, humorous, cynical, fanatical, hard, arrogant, spiritless, and many other varieties you meet, but of how many can you say, "There goes a happy person"?

* * * *

But I have seen happy people, numbers of them. And it was—paradoxical as it may seem—during the war. The fighting forces, the men and women engaged in serving their country—these were individually and collectively the happiest people I have ever met.

Can it be that the art of happiness lies just in discipline and service; and that all our struggles for getting things, the popular clamor for upsetting authority and the like, are just blind alleys leading us nowhere?

Think of the other happy people you know. You will find that, without exception, every single one of them has faith. It may not be faith in orthodox religion or creeds. But it is there, a vital enthusiasm about something, an ideal.

And every ideal involves discipline and service in the attempt at its achievement.

The very happiest people I have met, men and women, have been those who have voluntarily given up all that the world holds precious, monks, nuns, priests, sisters of mercy and charity; devout Quakers and others, fanatics if you like, who would die at the stake any day cheerfully for the things they hold true. All of them are under discipline, self-imposed or submitted to under authority, and all are giving service. Well, we cannot all be soldiers. We cannot all be religious."

But—the idea is worth a trial—we can all submit to discipline, and we can all do our bit of service, even though the service may not be great and may not be more than a determination not to add, by a trappiest sigh to "the sum total of the world's unhappiness."—A., in The London Daily Mail.

STATEMENT REGARDING BALFOUR PATIENTS

NELSON, B.C., Sept. 28.—From a telegram received today by Mayor J. A. Macdonald from R. F. Green, M.P., Victoria, it appears to be clear that Premier Meighen has been reported to regarding the feeling of the Balfour soldier patients by officials of the Soldiers' Re-establishment Department.

The message reads: "Premier wires that his information received relative to Balfour patients is that they have been consulted collectively and individually and are satisfied to transfer to Tranquille, and that civil re-establishment board say Tranquille efficient and best equipped and sufficiently large and that the transfer would be decidedly in the interest of both service and patients."

"Who ever has represented to the Premier that the patients are satisfied to transfer to Tranquille has a peculiar view of what constitutes satisfaction," is Mayor Macdonald's comment. Balfour patients attending the Nelson Fair express amazement at this description of their attitude.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN
Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

The name "Bayer" on Aspirin is like 14 Karat on gold. It positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada.
Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.
Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.
There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"
Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

ENTERTAINING BILL OFFERED AT PANTAGES

"Mammy's Birthday," Musical Revue With Southern Surroundings, Is Headliner This Week—Many Features

A clever musical revue, a sprightly comedy playlet, a breezy singing act and an entertaining patter team, with a novelty animal number thrown in for good measure—that is the vaudeville menu offered by Pantages Theatre this week. The opening matinee is this afternoon.

"Mammy's Birthday," a southern musical revue, is the headliner, bringing a group of real Southern beauties to the Pantages in clever new songs, dances and specialties in an old time "before the war" setting. Each member of the company is a capable performer, and the dancing is said to be the best of any "girl" show in vaudeville.

A singing and instrumental musical act, introducing a number of new songs of their own composition, will be presented by the Three White Kuhns. They sing melodiously and play faultlessly on the bass violin, ukulele, guitar and mandolin. One of the trio is a comedian who has been reaping a harvest of laughter all over the circuit with his antics.

Lew Welch and company will present a clever character sketch of home life in "The Prodigal Father." Lew Welch is one of the most famous character actors of today, and as the Hebrew father, he is certain of scoring heavily with Victoria audiences, which always are quick to recognize real ability.

"The League of Relations" is an entertaining act presented by Will and Mary Rogers, who are old-time vaudeville favorites who have worked the science of laugh production down to a fine point, and never fail to get results.

"Tiny tots of animaldom" appear in cute and cunning capers when Lady Alice's trained pets appear on the stage. The pets consist of rats, cats, a dog, canary birds and pigeons, and the act carries with it an unusually pretty setting. The act is one of the daintiest and cleverest animal acts that has ever been seen on the Pantages circuit for some time, and everywhere has been making a big hit.

There is another instalment of the sensational serial, "Trailed by Three," a Pathe production.

VARIETY THEATRE "A Lady's Name," in which Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge, and which Select Pictures will offer at the Variety Theatre today, presents a great field for the talents of the ever popular Constance. "A Lady's Name," adapted from Cyril Harcourt's play of the same name, is a picture with the true American flavor—good, clean, rollicking fun, chock full of pep. Constance is delightful throughout the whole picture, which offers her a splendid chance to portray her versatility. You are introduced to her as a young and pretty woman novelist. Later she becomes a butler's sweetheart, still later a cook, and finally ends up being engaged to the butler's master.

PRINCESS THEATRE Tonight at the Princess Theatre the Mildred Page Players are presenting "Wife in Name Only," a well-known comedy drama. The story is full of heart interest and the lighter moments are splendid. There is never a dull moment and the parts all being in capable hands are bound to show careful study and have all the little details worked out to a nicety. From beginning to end "Wife in Name Only" will be all that the most exacting might require and the settings, the gowns, in fact all the things that go to make a beautiful production have been provided. "Wife in Name Only" is all that anyone could expect for a perfect evening's entertainment. Don't miss it. Beginning tonight and playing the balance of the week with the usual Saturday matinee.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Rio Grande," the Edwin Carewe-Pathe feature production is on view at Columbia Theatre today for the last time. It gets its name from the river that separates Mexico from the United States. Across orange-colored, sun scorched deserts, the silvery Rio Grande winds its way, while the purple hills, their peaks forming a jagged silhouette against the blue sky, watch the history of that romantic land. Augustus Thomas' story of "Rio Grande" concerns itself with the charming love affair of a certain brown-eyed Senorita on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, and a bold and adventurous Irish-American on the Texas side. Rosemary Theby and Allan Sears were chosen for the leading roles because of their peculiar suitability for the parts, and the remainder of the cast was equally well chosen. Mr. Carewe staged the picture in Texas on the very spot Mr. Thomas wrote about.

ROYAL VICTORIA Announcement is made by the management of the Royal Victoria Theatre that beginning today William Fox will present William Farnum in a romantic drama of the days when knights were bold, entitled "The Adventurer." It was written by E. Lloyd Sheldon, and is based upon the adventures of an impecunious count who lived in Spain at a time when gambling was at its height and when noblemen wagered everything on the treasures of Mexico and Peru. In those days duelling was popular, and the man who would not draw his sword to avenge an insult or to protect a woman was a cad. The hero is the rollicking type of romantic lover that suits admirably the great actor, who is seen as Don Caesar de Bazan. William Farnum is at his best in such a role, and he will win new laurels if people who have seen him in his latest production are correct in their judgment.

DOMINION THEATRE Montagu Love, who has a leading role with Alma Rubens in the new Cosmopolitan Production, "The World and His Wife," at the Dominion Theatre, is a real veteran of the stage and screen, despite the fact that he is a comparatively young man. Mr. Love was born in Calcutta, India, of English parents and early in life went to London to embark upon a stage career. He appeared successfully with Cyril Maude, William A. Brady and David Belasco. Coming to this country, Mr. Love soon transferred his talents to the screen, which was then in the early period of its development, and starred in many productions.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA WARMLY RECEIVED

Minneapolis Musicians Give Splendid Programme at Arena—Florence Macbeth, Soprano, Proves Artist

A most enthusiastic reception was given the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra at the Arena last evening. That part of the great auditorium which had been reserved for patrons of the event was quite generously filled, and further evidence of the taste which the public have for this form of music was found in the warm applause which greeted the two principal works presented during the programme, viz., the overture to Wagner's "Tannhauser," probably for the first time presented in this city by an orchestra large enough to suggest the richness of the music in a great drama which is among the finest examples of superb instrumentation; and the Tschaikowsky Symphony in F Minor with which the programme opened.

These two things were magnificently presented. The Wagner composition was particularly grand. The strings and wind instruments alike were very good, and the balance of the orchestra is pleasing. The calibre of the individual musicians was tested in such a work as the Tannhauser Overture, where absolute nicety of detail is essential to the perfection of the work presented. With but few exceptions the various compositions taken up were presented with strict obedience to tempo, and the rich ensemble effects were such as could only be attained by an organization which has worked as such for some years. While a very fine reserve marked the orchestra's work throughout, this did not in any wise lessen the great dramatic effects sought in the Wagnerian composition, for instance. The climax was approached with dignity and stateliness. In the Tschaikowsky work the Scherzo, in which all the instruments (commencing with the strings) play pizzicato throughout, proved particularly appealing, although the beautiful suave melody of the second movement—taken up instrument after instrument—was also very beautiful.

Of the remaining numbers of the programme the "Rustic Dance" by Cowen proved quite a favorite, the subject being taken up first by the wind instruments in a very charming way. The violins carried the air beautifully in the "Graceful Dance," notable for its charming rhythm.

Miss Florence Macbeth won a host of admirers by her delightful additions to the programme. Possessed of a soprano voice which is very true and sweet, particularly in the lower registers, she has the further perfections which come with long training and experience, and the difficult intervals and florid passages of the Bell song from "Lakme" were faultlessly sung.

Her other programme number was "Charmant Oiseau" (Felician David), which she sang most beautifully with flute obligato, and which made a charming second to the encore, "Lo, Hear the Lark," which she sang earlier in the programme. Her style as well as her voice is delightfully natural and easy, and these qualities proved particularly acceptable in her singing of such a familiar old air as "Annie Laurie," which she added as an encore, with harp accompaniment.

As a conductor Mr. Emil Oberhoffer must also have made many admirers last evening, and his orchestra is assured of an even greater reception at any future time that they may return to the city.

DORIS KEANE IN "ROMANCE" COMES TO VARIETY MONDAY

"The return of the real story of love to the screen," is the way in which picture-reviewers everywhere have unanimously been describing Doris Keane's wonderful success in "Romance," the United Artists Corporation's production which was written especially for Miss Keane by Edward Sheldon.

It is said to be full of poetic imagination and charming sentiment, while the love romance of the prima donna and the clergyman is as novel and unusual as its very mention suggests.

Miss Keane as the sparkling Grand Opera star, Mme. Cavallini, is credited with an absolutely new success, one that puts her in the front rank of screen artists and which has won for her the enviable reputation of being the greatest emotional actress on the screen, as well as on the stage.

It is a pleasure to know that this really beautiful story, with its fascinating actress, is to be the leading attraction at the Variety Theatre all next week.

There is also coming to the Variety Theatre the greatest animal picture ever seen, "The Lost City."

DOMINION TO CHANGE PICTURES TWICE WEEKLY

Arrangements have just been completed whereby the Dominion Theatre has secured by exclusive contracts lately completed an additional supply of high-class feature film attractions. The new additions to the already excellent offerings now being shown at the popular Yates Street house will include amongst others the superb and much-sought-after Robertson-Cole productions, also the Realart and Metro super-attractions. These, in addition to the famous Lasky pictures and Paramount Artcraft attractions now constituting the regular Dominion programmes. Together with the Harold Lloyd comedy specials, the ever-popular Mack Sennett comedies, Burton Holmes travel series and Paramount Screen Magazine will assure for Dominion patrons the finest and most complete selection of feature film offerings ever presented by any individual theatre. The following are a few of the coming attractions: "What's Your Hurry?" starring Wallace Reid; "Half an Hour," starring Dorothy Dalton; "Humoresque," "High and Dizzy" (Harold Lloyd), "Civilian Clothes," with Thomas Meighen; "Lady Rose's Daughter" (Elsie Ferguson), "Little Miss Rebellion" (Dorothy Gish).

Patrons will please note that, commencing Monday, the pictures will be changed twice weekly, Mondays and Thursdays, each attraction being shown three days only instead of continuing throughout the entire week, as in the past.

Classic Dancing

Will be introduced in Victoria by Mlle. Charlebois, recently of New York City, pupil of both Vestoff and Serova, of the Russian Academy of Dancing, of New York City. Mlle. Charlebois will introduce this beautiful line of artistic dancing under the direction of Blanche Boyd. This work includes children from 3 years on—also adults. For particulars phone 1692 from 2 to 4 p.m., Pemberton Building.

Class Opens October 11—Book Appointments Early

CLASSIC (AESTHETIC) DANCING

Each dance given at the school will be original, and incidentally no two will be similar. The aim will be to combine dainty technique, perfect arm work, with a rigid adherence to underlying principles of the dance which have been handed down by various schools of the old world. Classic dancing is an art which is much misinterpreted today, and has given rise to much comment for this reason. The school will endeavor at all times to encourage these new principles which have been formulated and found worthy of emulation, but shall not enter this field of the dance in that spirit too common nowadays, that the new must necessarily be the best. "Vanity Fair," "When the Heart is Young," "Air de Ballet, 1830" and "The Peacock" will be a few of the many pretty dances. All amateur dancers prefer this line of dancing.

CHARACTER DANCING

These dances have been formulated with the aim to give a comprehensive course of studies. Every effort is made to simulate the character chosen, and a great amount of labor has been necessary to arrange these dances. But the school feels that results have justified the pains taken, and is sure that this will prove a most popular and beneficial part of the course. "Holland Kiddies," "A Chinese Love Tale," "Gypsy Beggar" and "Rustic Courtship" and many others will be taught in this course.

TOE WORK

Incidental to other special classes formed there will be a class in toe work which will be an advanced study of this art. This course should be taken by none but those who contemplate completing it.

There will be a special class for the very young pupils, and one for boys also. "Message of Spring," "Romance," "The French Doll" and "The Ballet." There are also four others which the toe pupils will study this term.

By "The Lounger"

I have an idea that this week I will give you the political views of "The Lounger." Of course, you will not take them over-seriously; you will kindly regard them as the idle vaporings of an idle fellow who has never taken his politics too much in earnest, but who up to date has always voted in the same old way in which his ancestors voted, without any due regard to the issues at stake. It may be that now we shall change all that, but I am quite sure that the majority of you will be perfectly in accord with me when I say that, with respect to modern political conditions all over the world, it is a case of "six of one, half-a-dozen of the other, and the devil take the hindmost." I noticed this particularly last Monday night. The Arena was over three-quarters filled with an audience which had assembled to see and hear the leader of the Opposition. You will observe that I have carefully inserted the word "see," because I am convinced that the majority of the audience did not attend from any desire to hear any expression of policy which he might put forth, but solely from curiosity to see what manner of man he was physically, and to hear whether he was an orator or not. After he had spoken for about twenty minutes this curiosity was satisfied, and the audience quite quietly began to troop out. Apparently they were not in the least interested in the substance of his speech. I have never attended a political meeting where there was less enthusiasm shown or less public interest evinced. And this is not written with any idea of attempting to belittle the principal speaker, but simply as evidence of the fact that the public have lost interest in politics as considered from a party standpoint. The average man is now as ambiguous as to his political viewpoint as was Dr. Johnson when he was asked by a lady as to his religious belief. "Madam," replied the great lexicographer, "I am of the religion to which all sensible men belong." "And which is that?" she queried. "Madam," said he, "no sensible man ever reveals which religion it is to which he belongs." It is conceivable that some political issue may some day arise which will excite the perfervid interest of the electorate, so that some shadow of the old-time election frenzy will sweep the country into a maelstrom of excitement, but it will have to be a very remarkable issue if it is ever successfully to revive the rancor which those same old-time elections used to engender. In the meantime the Unionists, the Conservatives, the Liberals, the Farmers' Party, the Returned Men, the Labor Party, the Socialists, and even the Bolsheviki, are all under the impression that they are going to sweep the country when the time comes, and the public, for the most part, gapes.

* * * * *

It is funny how changes take place in this little old world of ours. For the greater part of the last century the British Empire was ruled by a Queen whose memory has been handed down to posterity hallowed with the cognomen of "Good." Victoria, the Good, will always be remembered as one who presided over the Empire's fate during an era when enormous strides were made in every branch of human life. Our own city is named after her, and some day we shall see her statue on the grounds of the Parliament Buildings. It has been a little bit delayed, it is true, owing to the loss of a piece of the base on which it is to stand; someone apparently tidied it away and forgot where he had put it. There is a very strong probability, however, that by the time that the next Prince of Wales visits this city, which Heaven grant may be many, many years hence, the missing piece will have been found and will be in readiness for a grand unveiling by the heir-apparent. To come back to the Good Queen and the story I have in mind. During her reign there was a certain command performance at Buckingham Palace and one of the then music-hall stars was summoned to entertain the royal party. He sang a song which most of you have probably heard, entitled "Beer, beer, glorious beer." There were some in the audience who heard it with consternation, thinking that it might not meet with the Queen's approval. On the contrary, the Good Queen was so pleased with it that she made a special order for its encore. And now the city named after her is the Capital City of a Province which is endeavoring to place the everlasting ban on Britain's national beverage. It does sound rather queer, doesn't it?

* * * * *

I have recently, for the first time, been taken all over Craigdarroch Hospital and shown the magnificent view which can be obtained from the turret windows. How strange a city looks when you regard it from an eminence like that! No building appears to be in its proper place with respect to other landmarks, and I still feel perfectly certain that Little Saanich Mountain has been moved during the past few weeks; it didn't seem to be in at all the right place. I left Craigdarroch feeling that it was really an ideal convalescent hospital, but one thing I noticed on my way out which rather worried me, and that was the pay telephone installed for the use of the patients. Perhaps it is no business of mine to "butt in," but in view of the fact that the building is equipped with five telephones, which are, presumably, paid for at the usual rate, I may be pardoned for thinking that the patients also might be allowed a telephone on the same terms. It is true that a nickel is not a ruinous sum, but when you consider that the patients at Craigdarroch only receive $10 a month pocket money, and that many of them make a point of ringing up friends or relations every day to report progress, it is obvious that the odd nickel assumes alarming proportions. When all is said and done, Craigdarroch is filled with patients, so that the Government might well see fit to provide them with a telephone.

* * * * *

The ways of the army are somewhat wondrous, as the following will show: There was a man aged thirty-two who joined up for the Great War in 1914. He is entitled to wear the 1915 Star and the General Service and Victory ribbons; he also won the Military Medal for gallantry displayed at the front. Last August he signed on for two years. Since that date he has been discharged in consequence of not being "likely to become an efficient soldier." It is the wording of the reason which "makes to laugh." It is possible that there was good cause for his discharge, but it would seem inconceivable that a man who had seen his service and won his decoration would fail of efficiency as a soldier.

It has been a great relief to me to see the fine weather. I have been writing so much lately about the Indian Summer which we have been accustomed to expect that the heavy rains of the past week or so have been making me feel very nervous lest I should turn out to be a false prophet. It would seem, however, that the clerk of the weather has some kind of antipathy towards horseracing, as it is for the last day only of the Willows meet that he has vouchsafed a bright sun and a cloudless sky. Now that the change has come, however, we are entitled to expect a continuance of this latter day Summer for three or four weeks. Should this fond hope be realised the delegates to the Army and Navy Veterans' Convention, who are due to arrive on the 11th of next month, will have the treat of their lives when they find Victoria bathed in sunshine at a time when some other parts of the Dominion are anticipating snow. From every portion of the Dominion will come these delegates, and a spell of fine weather during their week's convention will prove the happiest kind of advertising which we could desire.

THE LOUNGER.

The Workingman of Quebec

We have already stated on several occasions that the workingman of the Province of Quebec has been of that small band of people who have not lost their heads in the midst of the general economic upheaval caused by the war. While everywhere people have sought in radical theories means of improving their condition, the Quebec workingman has remained faithful to his traditional teachings which have proved his strength and his power in the past. The Catholic workingman in particular, just as Abbe Hebert said recently at Notre Dame Cathedral, ought to make his faith the guide of his conduct in his communal life as he does in his own personal life, and that the divine light should be the guiding star of his social activities. That is why it can be claimed today that the workingman of Quebec is the happiest of all workers in the world. His actions are based on fine standards, his attitude remains a worthy one because his views are of high purpose, his aspirations based on Christian ideals. May it always be thus in the interests of the worker himself and of the country at large.—La Presse, Montreal.

THIS WOMAN'S RECOVERY

Shows Remarkable Curative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chesley, Ont.—"Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had terrible pains in my sides and was not regular. Finally I got so weak I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest half way up the steps. I tried two doctors but they did me no good. I saw your medicine advertised in the newspapers and thought I would give it a trial. I took four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and was restored to health. I am married, am the mother of two children, and do all my housework, milk eight cows, and do a hired man's work and enjoy the best of health. I also found Vegetable Compound a great help for my weak back before my babies were born. I recommend it to all my friends who are in need of medicine, and you may print this letter if you wish."—Mrs. HENRY JANKE, R. R. No. 4, Chesley, Ontario.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

Provincial Mining News

Slocan District

A ninety per cent interest in a lease and bond upon the famous Payne mines, covering the first locations in the Slocan district, made by Eli Carpenter in 1891 and the cause of the big rush to that district in the two subsequent years, has been secured by Pacific Mines Development Company, organized by Campbell, Wells & Elmendorf, the well-known mining engineers; Thomas E. Eastland and G. T. Mogan, all of Seattle. The owner of the other ten per cent interest is Oscar V. White, manager of Silversmith Mines, Ltd., of Sandon, who secured the original option from Payne Consolidated Mining Co., of Montreal.

Six Crown Granted Claims

The property consists of six crown-granted claims—Payne, Mountain Chief, Maid of Erin, Telephone and Thursday Fraction—the first four of which were located under the old law, thus carrying extra-lateral rights. Water rights on the west side of Payne Mountain, with some surface improvements, are included in the deal. The old tramway, which in earlier days delivered the mine product at the Kaslo-Slocan narrow gauge railroad tracks, was swept away by snowslides many years ago, together with the loading bins and some domestic buildings. Since that time the narrow gauge railroad has been abandoned, but the portal of the lowest tunnel is now but half a mile from the Canadian Pacific Railroad tracks on the other side of Carpenter Creek.

Purchase Price $100,000

The lease and option calls for purchase price of $100,000, payable $1,000 cash, as evidence of good faith; $20,000 in two years; $30,000 in three years, and the balance in four years. The agreement carries an obligation to perform at least $5,000 worth of development in each year. Ore may be shipped by lessees upon payment of 15 per cent royalty, which, with first payment of $1,000, is to apply upon the purchase price. All equipment placed in or about the mine is to remain the property of the lessees in event that the option is not fully exercised.

Has Yielded Heavily

First and last, the Payne mine has produced $5,000,000 worth of ore, most of it during years when both lead and silver were selling at low figures. The main ore shoot, which has been stoped from the fifth level to surface, was nearly 1,200 feet long and showed an average width of possibly six inches, though in many places bulging to six or seven feet of clean ore. Shipments since discovery have reached 50,000 tons of silver-lead and 6,000 tons of zinc ore. Average assay of silver-lead ore was 68 per cent lead and 120 ounces silver per ton. In spite of heavy costs incidental to development in an inaccessible country and low prices of metals during practically the entire period of its productive life, the mine has paid $1,438,000 in dividends, the last in the early 90s, after acquisition by the present owning company, which was promoted by Clarence J. McCuaig, of Montreal, who also purchased the Republic mine, at Republic, Wash., at about the same time. The purchase price of the Payne mine, then owned by Scott McDonald, S. S. Bailey, A. W. McCune, W. A. Hoge and W. B. Brownlee, was placed at $3,000,000.

Milling Plant Destroyed

Following purchase by the Montreal interests, a milling plant, with magnetic zinc separator, was erected upon the Kaslo & Slocan tracks and connected by gravity tramway with the No. 5 level. In four years, from 1902 to 1906, the plant treated 180,000 tons of material derived from stope fillings and dumps, yielding 5,186 tons concentrate, or one ton of concentrate for each 34.7 tons milled. This plant was subsequently destroyed by fire and very shortly thereafter the Montreal company ceased operations.

War Stopped Development

In 1912, after the property had been idle for several years, W. E. Zwicky, who had been superintendent under Montreal control, organized the Slocan-Payne Mines Ltd., to take over a lease and bond upon the mine. A 4,000-foot crosscut was run 727 feet below the lowest workings on No. 8 level and 1,600 feet from surface and connected by raise with No. 8 level. After much hard luck, which included a rush of water that ripped out equipment and washed a great hole in the mountainside, the vein was found approximately 200 feet to the left of the general direction of the crosscut but where intersected it showed no clean ore. Having expended over $150,000 and being unable to raise more owing to the outbreak of the war, the leasing company threw up its option and the property has since remained idle, except for occasional efforts of leasers in the upper workings.—Spokane Mining Truth.

Standard Mine

Statement of Standard Silver-Lead Mining Company, operating the Standard mine, near Silverton, Slocan district, shows a cash surplus of $367,996 on hand July 31. This compares with $241,825 on March 31, 1920, and $298,010 December 31, 1919. Receipts in July were $7,514, of which $4,845 was derived from lead and $2,758 from zinc shipments. Disbursements were $6,467, of which $3,451 was for supplies and $3,016 for labor. After deducting $860 for capital stock tax and general expense, net profit of $186 for the month remained. Profit for June of this year was $10,952; May showed a loss of $4,340, while April net gain was $18,939. Nothing is being done on company account at this time owing to labor conditions in the district. Company is prospecting the old Wellington group near the Bear Lake summit and spent $1,159 in that direction during July. We understand from the local office that nothing of a very definite nature has yet been disclosed, most of the work so far accomplished being for the purpose of catching up the old workings.

Arrow Lakes Galena

"Finding galena while blueberrying on Nakusp creek, only one-third of a mile from its mouth, Oscar Salstrom, the well-known Lardeau prospector, has proved the existence of valuable mineral at Nakusp, a locality in the Arrow Lakes not hitherto on the mining map. The nearest galena showing has hitherto been in the Burton neighborhood, where the Millie Mack has been a shipper for years," says The Nelson News. Mr. Salstrom has staked a claim, which he has named the Luck Rose, and has already uncovered the lead for 300 feet. So far the assays have been for the precious metals only, the samples going 49.1 ounces in silver and $1.80 in gold. The galena is rather broken, but one piece taken to Nakusp was 12 inches in length.

Trail Smelter Receipts

Three new shippers to Trail for the current year reported in the current statement of smelter receipts. These properties are the Yankee Girl, at Ymir, which is being developed by the Mining Corporation of Canada, and the Ruth and the Skyline, of Ainsworth.

The receipts for the week were 8,810 tons, of which 219 tons were concentrates. This brings the total receipts at Trail for the year to date up to 238,991 tons, of which 4,986 tons were concentrates, and 234,005 tons were crude ore.

Consolidated Dividend

The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of two and a half per cent, payable on October 1. This dividend of $261,936 brings the total disbursements up to $7,121,083.

In The Yukon

It is estimated that not less than 1,000 tons of freight is being hauled to the Mayo district, in the Yukon, for use during the Winter months. This consists principally of feed for men and horses. The Yukon Gold Company has arranged to haul 2,000 tons of ore to Mayo Landing during the Winter, and horses will be required for this work. It is expected that a much larger quantity of ore will be shipped from all the mines next Winter.

In The Yukon

On his return from the Yukon territory, where he has been inspecting the activities of his company, Mr. O. B. Perry, general manager of the Yukon Gold Mining Company, a subsidiary concern of the Guggenheim interests, is registered at the Hotel Vancouver.

Mr. Perry reports that considerable attention is benig attracted by discoveries of silver-lead at Mayo, on the Stuart River, 140 miles from Dawson City. The Guggenheims intend to carry out some development work there during the coming Winter, and are installing plant and equipment which will mean a capital investment of about $500,000.

Beyond this activity Mr. Perry says that there is not very much going on in the North Country. Gold mining, he says, has been hard hit by the war, its value remaining constant, while the value of almost every other mineral has advanced—Vancouver Province.

Secured by the West India Trade Agreement and Canadian Ships.

By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada this year has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and to the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British Flag, without arousing international complications.

Canada possesses men with brains who will make these preferential trade agreements. But to make good these trade agreements we must have Canadian Ships.

AERIAL CARRIER FOR CHOLBERG SHIPYARD

New Equipment Now in Course of Erection—Will Handle Material for Three Hulls Now Being Constructed

An aerial carrier to handle timbers for the wooden barkentines under construction at the Cholberg Shipyard is under erection at the plant. Two great pairs of shearlegs have been put up, one on one side of the three hulls and the other on the other side. A cable will stretch between them, and upon it a carrier will operate back and forth, placing material. Mr. Cholberg states that the planking will be taken from the steam box by this equipment and taken to where it is to be used. The aerial carrier is to have a lifting weight of eleven tons, and will serve the three hulls.

The timber to complete the framing for the third hull at the yard is on its way, and is expected to arrive on Thursday. The work on this ship has been delayed for some time owing to the lack of material.

A lunch counter is to be operated at the shipyard by Mr. George Morgan, better known as the "Rattler." The men of the yard have expressed a willingness to put up a structure for him after working hours. At the present time there are no facilities for the procuring of lunch, and it is a considerable trip to the city.

LAUNCH RUNS WILD

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—A fisherman's gas boat, with the engine running for several hours while the boat was unoccupied, ran ashore near Putney Point, an up-coast district. Investigation led to the discovery that Junior Henry Blair, of Chemainus, who had been trolling for salmon, had apparently fallen overboard, but the body has not yet been found. Constable Matthews, of Alert Bay, advised the local Provincial police office of the supposed tragedy, but has had no further details.

TO RENEW AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Renewal of this year's contract between the International Longshoremen's Association and steamship owners is assured by returns from the referendum vote taken among Union members, T. P. O'Connor, president of the association announced today. Decision affects more than 100,000 men.

For Women in Their "Forties"

System Needs a Bracing Nerve Aid

Somewhere between the ages of forty and fifty years, every woman's system has to undergo important functional changes that are seldom understood and rarely prepared for. Few realize that during this changing time they are subject to many physical and mental trials that will tax their nerves and strength to the breaking point and may easily leave them semi-invalids and nervous wrecks.

To the woman whose nervous system is already weakened, this period is doubly dangerous, as in this condition she is more easily affected by disorders which her now overtaxed organs are barely able to take care of. Women during this changing age generally need and should have some quick acting and harmless remedy, that taken into their systems, will strengthen and invigorate their overworked nerve cells and help them to stand up under the trying strain.

In such cases, wonderful results may be obtained from the prompt and regular use of FERRO-PEPTINE—a specially prepared combination of Iron and Phosphates—that is easy to take, does not injure the teeth nor disturb digestion and can be generally depended upon to bring quick and pleasing results, when taken according to directions. These little tablets contain no dangerous habit forming drugs and are entirely harmless in their action, but they quickly help to build up and strengthen the nervous system by stimulating and nourishing the tired, devitalized nerve cells.

If your nerves are worn out, if you have lost confidence, feel blue, are despondent and all tired out, you should give FERRO-PEPTINE a chance to help you—today. Most leading druggists in this vicinity sell them with the positive guarantee that they must produce the beneficial results expected or the money paid for them will be refunded. (Advt.)

PILEDRIVER ASHORE

Equipment Owned by Local Firm Piles Up at Campbell River—Not Insured

A piledriver being used by the firm of McDonald, Watson & Withers, in doing some work for a logging concern at Campbell River, went ashore yesterday during a storm and is a total wreck, according to brief advices reaching Victoria. The equipment is valued at $6,000 and was not insured. The boiler, engines, and perhaps other parts, will probably be salvaged, stated Mr. Withers last night.

The piledriver has been up the Island since last March doing various jobs, and had just commenced the driving for a new wharf at Campbell River. Another piledriver will be built to replace the one lost.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the Drydock at any time, add 19.0 feet to the height of High Water as above.

QUEEN CITY IS NOW SERVING AS BARGE

Noted Craft Passes Through Various Experiences to Become Engineless Hulk for Lime Trade

Four reincarnations and still going strong is the story of the barge Queen City, ex-steamer, ex-schooner, ex-wreck. She has been up the scale and down again, and has been on foreign service and coastwise trade; has successfully battled with the tempests of the open Pacific, defeated the pitfalls and snares of the inside passage, and been a popular carrier on the British Columbia coast for many years. She has been burned and sunk, condemned and approved, and now has entered another useful channel of marine endeavor, states The Vancouver Province.

Laid down in 1893 by Mr. R. Brown of Vancouver, she was launched in 1894. The ship was constructed at False Creek, and was originally meant to be a steamer for the then flourishing sealing trade. Developments arose which put a stop to sealing industry prospects, and she was rigged as a schooner and loaded lumber for the Orient. Captain Bejerre, now master of the tugboat Commodore, was in command. It is reported that while in a great storm on the China Sea the tight little ship turned completely over and then bobbed up serenely, light as a cork, and "carried on" safely to her port of destination.

On her return to Victoria she was bought by the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company, which put steam in her and used her on the hard West Coast runs, carrying freight and passengers. Later she was taken over by the C.P.R. coastwise service and used on northern cannery runs. Captain T. S. Guns, the pilot, commanded her for some time, and also Captain her for some time, and so Captain Ormiston, of the Princess Mary. Between four and five years ago she took fire when leaving Victoria and was burned to the water's edge. The Vancouver Dredging & Salvage Company bought her, and later sold her to the Pacific Lime Co. The latter company rebuilt her, had her placed in good condition, and put her on the lime run to their Blubber Bay properties. She has been on that run ever since.

With the purchase of the fine steel steamer E. D. Kingsley, the company decided to use the Queen City as a hulk, and consequently a short time ago the order was given to take out the engines. So from now on the steamer-schooner-barge Queen City will always travel on the lime run under escort of a tugboat. Perhaps Captain Bejerre will have the job sometimes of hauling his former proud command.

The Queen City is 116 feet long, 27 feet beam and 10 feet draught. Mr. R. Brown, her original owner, was the father of Mr. W. R. Brown, Mr. J. M. Brown and Mr. R. Brown.

QUIET LAUNCHING IS SET FOR AFTERNOON

Mrs. J. C. McIntosh to Sponsor Canadian Traveller, Which Is Scheduled to Slide at Three o'Clock

The second and last of the steel ships being turned out by the Harbor Marine Yard for the Canadian Government is scheduled to slide into the harbor at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The launching will not be a public affair such as the last one was.

After the ship, which is to be christened Canadian Traveller, has entered the water she will be taken across the harbor to the old chemical works wharf and there tied up until such time as the Canadian Winner is completed at the Victoria Machinery Depot and vacates the berth at that plant.

The launching of the Traveller will throw several hundred men out of work, the yard staff being cut down to just sufficient men for the completion of the C.P.R. ferry now under construction.

WAKENA SKIPPER DROWNED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—The Provincial police have been advised by telegram from Constable Hadley, of Powell River, that Captain J. B. Kelly, of the steamer Wakena, of Seattle, was accidentally drowned at the wharf at Powell River yesterday at 11:45. Owing to the strong current the body was carried away and has not yet been recovered. Deceased's relatives live in Seattle.

DEPICT MISSIONARY TASKS IN ORIENT

Lantern Lecture at St. Andrew's Church Shows Work in Home and Foreign Fields

The scope of the work of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was shown in graphic fashion in the St. Andrew's Church schoolroom last night when a series of lantern slides, picturing the widespread activities of the society was shown to an interested audience. The Rev. J. G. Inkster conducted the lecture, explaining each slide as it appeared on the screen.

The preliminary portion of the lecture dealt with the missionary work among the Indians of Canada and the newly arrived immigrants, and was confined mostly to the Prairie Provinces. The scenes then shifted to India, thence to China and Japan, showing all phases of the missionary's task among Oriental peoples.

The slides, which are the property of the Board, have been sent out from Toronto for educational purposes. On Wednesday night they will be exhibited in the St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, the lecture being open to the public. They will then be forwarded to one of the other Presbyteries of the Synod of British Columbia to fulfil engagements already planned.

SINKING OF BERYL REMAINS A MYSTERY

Reason for Tugboat Going Down Off Nitinat Not Known by Captain—Water Poured In—Crew Left

The men who were aboard the tugboat Beryl when she sank suddenly off Nitinat on Sunday, do not know the cause of the accident. The little craft lies in eleven fathoms of water, and it is doubtful if any attempt will be made to lift her.

In discussing the matter yesterday, Capt. Anderson stated that his boat had towed a crib of logs out of Nitinat River and succeeded in crossing the dangerous bar at the mouth. The tug Prosperative was lying not far off to pick up the crib. When about half a mile off the Nitinat the Beryl, states Capt. Anderson, commenced to settle by the head. An investigation was made, he says, and water was found to be entering rapidly near the bow. The four men on board shortly took to the dinghy and rowed away. In a few minutes the Beryl went down nose first. There was a considerable sea at the time. The Prosperative picked up the crew.

Capt. Anderson claims that his boat did not bump the bar as she crossed out, and he can only attribute the sinking to the loosening of a plate.

The Prosperative reached here on Monday night with the men from the Beryl. Those aboard the rescue boat state that they could not understand why the men had taken to the dinghy and thought they were coming aboard. Shortly, however, they noticed that the Beryl was settling. The crib of logs was lost.

ALASKA BOUNDARY

The work of defining the boundary between Canada and Alaska north of Prince Rupert is now well under way. A party of Canadian engineers have left their base at Prince Rupert to carry their survey northwards until they meet the engineers sent out by the United States Government, who are surveying south from the Unuk River.

When the work of determining the exact boundary is completed the two parties will join in clearing and re-establishing the original boundary trail, which was cut about fifteen years ago. New monuments and cairns will be erected.

Since early last Summer, when news of the silver finds reached the world, large numbers of prospectors have gone into the silver fields north of Prince Rupert, and as many of the locations are on either side of the international boundary, the work being done by the surveyors will greatly facilitate the filing and recording of claims.

PUAKO OUTBOUND

Barkentine Due in Roads Overnight to Take on Stores Before Proceeding to Sea

The barkentine Puako was expected to anchor in the Royal Roads overnight, she having left Vancouver in tow yesterday morning. The vessel is loaded with lumber, and after securing stores here will leave for South Africa.

The barkentine Alta was still at the Outer Docks up to a late hour last night, the tugboat which is to take her out to sea not having arrived.

The Ixion left for Seattle yesterday afternoon after loading a shipment of cement for Japan. She will complete at Seattle before leaving for the Orient.

SHINBU BACK AGAIN

The Japanese steamer Shinbu Maru is due to drop her pilot off this port this morning and proceed to sea. She has been bunkering at Nanaimo. This vessel hit Bentinck Island last year and the local salvage steamer Algerine was sent out to assist her. The salvors succeeded in making temporary repairs and taking the vessel to Seattle.

A talk on VALUE:

Buying Direct

NO OTHER country produces furs in the same abundance, variety and quality as does Canada's great snow-clad North, especially the shores of Hudson's Bay and the Labrador. Our wonderful North Country is, therefore, the natural place to buy fine furs to advantage. It is to these great fur-producing regions that our own fur buyers go each year to purchase our supply of raw skins direct from the trappers.

This is but one of the many reasons why Canada's national fur house, established for eighty-five years, with its extraordinary experience, buying, designing, and manufacturing facilities, is able to offer you unequalled values in Fine Furs.

Our entire organization is at your service. Our four retail stores are located in the chief shopping centres of Canada.

ARRANGING SALE OF ILL-FATED SCHOONER

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28.—After lying at the wharf of the B. C. Marine, Ltd., Burrard Inlet, for several months, the Vancouver-built auxiliary schooner Laurel Whalen is to be sold. The representative of the French owners, Capt. Reusser, is now in the city to handle the negotiations.

The legal complications that followed upon the ill-fated voyage of the Laurel Whalen from Australia to Vancouver are in the hands of the average adjusters. It will be remembered that the Laurel Whalen left Sydney with a cargo of grain and tallow and ran into a succession of storms that forced her to return for repairs, and eventually to seek shelter at Papeete, Tonga Islands, where she lay for a time before being towed to Vancouver by the tug Hercules.

She came a good deal of the way under her own power, but examination on the marine ways here showed that a good deal of damage was done to her hull by the long stay in the tropical waters. Her cargo of wheat was spoiled, and occasioned some excitement when a few bags of it got ashore, it being infested with weevils. The wheat belonged to Balfour, Guthrie & Co., and the tallow, which was landed at San Francisco, to Lever Bros., the soap magnates.

TOYOHASHI IN

The N.Y.K. freighter Toyohashi Maru docked here at 7:30 yesterday morning after an average run from the Orient. She brought only six passengers, one debarking here. Only 260 tons were discharged here. She left in a few hours for Seattle.

FOG LIFTS; SHIPS DOCK

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Sudden lifting today of the fog, which for three days has hung over the New York harbor, resulted in one of the heaviest days in shipping that New York has ever experienced. More than sixty arrivals were reported.

Value of farm produce annually destroyed by rodents in the United States is estimated at $300,000,000.

WHEN BABY IS SICK

When the baby is sick—when he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a constant worry to the mother—he needs Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are an ideal medicine for little ones. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. Philippe Payen, St. Flavien, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been a wonderful help to me in the case of my baby and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. (Advt.)

DAVID McDONALD GIVES STRONG TESTIMONY

Declares Tanlac Did Him More Good Than All Other Medicines Combined, and He Is Now Well Man.

"Tanlac is certainly one grand medicine, for it has done more for me than everything else put together," recently declared David McDonald, of 328 Donald St., Winnipeg, Manitoba.

"I had been in a badly run-down condition ever since I had the 'flu two years ago. I had no appetite and never seemed to pick up strength. I was so weak I could hardly walk upstairs, and I always felt tired and worn out.

"Then, too, my stomach became so upset I couldn't eat a thing without having severe pains afterwards and being bloated up terribly with gas. I had such dizzy spells it was all I could do to stand on my feet and I used to lie awake for hours at night worrying about my condition, because neither treatment nor medicines seemed to do me any good.

"One day I read a statement in the paper from a man who had recovered from the after-effects of the 'flu by taking Tanlac, so that very evening I bought a bottle. Well, sir, the improvement in me after taking that first bottle was wonderful, so I continued with it until now I am like a new man.

"I can eat anything that's put before me now and never have any trouble from indigestion. I have already gained ten pounds in weight and am so much stronger I can work all day without getting tired out. I sleep like a log at night and get up in the mornings feeling just fine. There's nothing too good I can say in praise of Tanlac, and I never fail to recommend it to all folks suffering like I did."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store. (Advt.)

Wounded, But Makes Arrest

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 28.—Two revolvers in the hands of a pair of suspected shopbreakers peppered away at Policeman Thomas Merritt early this morning when he attempted to arrest them. The constable was hit four times, but managed to wrest the revolver away from one man, stun him with the butt of the gun and handcuff him. When help came the policeman was lying unconscious over the shackled body of his prisoner, a man named Carroll. The other man escaped.

Suicide in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—Phillip Markinson, 20 years old, who shot himself on Monday evening with a .22 calibre rifle at his suite in an apartment block here, died early today. No explanation of his action could be given by his friends, who stated he appeared to be in his usual health.

More Motor Price Reductions

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Action of the Ford and Franklin motor companies last week in cutting the price of their products was followed today by announcement of reductions by the Willys-Overland, Hudson and Studebaker concerns.

Prohibition

Sir,—Of the numerous letters on this subject I have read many, but by no means all, for I have been rather disgusted with the plea of the "antis," and their absolutely selfish aim. So far as I have read, there does not seem to be one honest, disinterested writer amongst them. They make a great point of "interference with personal liberty," but in reality it is very patent that this cry is only stalking-horse, and a very secondary consideration; the real aim is callous self-indulgence.

Why cannot they be honest, and at once admit that it is unhampered self-indulgence that they are after, and that they are perfectly indifferent as to what happens to the other man, so long as it is not interfered with? The old excuse of the very first criminal, "am I my brother's keeper?" is their's. They assert that they are not "slaves to drink"; to me, it seems that they are, in that they cannot give up their indulgence in alcohol; and the most hopeless kind of slavery, as their wills are in bondage, and they plead and eagerly fight for the tyrant who enslaves them.

Any man is a slave to a pernicious habit that he cannot give up, or an unnatural craving that he cannot overcome; and the alcoholic habit is both. That they may continue its indulgence they preach "liberty," when it is a state of slavery they are advocating; and they will not see it, or accept of a liberty whereby they might be really free. Are such men parents, with the future welfare of their children at heart? But the question is superfluous, for the alcohol lover has no one's welfare at heart—not even his own; nothing that may interfere with the gratification of his unnatural longing can be considered.

One of your correspondents, in last Sunday's issue (19th inst.), for the stand he takes in opposing Prohibition, states that the correct way is to build up the character of the young, and begin early to train them to self-reliance, that they may be able to resist temptation to evil. Very sound advice; but surely there are plenty of evils, outside this particular one, that call for resistance and self-restraint. There is no danger of this virtue dying of atrophy for lack of something to exercise it on. No thoughtful and considerate parent would hesitate to advocate any means that would tend to lessen the dangers to his child by removing a great temptation from his path—and this the most deadly and insidious of any. A man who boasts that he "is not a slave to drink," yet cannot forego his own self-indulgence in it is not fit to be a parent.

That "self-indulgence," and not "personal liberty," is the real matter your correspondents have at heart is further borne out by one of them, who, after enviously eulogising the hard drinking of the French and English of the 17th century, who, in spite of excessive indulgence in "canary, and sack," performed such historic feats, gives himself away in the sentence, "I am not quite sure what "sack" is, but I would not mind taking a chance on it, if I could get it."

A case in the family of a missionary is instanced, in which, once away from parental control, the members speedily and completely succumbed to evil temptation. This may be taken as quite as forcible an argument for Prohibition as for the point he is trying to enforce. Had alcohol been unobtainable the temptation to that particular evil would not have existed, and the probability is that they would not have been overcome by others, for that, the most deadly and insidious, leads up to, or prepares the ground for all these, by weakening the moral force and will, beclouding the intellectual faculties; thus demolishing any safeguard against them.

The remark also was made that when the Prohibition Act was before the House, "not any of our legislators had the moral courage to say that drinking alcohol in itself was no sin, and that decent citizens had some rights." I do not think this failure proves lack of moral courage; it would not have helped the anti-prohibitionist very much. The statement, "as a statement," is altogether innocuous, it is entirely a matter of the way of looking at, or interpreting it. Drinking alcohol is certainly not a virtue, in any case, but most emphatically a fault, or failing, showing a weak yielding to self-indulgence, and in excess leading to physical, moral, and intellectual deterioration, which is a very grave fault; and when it leads to the same in others it is a decided sin. This it almost invariably does, for it must be remembered that no man can live for himself alone, but his actions are reflected in, or influence, others; and when it is to their detriment it is no man's "right," but an actual crime, and merits treatment as such.

In "the question of the unfortunate addict," your correspondent makes a very strong plea for Prohibition, though he is defending the opposite course. A hospital, with kind, but firm restraint, etc., is practically the only "cure;" but this really amounts to prohibition, then, and always, for not one case in a hundred is proof against future temptation. Very feelingly he seems to speak in their behalf; but is it so? or is it not rather an attempt to throw dust into the eyes of their friends? "Remember one thing," he says, "the object we have in view is the cure of the unfortunate men, etc." And this by giving them full opportunity to indulge in the use of the very thing that has caused their ruin. Prevention is always quoted as being better than cure, and naturally with alcohol unobtainable there would be no evils resulting from its use to cure. What he urges about friends of inebriates, by voting for Prohibition being guilty of manslaughter and murder, is entirely false, and is evidently a statement made with the intention to confuse and intimidate those friends, and prevent them voting for Prohibition, or induce them to vote the other way. Alcohol is already killing the inebriate, and the withholding of it can only tend to save them. To gain his end he even appeals to the "mothers and wives of such unfortunates." I imagine that those, who know to their bitter cost, the deadly effect of drink, will be heart and soul for Prohibition, for, even should it be too late to save the father, and husband, it may yet save the child; and a Government institution for the care and cure of the inebriate may still, also, be of benefit to the former.

The drunkard, though possibly the greatest offender, is not the greatest sinner, but, rather, the steady and secret drinker, and even the "moderate," who, posing as a virtuous and pattern citizen, boasting that he is not as others, and declaring that alcohol has no hold or influence over him, yet cannot, or will not, give up alcoholic indulgence, and (more shame to him) deliberately stands in the way of measures calculated to help others because they entail a little self-sacrifice on his part.

But of all the pleas for alcohol, the one that, "notwithstanding the work of social reformers, and the two thousand years of Christianity, man's inhumanity to man today transcends the most barbarous age, etc.," surely "takes the cake," for where is "man's inhumanity to man," and the spirit of callous selfishness, and hypocrisy which is the cause of it more glaringly displayed than in those addicted to the indulgence in alcohol, who will not exercise a little self-sacrifice for the good of their fellow-men, but hypocritically prate about the "liberty of the subject," and murder and manslaughter as being the natural result of Prohibition when, in reality, it is very evident that unrestricted license in sensual self-indulgence is their sole thought and aim? Whose is the highest and noblest aim? The Prohibitionist's, who is fighting disinterestedly for the benefit and welfare of others, or the anti-prohibitionist who fights solely for his own sensual self-indulgence?

As for the "bootleggers" it is the moderate drinker more than any who keeps him going.

W. JESSOP,

General Delivery, Victoria, B. C., Sept. 26, 1920.

The Reunion of Christendom

Sir,—We have heard recently with interest of the great assembly of Bishops of the Church of England at Lambeth Palace, from various parts of the world, and of their well-intentioned resolutions representing a vast amount of combined intellectual ability, tending towards the reunion of Christendom. Two of their resolutions were as follows (I write subject to correction as regards the exact wording):

6. "Reunion will involve recognition of (a) the Bible as a roll of faith and conduct; (b) the two sacraments; (c) a ministry ordained."

7. "The episcopate is the one means of providing this ministry. The spiritual reality of other ministries is not questioned, but history and experience show this to be the best means."

Without discussing these resolutions, it seemed to me that something deeper than that based on any form of church government, and deeper than any that would be obtained through any union between bodies of Christians, is necessary. All Christians must agree that union is strength, and most seek for union, but the nature and quality of that union is the important point. We can gather what that is from the Gospel of St. John, chapter xvii., verses 20 and 21, forming part of the intercessory prayer of our Lord before His Passion. It seems very doubtful to me if an outward and visible union of Christian bodies is possible, and in the verses of St. John quoted above I do not think it was such an outward and visible union that our Lord was praying for, but for an invisible and vital union, but so real that its effects would be visible to the world and have a saving effect upon it. I believe He was praying for the unity of "them also which shall believe on Me through their word," that is, of all those who in this age should believe on Him, irrespective of the Christian body to which they might belong.

This was the desire of the heart of our Lord, for the unity of those who should believe on Him, and in our search after union, I do not think we can improve on it. Let us for a moment consider the definition of this unity as found in the words of John xvii, 20-21. The unity of Christian believers is to be based on that between the Father and the Son.

There are two sides or parts to a union, which, when united, form one thing, the Father and the Son, being omitted, are one thing; so, too, in the union of believers there are two parts; the individual believer is one part, the Father and the Son—who united, are one—the other part, these two parts united become one thing, hence the unity for which our Lord prayed is attained. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on Me through their word. That they all may be one, as Thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee; that they also may be one in Us, that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me." Oh! that all those who "believe on Him through their word" may be one in the Father and the Son by a real and vital union.

Is not the goal worth it, the desire of the Saviour's heart, that He may see of the travail of His soul and be satisfied, "that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me?" Just in the measure that those who "believe in Him through their word" are one 'in Us,' that is, the Father and the Son. Just in that proportion will the world, for whom Christ died, believe on His mission. May this union be so real and vital amongst all those who "believe on Him through their word," that none may be missing from that great assembly, described by Paul to the Thessalonians, coming rapidly nearer, and for which all who are one "in Us" are waiting with no uncertain hope. And this, I say unto you, by the Word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain shall not prevent (that is, precede in the clothing of the robe of immortality) them which are asleep, but the Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Archangel and the trump of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first, and we which are "alive" and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we be forever with the Lord."

ATTENTION, MR. HOUSEHOLDER!

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT what it would mean if your HOUSE and FURNITURE should burn and you found yourself WITHOUT ONE CENT OF INSURANCE? There are many reasons why YOU SHOULD NOT PUT OFF INSURING: The shingles of the house may be old, the electric wiring may be defective, an overheated stove pipe has caused many a fire. REMEMBER that it takes only a little blaze and a little water to damage your property. INSURE BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE. A day or even an hour's delay may mean the partial or total loss of your home, which may have taken years of hard work to free from debt.

CHOICE ACREAGE

WE have been favored with the listing of 60 acres, probably the finest land in the country. The soil is absolutely first-class and practically all the land is cleared. It is absolutely free from stone and is ideally situated, being about one-quarter of a mile from school and a short distance from B. C. Electric. The price is extremely reasonable, being $275 per acre, which is very much lower than other lands in this district.

SUBURBAN HOME—An excellent 8-room house, situated on 1¾ acres, just outside the city limits. There are about 60 first-class fruit trees, a great number of raspberries, loganberries and other small fruits. The house is 8-roomed and modern; full size basement, cemented, furnace, etc. In addition there is a stable, garage, two chicken houses and Chinaman's shack. Price upon request. The owner will exchange this for more land farther out and pay the difference in cash.

5½ ACRES—All under the highest state of cultivation, soil is of the very best black loam, four-roomed bungalow, and city water. This $4200 property is situated three miles from town, and is a real snap at the price. If you are looking for some acreage to work while still employed in town, this property would appeal to you. Terms.

2½ ACRES—This property is situated 3 miles from town on a first class road, high ground, and the very best soil for strawberries and $5250 small fruits. There are about 500 logan plants, all bearing, about a third of an acre in strawberries; 100 gooseberries; currants; some blackberries; splendid vegetable garden, chicken runs, cow house garage, and pig pens. Four-roomed bungalow, never failing well, with gas engine. The income from this place would more than keep one. Terms can be arranged.

ONE ACRE—Attractive five-roomed bungalow, within ten minutes' walk to the car, containing living room with open fireplace, sliding doors to the dining room; $5000 two bedrooms with clothes closets in each; kitchen and pantry. City water runs past the property. Basement full size and piped for furnace. Property is snugly situated, and very well suited to the man who wants to reduce the cost of living. Terms.

14½ ACRES—Situated in the Lake District, and only fifteen minutes by motor to town, and easy access to the B.C. Electric. $14000 There are six under cultivation, seven sown in pasture, with a few old rotten stumps scattered about; 1½ acres in light standing bush. Barn for six head; chicken houses for 700 birds; two good wells; large and small fruits. There is a strictly first class modern seven-roomed bungalow, all in splendid condition, built seven years ago. The property is situated on high ground with a good view of the mountains. This would make an ideal country home or commercial proposition. The soil is of two kinds, light sandy loam, and some bottom land, rich black loam. Terms can be arranged.

7 ACRES, SAANICH—Here is a beautiful country home and part revenue producer, too, consisting of seven acres, all under cultivation; 400 large assorted fruit trees, small fruits and vegetable garden. The bungalow is nestled in a grove of trees commanding a view of Saanich Arm and the surrounding country. It contains entrance hall, cloak room and toilet; den, beamed; large living room, open fireplace, beamed; dining room, open fireplace, beamed; pass pantry, kitchen and laundry. On the second floor are four large bedrooms and modern bathroom. Barn, pump house and septic tank. Water laid on. This property is one of the best of its kind offering on the market, and is well worth your investigation if you are looking for a first class country home. Price and terms on application to this office.

METCHOSIN—Here is an excellent opportunity for mixed farming, at a small cost for the land. 45 ACRES There are 20 acres under cultivation and in grain; the balance is sown in pasture. The $8000 soil is first class black loam, and at least twenty acres is virgin land. There is an eight-roomed house in very good state of repair. Also one or two outhouses. I can offer this on exceptionally easy terms.

ALBERTA OIL FIELDS WILL SUPPLY WORLD

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 28.—When the problem of separation of oil from the oil sands lying to the north of Edmonton has been solved, oil in sufficient quantities to supply the world for 600 years will be released. This is the opinion expressed by Dr. H. M. Tory, principal of the University of Alberta, in the course of an address before the Calgary Board of Trade recently. Dr. Tory stated that a member of the faculty of the university has been working on the problem of separation for ten days, and that if he continues to make progress as rapidly as he has done hitherto, the problem will be solved in six weeks. The oil fields north of Edmonton, the president of the university believes, contain the greatest body of oil to be found in the world.

SUGGESTION NOT APPROVED

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 28—The suggestion that the Regina library follow the example of Brantford, Ontario, and circulate gramophone records among its patrons in addition to books and sheet music is not well received by the authorities at the library.

J. R. C. Honeyman, the chief librarian, said that the question of loaning gramophone records had been considered, but was abandoned as not feasible. He was of the opinion that they would very quickly get spoiled and would prove a considerable expense to the library, more than the service would warrant.

National Balloon Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Unofficial reports received late today by the Aero Club of America indicated that H. E. Honeywell, of St. Louis, was leading in the national balloon elimination race which started from Birmingham, Ala., last Saturday. It was said the winner probably would be announced after a meeting of the club's executive committee tomorrow.

B. C. Income Tax Receipts

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 28.—Income tax returns for 1919 from British Columbia will approximate $1,750,000, according to estimates made by Provincial Inspector of Taxation C. H. Clendenning.

Banish Your Goitre

Start today for yourself the treatment that has accomplished so much for hundreds of users all over Canada. Gu-Solvo is the preparation to which they gratefully attribute their present freedom from the suffering caused by this disfiguring ailment.

It is the discovery of a famous Monk and Botanist, who kept it a secret for years. Then a prominent Physician obtained it, and after using it successfully upon even the most acute goitre sufferers, it was eventually offered to the Public of Canada. It is a preparation designed to go straight to the root of the evil, attacking the abnormal growth of the Thyroid Gland, softening it and then cleaning it out of the system entirely.

In a booklet about Gu-Solvo, you can read the actual stories of dreadful cases completely restored to health by its use. Ask your druggist for one today.

Gu-Solvo is sold in Victoria, B.C., by Cyrus H. Bowes. (Advt.)

FEED QUOTATIONS CONTINUE DECLINE

Grains Drop as New Harvest Makes Itself Felt — Last Carload Lots of Okanagan Peaches Now Here

Feed prices today show the expected drop. Oats and corn are down $2 per ton, while barley has fallen away to the extent of $4 per ton. Flour, however, remains stationary at $8.75.

Canada's grain crop this year is the best since 1915, and as the new crop becomes available, prices are declining steadily. Reports from the Prairie Provinces indicate grain of an excellent quality. Wheat threshing is now in full swing and showing very high grades. Oats and barley are looking extremely good and are expected to be of very fine quality. The corn crop in the United States is heavy and should result in cheap corn this Winter.

The last carload lots of Okanagan peaches for preserving purposes are now on the retail market, quoted at $2.25 per crate. Supplies will continue to arrive, but in limited quantities only, and at prices that will undoubtedly be much higher.

Wholesale quotations in all lines show little change. Grapes are still plentiful, Black Prince declining to $3.85 from $4. British Columbia new-laid eggs are up 2 cents and marked at 79 cents per dozen. Cheese shows a decrease of one-half cent per pound.

Meat and fish prices and retail fruit and vegetable marks are unchanged.

STOCK PRICES MOVE IN UNCERTAIN WAY

Part of Professional Element Regards Late Reversal as Reaching Unsafe Point—Industrials Are Still Weak

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Variable recoveries in the stock market were attributed not so much to any change of technical conditions as to an impression that the recent reversal had exceeded the limits of safety. This at least seemed to be the conclusion reached by a considerable faction of the professional element, who covered or took profits in the course of today's session, especially in some of the more stable leaders, notably rails and oils.

There was further sporadic selling of motors and their subsidiaries, and also shippings, leathers and food shares.

Some of these issues added one to five points to recent declines, on fairly large offerings and indifferent support.

Rumors and board room gossip dealt mainly with industrial conditions and their relation to existing actual values.

Emphasis was given to this phase of the situation by additional cutting of automobile prices, and further signs of reduced activity in many branches of that industry.

Steels, equipments and associated shares were less erratic, but the opinions voiced by trade authorities were mostly to the effect that new business continued small. Similar reports were issued from the metal trade, accompanied by intimations of private price concessions.

Among rails, the usual cross currents were again operative, strength and activity being confined to low priced coalers and grangers, also cotton carriers, while representative transportations moved within a narrow groove, excepting the transcontinental division.

Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

Successful floating of the $20,000,000 loan to the Government of Norway strengthened exchange to that and other North European countries, but other remittances were barely steady, the Paris rate reacting.

Liberty bonds contributed a very large proportion at irregular prices to the day's heavy trading in bonds.

Foreign issues were again featured by United Kingdoms of 1937 at a further advance of two points. Total sales, $22,500,000. Old U. S. bonds unchanged on call.

with The Merchants Bank, and pay all bills by cheque. By depositing a regular sum in a Savings Account, you know exactly how much is spent on the different branches of housekeeping.

When you settle by cheque, you avoid all disputes as to payment, as the cancelled cheques are receipts and prove the payments.

This business-like method of home finance often prevents paying the same bill twice.

Savings Accounts may be opened in sums from $1 up, on which interest is allowed.
